

Judge Calvin Smith Calls Ten Cases In The County's Court

Small Crowd Present at Regular Session Held Last Monday Morning

Judge J. Calvin Smith called ten cases last Monday in the Martin County Recorder's Court, the session lasting about two hours. Only a small crowd attended.

Proceedings: The case charging Norman Daniel with non-support was not pressed with leave.

Pleading guilty in the case charging him with drunken driving, Robert Bailey was fined $50 and taxed with the costs. His license to operate a motor vehicle was revoked for one year. In addition to the fine and costs, the defendant was directed to pay $11 to the county for a mattress and two blankets damaged by him while in jail.

Entering a plea of not guilty Melson Otto Reynolds was adjudged guilty in the case charging him with drunken driving and he was fined $50 and taxed with the cost. His license was revoked for one year. The defendant gave notice of appeal to the superior court and bond in the sum of $100 was required, the court recommending that his license to drive a motor vehicle be continued during the appeal period.

A continuance until April 12 was granted in the case charging W. Jackson Holliday with drunken driving.

Charged with assaulting his wife and with disorderly conduct, Clyde Silverthorne was adjudged not guilty.

Pleading not guilty in the case charging them with assaults with deadly weapons, Essie Le Clark and Rosalee Latham were found guilty of simple assaults, and judgment was suspended upon the payment of the costs.

Charged with violating the liquor laws, Jesse Adkins was sentenced to the roads for ninety days. The term was suspended upon the payment of a $35 fine and cost. The defendant is to remain of good behavior and have no intoxicating liquor in his possession during the next year.

Charged with selling beer without a license, Lizzie Perkins and James Arthur Perkins, her husband, pleaded guilty. Arthur was sentenced to the roads for four months and was fined $50 with costs added. The wife was sentenced to jail for thirty days, the court suspending the sentence upon the payment of a $25 fine and one-half the costs. The court ordered the defendants to close their place of business where they sold beer, and officers were directed to confiscate and destroy the approximately 48 quarts of beer found in the Parnele place of business.

Judgment was suspended upon the payment of the cost in the case charging William Daniel Scott with operating a motor vehicle without a driver's license.

Sam Godard, charged with drunken driving, made a motion for trial by jury, and his case was transferred to the superior court for trial next week.

The court, giving way to the regular two-weeks term of the superior court, will not hold another session until April 2, and since a special term of the superior court will be held in April, Judge Smith and Solicitor will enjoy a second "vacation" within a few weeks' time.

Red Cross Drive Expected To Exceed Goal by About $1,000

The Red Cross War Fund Drive, which is drawing to a close in this chapter, has already exceeded the original goal by nearly $300 and will, in all probability, pick up another $500 between now and next Monday, according to chapter fund chairman, V. J. Spivey.

Three townships, Bear Grass, Griffins and Jamesville, have completed their canvass, each exceeding their quotas by substantial sums. In Williamston the high school and four canvassers are yet to report. These canvassers are expected to add about $300 or more to the total, and Williams is promising about $45 more. The colored citizens are virtually certain to add enough to the total to boost the amount in excess of the quota to $1,000.

Up until late yesterday, a total of $7,120.31, a figure about $460 larger than the original quota of $6,660, had been raised and reported.

According to reports submitted to Chairman Spivey, the drive in the five townships stands, as follows:

Township	Quota	Amount Raised
Jamesville	$ 600.00	$ 682.24
Williams	150.00	105.00
Griffins	450.00	576.80
Bear Grass	450.00	835.75
Macedonia		10.00
Williamston	3,950.00	4,327.42
Total	$5,600.00	$6,245.21

All but three of the colored districts in the five townships have reported. Jamesville, Smithwick's and Corey's are expected to complete the drive over the week-end. The report for colored citizens in the other districts follows:

Williamston	$ 500.00	$ 481.90
Woodard's	60.00	67.68
Bear Grass	35.00	32.02
Dardens	80.00	81.45
Burroughs	60.00	41.68
Biggs	60.00	76.70
Williams	60.00	87.67

Grand Totals $1,000.00 $ 375.10 $6,600.00 $7,120.31

Supervisor Speaks To Farm Group on Soil Conservation

Small Group Hears W. W. Eagles in Courthouse Here Last Tuesday Night

Addressing a small group of farmers in the county courthouse here last Tuesday evening, W. W. Eagles, chairman of the board of supervisors for the Coastal Plain Soil Conservation District, urged the adoption of the best soil improvement programs.

