

Henry Stalls Dies At Home In This County Saturday

Funeral Service Conducted At Home Monday; Military Rites at Graveside

(Robersonville Herald)

Henry Stalls, 52, died at his home near Robersonville Saturday afternoon at 5:55 o'clock following a cerebral hemorrhage suffered two days earlier. He was born near Robersonville on May 15, 1897, and served in World War I from August 5, 1918, until December following the Armistice.

Engaged in farming, he spent his entire life in this county. He was a member of Christian Chapel at Cross Roads and the Murray R. Cargile Post No. 81 of the American Legion in Robersonville.

Funeral services were conducted at the home Monday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock by the Rev. J. M. Perry, Christian minister of Robersonville. Burial was in the Roebuck Cemetery near the home. The graveside rites were conducted by the American Legion Post and included a color guard and firing squad composed of John Warren, Oscar Roberson, Alvin Hasty, William Williams, Thomas Ward, Lester Bunting, Guy Forbes, Phillip Keel, John Nelson, Alvin Weiss and Norman Wilkerson.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Rebecca Wynne Stalls; two sons, Floyd M. Stalls of the U. S. Army now stationed in California, and James M. Stalls of Greenville; four daughters, Mrs. Eli Stalls of Everetts, Mrs. James Ottis Roebuck of near Robersonville, Elizabeth and Doris Stalls of the home; three brothers, Simon Stalls of Greenville, Sam and Robert Stalls of near Robersonville, two sisters, Jane Stalls of Robersonville, and Mrs. Zeb Brown of near Robersonville, and eleven grandchildren.

HIS THRONE DEPENDS ON ELECTION

FORMER KING Leopold of Belgium strolls with his second wife, the Countess De Rethy (left) and his daughter, Princess Josephine, at Nice, France, where he is vacationing until Belgian voters determine whether or not he will return to the throne. Observers declare his marriage to the Countess, a commoner, in 1941, and his failure to oppose the Nazis during the war will probably influence the election. (International)

People Have 170 Billions Saved

An interesting survey has been made by the Institute of Life Insurance which shows that while the savings of the people are increasing rapidly the value of the dollar has decreased greatly.

Americans have now accumulated $170,000,000,000 in savings, and about 35,000,000 people are covered by the Social Security System for old age and survivors' benefits. In the past few years, it is stated, the people have learned to save and have built up protection for themselves for the years to come. Such protection includes life insurance and other voluntary savings, also the Social Security System and the growing pension movement in private industry. Nothing comparable existed in the past, the institution said.

However, it was pointed out, that this has been offset to some extent by the decrease in the value of the dollar. If the purchasing power of the dollar were

A message from the head of their Church will be heard as a part of the Sunday morning service, March 12, by the congregations of most of the nearly 8,000 parishes and missions of the Episcopal Church. The Rt. Reverend Henry Knox Sherrill, Presiding Bishop will speak over one of the largest radio networks ever arranged, and he will be heard by means of radio receiving sets installed in the churches. Bishop Sherrill's address will be an appeal to Episcopal Church members to support a largely increased program of work in missions in this country and overseas, and in Education and Social Relations. The address is timed for exactly 11:30, Sunday morning, March 12.

The service will be heard in this section over the Washington radio station at 11:30 o'clock.

to decline anywhere near as fast as it did in the next fifty years as it did in the first half of the twentieth century, the effect on the people's savings and their security programs would be chaotic, the institute said. "With all its soundness as a currency, the dollar today will buy only a third as much as it did in 1900."

Another important factor, the survey said, is that the life expectancy at birth now is more than sixty-seven years, whereas in 1900 it was less than fifty years. This means that millions of young people now in the country's labor force can reasonably expect to attain retirement age.

WORD-TRADEMARKS

On file in the sixth floor of the Department of Commerce Building are about 460,000 words — most of which are registered trademarks with the patent office and which, through special usage and because of special combinations with other words, are accepted for registration as trademarks. "Sterling" is one of the words, and "Aspirin" is another.
