Regimentation And No Regimentation

Abraham Lincoln pointed out that no nation can exist half slave and half free. And neither can there be progress or understanding when one class would reserve for itself privileges and expressions of freedom and deny them to another class. One class would have another class make all the sacrifices, and heap criticism and contempt upon the heads of that class for not accepting sacrifices willingly while they adhere to normal customs and individual sched-

The inconsistency of it all is bearing down heavily upon our every effort to win the war and restore peace. This inconsistency is glaringly pointed out by Eddie Rickenbacker, the great hero. He was recently quoted by the New York Times as saying "America's front-line soldiers do not want and will not accept regimentation of their lives or planned economy." At the very same time, Rickenbacker was quoted as calling for the draft of labor for service in the war industries and on farms.

These inconsistencies, not limited to Rickenbacker by any means, are all the more glaring in that sacrifices for the economic royalists are not to be considered.

Until we willingly accept and without any complementatever sacrifice an hardly expect others to sacrifice.

Madame Chiang Kai-Shek's Speeches

Possibly at no other time in history has a more stirring appeal been heard in the halls of Congress than the one addressed to the lawmakers by Madame Kai-Shek recently in behalf of suffering humanity. The appeal was supported by real facts, facts that must have made many of the lawmakers feel ashamed of their past records of isolationism and their do-nothing policy during the five years China struggled along against the enemy-our enemy. Hardboiled Senators were said to have brushed away tears from their checks for the extemporaneous speech to the Senate fired a double charge that must have jarred the old codgers' consciences and touched the deeply buried cords of human sympathy.

There is some doubt if immediate aid can be made available to China; we muffed the golden opportunity to aid those suffering millions and better our position years ago. But even though no additional aid can be given China in her greatest hour of need, Madame Chiang Kai-Sliek's appearance before the Congress will not have been in vain. Surely, the courage and thought advanced by the little Chinese Woman impressed the leaders of our nation, and convinced them that the friendship of lowly people is worthy of cultivation, that through cooperation and understanding it is possible to build a better world.

nable to believe that as a result of her visit, America was when the same comes invite China to the peace table not as a special guest but as one to participate in the peace

Wine Lobby Checker

After riding rough shod over North Carolina's House of Representatives, the wine lobby was checked, temporarily at least, in the Senate re-

The lobby was accepted with open arms in the House where the ban on sales was Hited for the entire State and where the boys agreed to boost the potency from 14 to 20 per cent. Over in the Senate the racket was shot full of holes with amendments. Now, it is to be seen if the wine lobby can muster enough strength to stage a comeback and dominate the activities in the

It has been suggested among the common people that if a $6,600 wine commission is set up in Raleigh, many will change their party

There hasn't been much heard from the lobbyists in Raleigh this session, but a review of the legislative trend will well prove that they are there Tax reductions have been effected for the elite few, but not one penny has been lifted from the tax burden resting squarely on the shoulders of the common masses. And, mind you, the reductions for the few were suggested and reductions for the masses were denied before the nine months school proposal really entered the financial picture.

What the people of this State need is one group of men to go to Raleigh and represent them one time. But it is apparent that the people's representatives will have to go there over the dead bodies of lawyers and spokesmen for special interests.

A Pipe Dream, Is It?

The Atlantic Charter, swaddled by the Beveridge Commission as the economic royalists partly point out, is nothing but a pipe dream,

Possibly, the Atlantic Charter is nothing more than a pipe dream. It hasn't been tested as yet. It is not strange, however, that millions are for it because they have tasted the bitter nicotine REAL PROPERTY flowing from the over-indulgence in a system sions of that certain deed of trust that lays the foundation for another war before the current one is finished.

This nation and possibly a majority of all nations are not hankering after a system that will bring chaos and more bloodshed; they are yearning for peace and understanding among all peoples. Even if the few will recognize the inherent right of all men to freedom and opportunity, much will have been accomplished toward restoring sanity to the world. Possibly, lasting peace would follow in due time if greed and special privileges could be eliminated from the existing order of things. No new order or special ism would be necessary if the bitter taste could be supplanted by a spirit of understand-

Not Dead, But Wishes He Was

There is much doubt if Adolf Hitler is dead, despite his fade-away act following the report telling of his soldiers' skidding across the icecovered steppes of Russia. Many believe that Hitler is not dead, but all believe that he wishes he was dead.

Be Quick To Treat Bronchitis

Chronic bronchitis may develop if your cough, chest cold, or acute bronchitis is not treated and you cannot afford to take a chance with any medicine less potent than Creomulsion which goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes.

Creomulsion blends beech wood creosote by special process with other time tested medicines for coughs. It contains no narcotics.

No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough, permitting rest and sleep, or you are to have your money back. (Adv.)