His plea, reflecting a genuine interest in the betterment of his fellowman, was well received by the few farmers present.

"To have good homes, good families and enjoy the most in life, we must have good soil," Mr. Eagles declared. "What is more disheartening than to see a ragged farmer plowing a poor mule on poor land?" he asked.

Then the speaker touched on a subject that should be receiving serious consideration by every Martin County farmer as well as every other one in the entire nation. He declared that farmers with good soil can come nearer riding out a depression than those trying to get along on marginal lands. "And we only have to turn to history and learn that a depression is coming some time in the future. Depressions have followed from way back in 1066 in the Norman period and another one is coming," he declared, urging every farmer in this county to prepare for it by improving his soils.

"It takes nature 800 years to build one inch of top soil, and anything we can do to keep the soil God gave us we should willingly do it," he pointed out.

Continuing, Mr. Eagles said, "We must become more soil conscious and more forest fire conscious." The speaker, talking after an informal but earnest fashion, cited some of the work being done by the Coastal Plain Soil Conservation service. The drainage problem was pointed out, and he added that efforts were being made to get special equipment for laying drain tile and machines for controlling forest fires.

"We have a program and it is all right, and we urge the farmers of Martin County to make greater use of it," Mr. Eagles said, pointing out that it carries no obligation, but offers a great return to the farmer who works it.

Short Criminal Docket In The Superior Court

Judge Burgwyn Will Preside Over Mixed Term Here Monday

Court Scheduled to Complete Trial of Criminal Cases The First Day

Judge W. H. Summer Burgwyn of Woodland will open a two weeks' term of the Martin County Superior Court here next Monday for the trial of criminal and civil cases. The criminal docket carries comparatively few cases—thirteen, to be exact—and their trial is scheduled for the first day of the term. It isn't likely that the criminal docket will be cleared the first day, however. The court will draw nine new members for the grand jury to replace the nine who are completing a year's service on the body.

The first-day sessions will attract a fair-sized crowd, to be sure, but if real farming weather prevails, there'll be mighty few idle spectators around the old hall of justice.

For the most part, the docket carries very few cases that are likely to attract any great attention. There are no first degree charges lodged against any of the defendants, and several of them could just as well have been handled in the inferior courts.

Scheduled to start the trial of civil cases next Tuesday, the court will find no great number of actions there other than a record turnout of pleas for divorces. At no previous time in the history of the county's court records have 26 divorces been found pending on a single calendar. The old and the young, the white and the colored are out to tear asunder the bonds of matrimony.

Criminal cases appearing on the docket include the following: Melson Otto Reynolds and Joe Barnhill of Pitt County, charged with drunken driving, appealed from county court judgments.

The case charging Sam Godard with drunken driving was transferred from the county court when the defendant asked for a jury trial.

Prince White, charged with disposing of mortgaged property, was bound over to the "big" court by Judge J. C. Smith.

The case charging N. S. Godard with assault and battery was sent to the higher court after the defendant called for a jury trial. The case was the first to be automatically transferred to the superior court under the new law ruling out trials by jury in the county court.

Cortez Hopkins is charged with stealing $50 and gasoline coupons from Mrs. Louise Barber on December 18. He was bound over by the county recorder.

Walter (Bud) Freeman, young colored man who is in trouble about as often as he is out, is facing trial for breaking into Buck's Place on Washington Street here last February 10. Bound over by Justice J. L. Hassell the defendant is at liberty under a $500 bond.

The case charging Berry Wynne with cruelty to animals was bound over by Recorder Smith.

Auson Rogers, charged with breaking and entering and larceny, is at liberty under bond in the sum of $700. He is alleged to have visited the home of Chas. Pate in Williams Township and stole several articles on Sunday, January 21, and carried away several shot in various parts of his anatomy.

