

YES!

We Are

Thankful

... That we're alive and doing well. We are thankful that out of our skies this morning will fall but rain or snow. We are thankful that no big guns will fire at us, nor bombs drop upon us during our dinner hour, and that the only battling that will be done in America today will be done by the football players on our gridirons.

We are thankful that we can walk down the street and cuss the condition of our country, the attitude of the President, the Governor, or anybody else... without being jailed or lined up before a firing squad.

We are thankful that most of us will eat turkey with some gusto and pleasure... instead of rations of horse meat and dark bread doled out by none-too-liberal authorities.

We're thankful that we all can go to our churches, our tabernacles, our synagogues, our cathedrals, and offer up our thanks with deep reverence in our hearts... and no fear... and that most of our families will be together.

Then, too, we're thankful that we can pursue our daily habits, can scratch for a living, can enjoy ourselves or even worry... if we like... and can do just about what we are big enough to do.

And those of us listed below are thankful that during the year we have been favored with your patronage and consideration.

So, folks, let's all be thankful; for, in fact, we still have plenty for which to be thankful.
