

MORE AMPUTATIONS

There are more amputations being performed in this war—but only because more lives are being saved.

Miss Frances Turnage spent the week-end in Ayden with relatives.

Boy Scouts Report Their Activities

I would like to review a little simple first aid for you. Some of it you will probably laugh at and say, "Oh what's the use of doing all that? My

Hugs Manila Nurse

CAPTAIN Mary Lohr (left) greets with a hug Maj. Maude Davison, 59, upon the latter's arrival at San Francisco, via hospital plane from the Philippines. Maj. Davison, the principal chief nurse on Corregidor and a veteran of 27 years' service, weighed 156 pounds when the tiny fortress fell to the Japs; she now weighs 80 pounds. (International) has joined the "Great Scoutmaster of all Good Scouts."

We also regret that Eagle Scout Wheeler Martin, Jr., son of our district chairman, is reported missing in action over Tokyo while doing his "duty to God and his country." We hope that he may still be alive, and that the knowledge he gained as a Scout will help him to come back to us.

Troop 29

Troop 29 held its regular meeting Wednesday night, April 11. Gilbert Woolard and Bobby Carter demonstrated how to pitch and take down a tent and how to pack it. Other things were discussed about the camping on which the Scouts will embark Saturday morning at eight o'clock. They will go to and camp overnight at Poplar Point, near Williamston. Julian Mason, Scribe.

NOTE OF THANKS

Please permit me space in your paper to express my sincere thanks to all of my friends for being so kind to me while I was in Dr. Brown's Community Hospital. First, I want to thank Dr. Brown and his fine staff of nurses for being so kind and doing so much for me while in his hospital. And to all of you, my friends, everywhere I want to thank you for your pleasant visits and your kind words of sympathy, your generous gifts, your beautiful flowers and your many nice cards expressing your hopes for my recovery. All these expressions of love made me happy because you were thinking of me.

W. B. Harrington.

blood's good." But sometimes good blood isn't enough to prevent infection. Statistics show that millions of people die each year because they neglect these simple first aid rules. Let any cut bleed freely, but not too much, to clean the wound out. Then apply a little antiseptic. When this is dry, cover the wound with a sterile gauze bandage and bind it on with adhesive tape. Make sure the gauze is sterile, if it is not it will undo all you have done so far. Always make sure the hands are clean before issuing first aid. The reason for this cautionable bandaging is simple but great. No matter how small a cut may be, some infection germs may enter the blood stream through it, if it is not treated properly. Then the germs will thrive and multiply greatly, and the white corpuscles, or "fighting ships of the body," may be outnumbered and beaten. Then comes infection and maybe serious illness or death. First aid is what the name implies: the first aid given before treatment by a doctor. A doctor should by all means see the wound if it is deep or is inflicted around a place where animals may have lived.
