

Half Dozen Cases In J. P. Courts

Business recovered from an early spring slump in the justices of the peace courts here this week when six cases were booked for trial.

In his sessions, Justice J. L. Hassell fined James Midgett $10 and taxed him with the cost for being drunk and disorderly, and suspended a 30-day jail sentence upon the payment of $6.50 cost in the case charging Mamie Peel with disorderly conduct.

Justice R. T. Johnson handled four cases, as follows:

Charged with skipping a board bill, Claud Padgett, Jr., was directed to pay the board bill and $5.85 costs.

Drunk and disorderly, Clyde Clark was fined $5 and required to pay $5.85 costs.

Charged with being drunk and disorderly, Sylvester Wynne was fined $10 and taxed with the costs.

Charged with fishing without licenses, Sam and Charlie Penwell and Herbert Dixon of Edgecombe County were each fined $5 and taxed with $5.85 costs.

Held in Slaying

A 17-YEAR-OLD high school girl, Joyce Schumaker (above) is held by Waukegan, Ill., police on a charge of fatally shooting Carl Reeder, 52, a clerk at her school. Police say the slaying followed a quarrel over Reeder's proposed plans to divorce his wife. The girl, they say, was not satisfied with his promise to "straighten things out" at home.

Takes a Short Cut

NOT SINCE the boyish bob has anything like the "feminine crew cut" come along to rob the fair sex of their "crowning glory." Here, in one of its more alluring forms, it is introduced by musical star Mary Martin. She found the collegiate style helped overcome a hair-dressing problem in a new musical show, and now it's likely to become a hair-do rage.

Plan To Locate New Hospital On Rhodes Property

The doctors expressed the hope that there would be enough interest among the people in the hospital project to help promote a plan whereby sewer lines could be installed.

Town officials assured the doctors that they would do all they could to make available the facilities.

Uncle Natchel's FERTILIZER TALK

Farmers in our section always puts mixed fertiliz' under their cotton and side-dresses with natchel Chilean soda. Three years ago, they couldn't get no soda and had to leave off the side-dress. That year for the first time we had plenty of rust.

Next year, we got our soda again and done like we always done before. And we didn't get no rust at all! Somebody say the soda in natchel nitrate acts jes like potash on rust. Maybe that's how come we got rust when we didn't get to use no soda.
