Know The True Facts

If the honest-to-goodness facts are recognized, Frank P. Graham will win the U. S. Senatorial race on Saturday of this week by an overwhelming majority...

As president of the University of North Carolina, Frank Graham served under five governors and about nine legislatures. His regular reports were well received during these nineteen years...

A young Williamston boy, after spending several years in the armed forces of his country, was graduated from college early this month. He wanted to enter med school, but there was no room...

They have accused Mr. Graham of everything in the book, the charges, in many instances, coming from those who knew better, but who chose to insult the intelligence of many voters.

It isn't enough for some of those who spread such guile to turn and laugh at those who accept it. Willis Smith is hiding the real issues behind a black curtain. He will not dare turn the light and the truth on his unsavory record with the corporations...

Mr. Smith is trying to hide a poor World War I record behind inflated claims. He says he is the "Veteran's Veteran." The facts in the case, taken from the records in the North Carolina Department of Archives and History in Raleigh show that he was drafted on July 29, 1915...

Mr. Smith had the gall to say that he forced Frank Graham to take a definite stand against the Brannan plan. On October 25, 1949, former Secretary of Agriculture Clinton P. Anderson wrote a letter saying that when "there were alternative farm programs being considered, Senator Graham stood steadfastly for the parity price concept..."

The Smith forces said and caused to be spread pictures of a Negro boy, who they claimed, Frank Graham appointed to West Point. The white boy, a promising Fayetteville youth, was appointed and is traveling around Eastern North Carolina with Frank Graham this week. We don't believe our people are so blind that they'll mistake the white boy for a Negro boy...

Right here in this county a Smith supporter said that Frank Graham appointed a Negro to Annapolis. The Smith supporter said that Sid Dunn of Greenville had told him that he (Dunn) had a boy at Annapolis that he (Dunn's boy) saw the Negro boy every day...

Smith forces cried for the indictment of M. G. Mann of the North Carolina Cotton Growers Association because he dared mention Frank Graham's name in a letter to the employees. A representative of one of the biggest motor corporations in the world, under a Charlotte date line, wrote to people right here in Williamston...

Setting The Record Straight

The Charlotte News. (Issue of May 27, 1950.) It is late for what we have to say on this subject to have any appreciable effect on the outcome of today's voting in the senatorial primary election...

Someone at Willis Smith headquarters should have curbed the zeal of the young man who has been doing Mr. Smith's publicity. Hoover Adams. Someone should have told Mr. Adams that the advertisement over his name in the papers this week was just plain silly.

In the first place, the summer session of the Anglo-American section of Moscow University in 1935 was not, as the ad said, an "effort to get American youths to go to Russia and study Communism under Russian teachers..."

Futhermore, the committee was not created to "sell" the summer session. "School and Society" explained that: "To the end that the Soviet authorities may learn the American reaction to the new Russian educational system..."

On that committee, in addition to Dr. Graham, were such distinguished Americans as Dr. Harry Woodburn Chase, former UNC president, Edward R. Murrow of radio fame, Vassar's famed Hallie Flanagan, the University of Chicago's Robert M. Hutchins, Philosopher John Dewey and many others.

In the third place, reciprocal observation of the American and Russian educational systems was exactly what we should have been doing in 1935. Had the Russian government not put an end to the plan, some of us might have perceived the true nature of Communism earlier...

The ad served no purpose other than getting Dr. Graham's name and that of Russia's capital in the same space on a newspaper page. If there is a second primary — and the "experts" seem to think there will be — let us hope that Mr. Smith and Dr. Graham will crack down hard on their zealous supporters...

There are real issues in this battle, but they have been completely obscured by false, and frequently malicious, side issues.

Amusing Specimens

The human race contains individuals, entirely worthless except for a nuisance value. They attract slight attention by throwing mud at better men. This pleases their ego. All they want is a little attention.

The trait is seen in small boys who write naughty sayings upon sidewalks, barn doors and other places to compel attention and to have the fun of seeing cleaner-minded individuals remove their trash.

The interesting little nuisance seldom grows up, revealing his nature all through the years. As intriguing studies of the so-called human race, they amuse those who understand what is behind their behavior.