Henry Dave Bonds with Harry Land tried to "hog" the docket. Bonds stands charged in four cases and Land in three, their crime record going back to last October 7 when they entered Mannings' laundry and stole a pair of pants and a quart of liquor. On December 8 the two entered Chas. Jenkins' garage, failed in their attempt to crack the safe, but succeeded in stealing a 1940 Oldsmobile automobile. About two weeks later the two men are alleged to have entered Harrison Oil

WOUNDED

Pvt. Randolph White was slightly wounded in France on February 19, his mother, Mrs. Venona Coburn White of Jamesville, was just recently notified.

Pvt. White entered the service last summer and visited home in October before going overseas last December. His wife, the former Miss Edith Miller, and their four-year-old son live in Washington.

The young man was employed by the Lindsey Ice Company for several years. His father, Thomas White, died in 1915. A sister, Mrs. Thelma White Jones, died here several years ago.

James Revels Dies In Local Hospital After Long Illness

Funeral Services Are Being Held This Afternoon For Retired Farmer

James H. Revels, well-known citizen of Griffins Township, died in the local hospital yesterday morning at 9 o'clock following a long period of declining health. His condition had been critical only a few weeks, however, and he had spent only the last two in bed, entering the hospital for treatment on Tuesday of this week. Mr. Revels was a hard and earnest worker all his life or until failing health forced his retirement more than two years ago.

The son of the late Eli and Mary Ann Webb Revels, he was born in Griffins Township on January 5, 1877, and lived and farmed there all his life. About 1909 he was married to Miss Della Revels and she survives with three sons, Chester B., J. Eason and Julius Lee Revels, all of the home community. He also leaves two brothers, Messrs. Slade and Jno. Hyman Revels, both of this county, and two sisters, Mrs. Ella Moore and Mrs. Lula Gardner, both of Williams Township.

Mr. Revels was a member of the church at Macedonia for several years, and was faithful in the attendance upon its services and in its support. He was a good neighbor and a good citizen, valuing his obligations and playing the game fair with his fellowman.

Funeral services are being conducted at the home this afternoon at Lilly's Hall at 2:30 o'clock by (Continued on page six)

Soldier's Wife Is Painfully Injured

Mrs. Garland Tice, the former Miss Era Ruth Corey, was dangerously injured Tuesday afternoon when she was struck in the eye by a tobacco stalk. It could not be learned just how badly she was hurt, but one report from a Durham hospital stated that she hardly had a fifty-fifty chance of keeping her sight in that eye. It was stated that she was to undergo an operation, but no report has been received since that time.

Trying to carry on in the absence of her husband who just recently sailed for overseas service in the Army, Mrs. Tice was driving a stalk cutter when a stalk flew up and almost tore the eye from its socket.

Funeral Held Wednesday For Rogerson Infant Son

Funeral services were conducted at the home in Bear Grass Township Wednesday afternoon for William Hildreth, two-months-old son of Hil-rech and Melba House Rogerson, who died in the local hospital Wednesday morning at 1:00 o'clock. Rev. D. W. Davis conducted the last rites.

The child had been in poor health since its birth on last January 10.

CHECKS

The total amount of soil conservation payments received by Martin County farmers to date is reaching a right respectable figure. Mostly, the payments are considered little more than chicken feed, so many farmers have so much money, or did have before they paid their income taxes.

Just recently farmers in the county received 523 checks representing 279 applications and amounting to $8,933.41 from the Triple A. So far they have received under their 1944 contracts a total of 1,487 checks amounting to $29,342.08 and representing 960 applications. About 490 applications are pending and approximately 50 others await the farmers' signatures.

Former Ball Player Is Reported Killed

According to reliable but unofficial information received here a short time ago, Ace Villapique, former player on the Williamston baseball team, was killed in action in the Pacific theater a few months ago. He is remembered here as a reliable young man and made many friends among the people of this section during the several seasons he played outfield for the Martins.

Another player for the Martins, S/Sgt. William Jeff Grant was seriously wounded on February 14th somewhere along the Western Front. The young man lost his right foot, the limb having been amputated a few inches above the ankle. "My ball playing days are over," Sgt. Jeff wrote friends here this week. He doesn't know how long it will be before he catches a boat home, but at the present time the young man is in an Army Hospital overseas. His address is, S/Sgt. Wm. J. Grant, Detachment of Patients, Hospital Plant No. 4404, APO 772, care Postmaster, New York, N. Y., and he will appreciate a letter from his friends here.

