

News As Reported In The Enterprise Forty Years Ago

June 24, 1910

The infant class of the Episcopal Sunday School, of which Miss Elizabeth Gordon is teacher, was entertained by Rev. W. J. Gordon at the rectory on Tuesday afternoon at 5 o'clock. The little folks were amused with games and a donkey party. There was also music and children's hymns which they thoroughly enjoyed. Cake and cream were served in the dining room. Assisting the host in entertaining were Mesdames Clarence Jeffress and Clinton Mundy, Misses Nannie and Pennie Biggs, Hannah Vic and Louise Fowden, Essie Peel and Irene Smith. The class had as guests little Misses Sallie Cook and Florence Munday and Master Clarence Jeffress.

Mrs. W. D. Daniel and daughter, Blanch, of Robersonville, spent Sunday with Mesdames J. T. Daniel and H. S. Everett in Oak City.

Miss Charlotte Casper, of Oak City, left for Wendell Saturday where she will visit Miss Georgia Henry for a few days.

Biscoe Sherrod, Bogue Slade, W. L. Rhodes and Dr. M. I. Fleming of Hamilton were visitors in Oak City Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Hurst are now occupying the house in Oak City which has recently been occupied by Hyman Ethridge.

Miss Fannie Johnson returned to her home in Oak City after visiting friends in Everetts.

Master Earl Brewer, of Hamilton, has accepted a position as clerk with J. W. Hines in Oak City.

Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Johnson, of Hassell were visitors in Oak City Sunday.

Misses Bernice May Fagan, Mattie Fagan, Ruth Darden, Donnie B. Gardner, Annie Robbins and Kathleen Jackson of Dardens attended the "Children's Day" services at Poplar Chapel Church Sunday night.

N. C. Farm People To Honor Schaub

North Carolina Farm and Home Week, to be held on the State College campus in Raleigh from July 31 through August 3, will be dedicated to Dr. I. O. Schaub, director of the State College Extension Service for the past 26 years, officials of the annual event announced here this week.

Plans also are being made to honor Director Schaub by establishing a scholarship in his name at State College.

Mrs. J. S. Gray, president of the N. C. Federation of Home Demonstration Clubs and H. G. Shelton, president of the Farmers Convention, have sent letters to farm families throughout the State inviting them to contribute to the proposed scholarship fund.

A number of families and home demonstration clubs already have sent in their contributions.

Officials said the scholarship could be established with a minimum of $5,000. The interest from this amount, it is pointed out, would provide an annual scholarship award of approximately $100, to be made to an outstanding 4-H Club member studying some phase of agriculture at State College.

Families desiring to make contributions should send them to H. G. Shelton, P. O. Box 5157, State College Station, Raleigh.

"Dean" Schaub, as he is affectionately known throughout the State, will retire this fall. He has been director of the Extension Service since 1924. In addition, he was dean of the State College School of Agriculture from 1926 to 1945 and acting director of the Experiment Station from 1937 to 1940.

He served as the State's first 4-H Club agent from 1909 to 1913 and was Southern States Field agent for the Cooperative Extension Service from 1918 to 1924. He has been chosen for membership on many important State and national committees and has received numerous honors.

Miss Virginia Jackson, of Dardens, has returned from a visit to Jamesville.

Carroll B. Fagan has returned to his home in Dardens from A. and M. College in Raleigh.

C. C. Fagan, of Dardens, made a business trip to town Monday.

Mrs. Olive Mizell, of Dardens, is on the sick list this week.

Frank F. Fagan, cashier of the Farmers and Merchants Bank was recently offered a very important position in the Southern National Bank, of Wilmington. The position payed a larger salary than his present place, but Mr. Fagan has declined the offer and will remain with us.

W. M. York had the misfortune to lose about 200 pounds of meat last week. There has been more robbery around these parts within the last year than for any ten before. Something should be done to protect people against these depredations.

Dr. John D. Biggs, Frank F. Fagan and Charles H. Godwin represent the banks of our town at the Bankers' Association at Wrightsville this week.

Miss Beulah Lilley, of Jamesville, is visiting her sister, Mrs. M. I. Brown, on Haughton street.

P. H. Brown and little daughter, Thelma, of Jamesville, were in town Monday.

Mrs. Marion Cobb left Wednesday for Mildred to spend a few days.

Miss Fannie Biggs Martin visited friends in the country this week.

Master James Edwin Harrell is visiting relatives in Conctoe.

Mrs. C. L. Ellington spent Sunday in Weldon.

James and Wynne are erecting a building in the rear of Johnson's stables for the manufacture of tiling.

Smithwick Street is being worked on and the walk has been vastly improved by being enlarged.

Liberty Bell Here June 24th

Pictured above is the full-size exact duplicate of the Liberty Bell which will be displayed locally and will tour the state as the symbol of the Independence Savings Bonds Drive from May 15 to July 4, which urges the people to "Save for your Independence."

Fifty-two of these bells, touring the nation during the drive, were completely donated by America's copper producers. Companies donating the Liberty Bells are the Anaconda Copper Corp.; Phelps-Dodge Corp.; American Smelting and Refining Co.; The American Metal Co. Ltd.; Miami Copper Co. The U. S. Steel Corp.'s American Bridge Company supplied the stays and hardware used in mounting the bells. The Ford Motor Company is providing the transportation of these bells across the nation.

New Small Grains Make Good Yields

Highly satisfactory yields are being reported by farmers harvesting the new small grain varieties recently released by the North Carolina Experiment Station, according to W. E. Colwell, head of the Station's agronomy department.

Colwell referred particularly to the new Atlas wheats and to Colonial barley, all of which were released to growers a year ago. G. K. Middleton and T. T. Herbert, plant breeders at the Station, developed and tested the new grains. Atlas 50 and Atlas 66 are sister strains noted for their stiff straw and resistance to leaf diseases. Last year Atlas 50 yielded an average of 32 bushels per acre at nine locations. Redhart, the most widely grown variety in the State, averaged only 21 bushels per acre in the same tests.

Colonial barley has consistently out yielded other barley varieties, Colwell said. At the McCullers Branch Station near Raleigh it produced 10 bushels per acre more than Sunrise. Colonial barley also is noted for its disease resistance. Colwell also praised the performance of Arlington oats, a new variety released recently by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. In eight variety tests in 1948 and 1949, Arlington yielded an average of 97 bushels per acre. Its nearest competitor was Station variety, which averaged 80 bushels per acre.

Arlington not only yields high but also has a higher protein content. It averages 13.7 per cent protein, while the next highest protein-bearing barley is Lee variety with 10 per cent.

Enough certified seed of the new varieties will be available after harvest to enable more farmers to grow them.
