Do Not Surrender

Supporters of Willis Smith say Smith should be sent to the United States Senate because he will vote as Mr. Clyde Hoye votes, that Smith will not cancel out Hoye's votes.

That's saving votes, all right. But, first let's understand how Hoye has been voting.

The record shows that he has voted more consistently with that arch Republican, Robert A. Taft, than he has with his own party. Just recently Mr. Hoye went against the people when he voted for a company gas bill. He has struck a dagger into the back of the common people again and again.

Let Smith, Hoye and their corporation bed fellows pick up the Republican banner, and let such men as Frank Graham pick up the people's banner and march into battle in the general election.

Seeing the issues more clearly as time goes on, the people of Martin County and North Carolina do not propose on June 24 to surrender to the enemy within their camp.

Refreshing

It is really refreshing to see a fellow come out in the open and state his position. There has been so much double talk and trickery that confusion followed in mass quantities.

The State Magazine editor came out a few days, as follows:

"We are opposed to the Government entering into the field of private business.

"We are opposed to the government putting out money to help a man buy or build his home.

"We are opposed to federal aid for hospitals, lunch rooms, old-age assistance, social security and other great humanitarian projects in which the Government has become involved in recent years."

The State Magazine editor goes on to say that he is opposed, with some few exceptions, to subsidies. It is inferred that he opposes the farm program.

Then he states his position as favoring the following duties of the government:

1. To make laws; 2. To pass upon the validity of these laws; and, 3. To see that the laws are carried out.

Hats off to Carl Goerch or whoever wrote in black and white that position. We do not question his right to the beliefs he entertains, but we move to disagree with every drop of our blood and every ounce of our strength the position taken by the Magazine editor.

Some would have the government stand idly by while the powerful gobbled up the weak, but holler for help with economic disaster faces them as it did during the thirties.

We don't know exactly what it is, but we had rather see the government provide food for little children rather than to see little children go hungry. We had rather see the government lend to those men who fought in war money with which to build home rather than see those men live in garrets. We had rather see the aged receive pensions than want in their declining years. We had rather see government-supported schools and institutions rather than see the doors of school houses and universities open to the few, the sons and daughters of the rich.

And that's the issue offered in bold relief today: Whether Smith will buy his way into the United States Senate to represent the corporations and favor monopoly power; or whether the people will send Frank Graham to the Senate to represent the people, to make the government a servant of the people and not the people a slave of uncontrolled monopoly.

Garden Guit

An occasional flower gets ripped out along with the weeds, giving the philosophical gardener a homey illustration of Guit by Association. Kansas City Star.

HAMILTON DEFEATS BETHEL BY SCORE OF NINE TO FOUR

The Hamilton Independents defeated the Bethel baseball club 9 to 4 in a recent game. Hamilton got 11 hits and made 3 errors while Bethel collected five hits while being guilty of four miscues.

Highway deaths, injuries and property damage cost North Carolinians approximately 74 million dollars in 1949, the Department of Motor Vehicles estimates.