Fire Damages Spruill Home On Wilson Street

Fire starting near the chimney did considerable damage to Hezekiah Spruill's home on Wilson Street here yesterday morning at 11 o'clock. A large hole was burned in the side of the house and the ceiling was scorched. Damage to the house was estimated at about $250 by Chief G. P. Hall and the furniture loss will approximate $150.

While en route to the Wilson Street fire, the firemen almost stopped at the main street Esso station when they thought the spray from a paint gun was smoke rolling around the arches from the ceiling. They soon sized up the situation there and continued to the Spruill fire without losing more than a few seconds.

Spruill, local barber, stated he was going home for breakfast and found everything cooking.

Justice Hassell Hears Two Cases In His Court Here

Justice J. L. Hassell heard only two cases in his court here this week as compared with about a dozen a week ago.

Eli Raynor, charged with being drunk and down, was required to pay $9.50 costs, and Wilbur Jones, charged with being drunk and disorderly, was fined $1.50 and required to pay $8.50 costs.

TWO CASUALTY

Pfc. Lester L. Harrell, Jr., was badly but not seriously wounded on Iwo Jima on Sunday, February 25, according to information received direct from the 26-year-old Marine this week by his parents near Oak City. A target for a Jap hand grenade, the young man was literally sideswiped on the left, the iron fragments tearing into his left shoulder, left forearm, left side of his head and left leg.

Pfc. Harrell, the first Martin County man reported wounded in the bitter fight for Iwo Island was removed a short time later to a base hospital at an undisclosed location. In a letter to his parents, he declared he was getting along all right, and even though he was sore he was enjoying a good bed and splendid treatment.

His wife, the former Miss Elizabeth Moye of Oak City, and their 19-months-old son, Jerry Lester, are making their home in Lewiston.

Driver Is Critically Hurt When Trucks Crash On Highway

Jeremiah Brown in Hospital; Henry Paul Charged with Reckless Driving

Jeremiah Brown, middle-aged colored man, was dangerously hurt when the big Dodge truck loaded with logs for the Williamston Lumber Company, and a furniture truck owned by the VanDyke Company of Greenville and driven by Henry Paul, young white man of the Pitt capital, crashed on U. S. Highway about one-half mile east of Everetts last Wednesday afternoon at 2:45 o'clock. Brown, his pelvis bone broken and suffering possible internal injuries, was removed to the local hospital. Paul, his face lacerated, was treated in the Ward Clinic at Robersonville and continued to his home in Greenville a short time later.

A later report stated that Brown suffered a back injury and that his bladder was torn.

Two light VanDyke trucks were traveling toward Everetts at a reported fast speed when the lead truck slowed down to pass several state highway trucks parked on the right shoulder. Paul turned to the left to pass the lead truck and drove right into the path of the big log truck travelling toward Williamston. Paul tried to drive on off the highway to the left, but the log truck plowed into his light machine, causing it to buckle and to throw Paul clear of the wreckage. A wheel off the light truck was knocked a considerable distance down the highway while the two vehicles, smashed together, stopped across the ditch. The load of logs lunged forward, ripping off the cab and steering wheel and landing in the highway. Brown was unable to explain how he escaped without being crushed. Apparently he was thrown to the foot of the cab and rode out the accident while the logs continued down the highway after ripping away the cab.

Patrolman W. E. Saunders and Cpl. W. S. Hunt worked almost three hours clearing the wreck which they (Continued on page six)

Fire Damages Home Here Last Tuesday

Its origin not definitely known, fire did considerable damage to the apartment house of Mrs. E. L. Laughinghouse on the corner of Sycamore and Main Streets here last Tuesday evening about 7 o'clock. Starting in an upstairs room, the fire damaged the furniture and furnishings of Walter Bailey who recently moved there from Bear Grass, and burned into the lathing on one wall and scorching the ceiling. Damage to the room was estimated at $500 by Fire Chief G. P. Hall and the loss on the furniture will approximate $200. The building was insured but none was carried on the furniture by Mr. Bailey.

