shameful conditions should be delayed until such a time when a dollar's value can be had for a dollar spent. We are going ahead as fast as we can with other spending, and it is little less than a crime against humanity to delay plans for the relief of those who have lost their mental balance.

The governor called for an immediate 20 percent wage increase for school teachers and other state employees. This was a recommendation long, long overdue, but it took

The chief executive endorsed the Good Health program, and the act was a commendable one, but there is that sneaking feeling the Governor acted on public pressure rather than on his own initiative.

He also recommended a strong highway safety program and increased number of patrolmen. This recommendation is good as far as it goes, but the governor failed to call for the elimination of death traps from the highways and liability insurance.

It is fairly evident that this state is on the threshold of some constructive legislation. It is up to the legislators and the people back home to see that the lobbyists and the contrary opposition do not wreck the program. And it will be well for the Democratic Party, with its unquestioned power and sway, to remember that sooner or later it will be called upon for explanation if it should fail in its solemn duty.

Costs Of Highway Accidents

Highway accidents in Martin County conservatively cost $51,660 last year, according to a yard stick measurement prepared by the National Conservation Bureau. That cost is pecuniary and does not include the loss of human life, suffering and sorrow.

Last year there were 126 highway accidents reported in Martin County. Six persons lost their lives and 105 were injured. Each accident on an average cost the victim $288, including loss of time, hospital and medical bills. In addition to that the victim paid, on an average, $220 to have his car repaired.

Add all the costs and then consider the loss of human life, suffering and sorrow and it is shocking to see the cost of accidents on Martin County highways and streets.

The staggering loss should stir everyone—motorist and pedestrian—to strive for greater safety.

CONSTIPATION Risky in BAD COLDS

Retained undigested food becomes putrefactive, causes toxins, which overload the liver and other vital organs of the body, lessening your resistance to colds and other winter ills and interfering with their treatment. Why take this chance when you can take Calotabs? Calotabs thoroughly yet pleasantly act on every foot of your intestines, sweeping out toxin-laden mucus, enabling you to more effectively avoid or fight a cold. Nothing acts like good old Calotabs. Use as directed. 10c and 25c at all drugists.
