A Great Opportunity

Martin County's struggle for better health will be materially boosted the latter part of this and early next month when the State Health Department in cooperation with the County Health Department and other agencies sends equipment for a mass X-ray survey of all its people fifteen years old or older.

The service, the most extensive ever offered, is certain to prove a boon to the health of our people in that it will help ferret out the dread disease and place the victims in a position to combat it in the early stages of its development.

While much has been accomplished in public health, the service now being offered brings the movement directly to the people. It is a golden opportunity that no one should allow to slip by, and it is sincerely believed that every person in the county, fifteen years old or older, will take advantage of the service.

There are quite a few persons in this county who are victims of tuberculosis in its early stages. The victims could be any one of us, and to find out their identity and place them in a position to help themselves a mass X-ray survey is necessary.

The survey is being conducted without cost to the individual. Only a few seconds are required to make an X-ray. Every individual stands to gain much and lose nothing. It is up to the people to get behind the survey, have their X-ray made and see that all others get to the mobile units and have theirs made during the period beginning January 27 and ending February 14.

Simple Faith and Not Force Needed

With a dollar in one hand and a weapon or threat in the other America can't expect much from its Truman policy and its Marshall plan.

Armed with humble faith, the fellowmen and adhering to the simple truths, Americans can spread Democracy across foreign lands. It is fairly certain that we can't buy it for others. And the United States, regardless of its might and undisputed power, cannot force democracy on any people. And neither can Russia force other peoples to accept the isms. Power may gain an upper hand for awhile, but in a brief time the wishes of the people will rise to the top to challenge bribery and acts accomplished by force.

There was a time when man struggled with economic and social problems, but now man is his own big problem. We seek to gain our way by force or bribery, forgetting the simple basic truths. We talk about our magnanimity, but in truth we are only boasting, looking for something to reward us tenfold.

The Barriers May Fall

There are no inherent and insuperable barriers to the establishment of a new humanity. There are blindness, laziness and selfishness, and these can retard and are retarding its advent. The present need is for multitudes who, like the rebel in Patmos, see a new earth. An enlightened priest in the age of Alfred the Great, announcing the practicability of even the hinds, villains and serfs becoming so instructed that all of them could read Holy Writ and the ballads and chronicles of the time, would have been unfrocked as possessed of the devil. Had some crank in feudal times taught that the common folk could be free to think, talk, vote and take part in government without social chaos and red ruin he would have risked the stake. Today all these things are accepted as commonplaces. Our dream, too, will surely come to pass. Posterity will only wonder how it could ever have been questioned, and why its obvious advent was so long delayed.—D. W. Langridge in the Christian World.