Miss Annie Mae Bailey lost all her clothes except the ones she was wearing, and other members of the family lost several items.

The home was just recently sold by John W. Green.

Officers Wreck Two Liquor Plants In Free Union Area

Raiding in the Free Union section of Jamesville Township last Tuesday, Officers J. H. Roebuck and Roy Peel wrecked two poorly equipped liquor plants. Both were equipped with gas drums and each plant had about fifty gallons of honey beer on hand.

Air Attack On Nazi Army Headquarters Points To Big Push

New U. S. Army Joins First For Expected Drive From Rhine

The terrific pounding of the German military staff headquarters 20 miles south of Berlin yesterday was taken to mean that extensive developments on the fighting fronts will follow shortly. More than 600 American bombers attacked the comparatively small town, leveling the place and dumping super bombs for exterminating the rats deep down in air raid shelters. Similar attacks have preceded other large-scale drives, and observers saw in the action yesterday signs of big events to come.

During the meantime, the American First, joined by the new American Fifth Army, is making continued progress in the Remagen bridge-head area. Late reports state that "Hodges' men have cut the six-lane superhighway from Frankfurt to Cologne, and the Germans declare that there are more Americans east of the Rhine now than there were in Normandy immediately following the D-Day invasion last June.

While the First and Fifteenth are extending their positions east of the Rhine, Patch and Patton are mopping up the last Germans on the western side of the barrier. General Patton's men, reported to have made gains up to twelve miles in the last 24 hours, had already sealed off the Rhine transit city of Coblenz, was nearing the Rhine south of the city, was pinching off the enemy's "Little Ruhr"—the Saar basin—and was challenging the Nazis' last 150-mile grip on the Rhine's west bank.

The Third Army was by far the deepest into Germany of any Allied army in the West. As it closed on Boppard, an ancient Rhine center six miles south of Coblenz, it was 80 miles north of the Saar border, and nearly 70 miles west of the enemy frontier.

Enemy accounts said the United States Ninth Army had tried to storm across the Rhine into the Ruhr at Duisburg, but was thrown back in hand-to-hand combat. This report might be a propaganda attempt to capitalize on small raiding party forays designed to obtain information of German defenses.

The Russians are still occupied in clearing its flanks and setting the stage for the drive in the direction of Berlin and Dresden. Moscow has said little since the fall of kustrin, the main fortress in the path leading directly to Berlin. It was announced, however, that powerful forces were forming there and that the Russians in that sector had crossed the Ader in strength. It is believed by some that the Russians will start their drive about the time Montgomery throws his Second British Army into high gear for a crossing of the Rhine.

The Pacific war is making progress, too. The Iwo Jima fight is well under control after 4,000 American Marines gave their lives to exterminate 20,000 Jap rats. Japanese efforts to land on the southern tip of Luzon were frustrated, and American air-men pounded Formosa again, sinking eight Jap ships while handling their other work. Tokyo says that thousands of Japs were burned to death in the fires set there and at Nagoya and Osaka in recent days.

Talk of German peace offers were reported to have been dismissed without consideration when Hitler and his gang proposed that they be allowed to continue in power.

County Men Report For Final Induction

Four Martin County men reported last Wednesday for final induction presumably into the Army at Fort Bragg with one exception. The group was the smallest to leave the county in some time, the size of the call being considerably smaller than had been generally expected.

Three of the men answering the call came from non-farm jobs, the other one having first been ruled an essential farmer and then declared unessential. His call came after he had appealed to the district board in Windsor.

One of the group, nearing 38 years of age, was understood to have quit a vital job and subjected himself to call.

One of the four men, James Phillip Keel, included in the call, was transferred to Dunn, but his place was filled Wednesday when Dallas Hassell Godard was transferred from Norfolk to report for induction from this county.

The names of the other men called, their registration and last-given addresses, follow:

Hoke Smith Roberson, Williams-ton and Robersonville.
Haywood John Brown, RFD 1, Oak City.

Frederick Leon Hardison, RFD 1, Williamston. Hardison volunteered for the Navy a short time ago, but he entered through the usual channels.

Rubin Bailey, Jr., 3/c Q. M. USN, is spending a thirty-day leave with his parents after serving fifteen months overseas.
