Special Program At Woman's Club

The regular monthly meeting of the Williamston Woman's Club was held Tuesday night in the club rooms with Mrs. P. B. Cone, president, presiding. Around 60 members were present.

The Book Club, a department of the club, had charge of the program for the evening. Mrs. Ray Goodmon, president of the Book Club acted as master of ceremonies.

Miss Elizabeth Parker, Miss Marjorie Gray Dunn and Mrs. Tom Skinner rendered a medley of songs applicable to the "Old North State."

Mrs. Marvin Everett of Robersonville was guest speaker. She gave a most interesting talk on "Tar on My Heels" by Bill Sharpe. Her review was well presented and as very few present had read the book, the interest was very keen during her entire talk.

The club rooms were most attractive, United States flags being used throughout the room and a lovely handmade silk North Carolina flag on the speakers' table. Books by different North Carolina authors were on display as well as a scrapbook on the United Nations compiled by the Book Club during the past winter.

A walnut book shelf inscribed in gold as "The Mary Ann Bookshelf" was presented by the Book Club to the local library, in loving memory of Mary Ann Crockett Brown, a departed member of the book club. Mrs. Iris Cook, very graciously accepted the bookshelf for the library. The thirty-six books read and circulated by this club have also been donated to the library.

A copy of "River Treasure" by Margaret Hollowell Burgwyn and specially autographed by her for the book club was also donated to the library. This is one of the latest books by a North Carolina author.

The Book club has made a donation of a complete file of Life magazine from Pearl Harbor, December, 1941, to the present time, to the Williamston colored school. This comprises around 275 issues.

Music was rendered by Mrs. W. K. Parker and Mrs. Wheeler Martin. The audience joined in singing, "Ho for Carolina" and "Carolina Moon."

After the program a social hour was enjoyed. The refreshment table was lovely with Paul Scarlett roses in a silver bowl, red candies in silver holders, with garlands of the red roses running the length of the table.

The punch bowl was presided over by Mrs. P. B. Cone at one end of the table, while Mrs. Ray Goodmon served individual cakes, decorated with tiny North Carolina flags, red and white mints and salted nuts from the other. Mrs. Henry Griffin rendered soft music during the social hour.

Miss Pierce was the holder of the lucky number and was presented a box dusting powder as a door prize.—Reported.
