Very Few Cases Are On The Docket For Trial Next Monday

Gady's Paul, the colored man who assaulted and almost knocked the wife's eye out, was sentenced to the roads in the county court. He appealed last July and was scheduled to be tried in the superior court last September, but failed to make his appearance at that time.

Charged with non-support, Harry Land appealed from a judgment handed down in the county court. Harvey Perkins is facing a robbery charge. It is alleged he robbed Albert Coffield of $100 in Robersonville on October 30.

Janet Hoggard alias Mrs. J. R. Jones alias Mabel Lynch Taylor alias Mary Bazemore is charged with obtaining money under false pretense. The young white woman cashed a $25 check at the Williamston Cafe back in October, and the signature was not supported by bank records. She was apprehended in Elizabeth City a short time later when she tried to cash a similar check.

Two other cases were placed on the superior court docket on appeal, but they were withdrawn a short time later when the defendant decided to accept the "medicine" prescribed by Judge J. C. Smith in the county court. One of the cases charged George Dewey Wade with assaulting Charlie Dearnin Roberson with soecding.

efforts saved his crew from death. Going on to Kearney, Nebraska, he spent two weeks there before traveling east for the trip to England in early May of this year.

Air Force, and while he talked little about his work, it is known that he flew a number of missions over enemy territory, that he was making his third straight run over Germany since the enemy's air defenses made considerable resistance the first time. He was one of the few who believed that Lt. Ward and members of his crew recognized their duty above life itself, that they gave willingly their lives.

Besides his parents, the young man who held much promise and who walked honorably among his fellow-men and before his Maker, is survived by one brother, Pfc. John A. Ward, Jr., now stationed at Fort Jackson, S. C., in the service of his country.

Patton's Army Gains Ground in Saar Area

Crossing the Saar in at least four places, General Patton's Third Army has advanced another mile and a half and his men are now threatening the industrial city of Saarbrucken. Late reports state that the enemy is withdrawing from that area. Other American Armies in the West are reporting increased action, and while the gains are not measured in miles, they are important ones. The Seventh Army reported a gain of eight miles in its push toward Bavaria, and the First and Ninth are battling the enemy on the Cologne plain.

In the Pacific, the Americans have effected a new landing to virtually seal the doom of the approximately 25,000 Japs on Leyte. The Japs, trying to push through a thirteen-ship convoy, were blocked and their losses in addition to the ships were estimated at 4,000 men. The battle for Leyte is believed to have entered its final phase.

An earthquake struck southern Japan night before last, but the resulting damage has not been determined.

The Russians, supporting three powerful columns, are marching on toward Budapest and Vienna.

Pathetic and tragic stories are still coming from Greece where civil war is in evidence. Marked differences exist in British and American policies. Churchill today is calling for a vote of confidence in his stand to ram an unwanted king down the throats of the Greek people who fought and suffered in the fight against the common enemy.