BROADWAY AND MAIN STREET Merge Television and Movies In a Marriage of Convenience

By BILLY ROSE

You might not think it to look at them, but the two big branches of show business are in heavy trouble — movies and television broadcasting.

The movies, a business with plenty of product, is up against a rapidly shrinking audience, and though some of the companies are still in the black, it's a cinch they won't be when there are 10 million TV sets in 10 million parlors. Judging by the financial pages, the people who own the companies agree with me because most of the movie stocks are selling for less than half of their 1946 quotations.

The television business, on the other hand, has a rapidly expanding audience but darned little product worth looking at. And, as I see it, it isn't the fault of the TV tycoons — there just isn't enough theatrical talent around to provide good live entertainment for the 300 half-hour shows which the networks must present each week.

Billy Rose

In other words, unless something is done about it and pronto, one business will grow more insolvent and the other more insipid. Is there a solution? Of course, and like all good solutions it's a simple one: Television must marry the movies, or vice versa — and if there are laws on the books which get in the way of these nuptials, then in the public interest the laws will have to be changed.

The advantage of this alliance are many and obvious. First, through the sale or rental to telecasters of film expressly made for the foot-square TV screen, the movies can start recouping some of the money that the home sets are siphoning out of their box offices. Second, on a give-and-take basis, the film companies will be able to run off their trailers in millions of living rooms, and the few tests of this type of advertising indicate that it's plenty potent. Third, the midweek screen can be used to develop new picture personalities, and this, as movie men will tell you, is the real life blood of their silly business.

What can Hollywood do for Television? Plenty. A sufficient amount of the right kind of film will solve better than half of its programming problems — and I'm, of course, not referring to the grade-Z vintage stuff which certain stations now run as a last and ludicrous resort. I'm talking about pictures exactly tailored for the small screen, skillfully staged and lighted, and which, among other things, will steer clear of the long shots which look like so much oscillating mush. Hollywood eventually can produce darn near every type of TV program from the travelogue to the three-act dramatic play, but for opens it might do well to concentrate on the popular classics that people never seem to get tired of.

For instance, the best of the short stories of De Maupassant, O. Henry, Ben Hecht, Damon Runyon and Somerset Maugham; ditto a series of symphonic standbys with Toscanini and Stokowski conducting; double ditto, the inspired antics of Jimmy Durante, Maurice Chevalier and a hundred others in the rhinestoned hodgepodge that makes up show business. Access to such a stock pile of film classics would, among other things, take the bone-crushing pressure off the TV programmers and allow them to concentrate on a few really good live shows.

And before long, if they use the sense that God gave geese, the blending of the reel and the real would add up to entertainment which one could watch without rushing for the wall. The overall consequence would be that two businesses which give employment to tens of thousands would once and for all climb out of the red and into the pink.

Paramount Pictures, which paid $500,000 for an interest in DuMont some years ago, is angling to sell its holdings for $12,000,000. That would be a nice capital gain, of course, but I wonder if it wouldn't be smarter for Paramount to hold on to this stock and invest a few extra bucks in a film library to make DuMont the first TV network worth a second look.

Who knows — it might be a handy hedge against the time when there are 20 million television sets, and DuMont is considering the purchase of Paramount for $360,000.

Delivers Address Over The Radio For Dr. Graham

facilities have likewise received the active support of Frank Graham, and he did this as a public-spirited citizen and servant of the people, and not as a paid lobbyist by any group or segment of our people.

They tell us that Senator Graham favors the abolition of the segregation of the races in our school system. They say this in spite of the fact that our own great Attorney General of North Carolina has cited in his brief in a case now pending in the Supreme Court of the United States, the opinion of Frank Graham favoring segregation as we now have it. They tell us that Senator Graham nominated a negro for the United States Military Academy. The facts are that Senator Graham announced that he would not make his appointment to West Point a political appointment, but would nominate those who made the highest grades on a competitive examination. That examination was taken by forty students and the third highest grade was made by a Negro student, but Young Hauser, a promising white boy of Fayetteville, got the appointment.

They tell us that Senator Graham opposed a bill allowing the people in the District of Columbia to vote on the question of racial segregation. That statement is misleading and does not reveal the true facts, which are as follows: "Before the Senate was a bill to give home rule to the District of Columbia, as you know, has been governed by a Congressional committee. The measure let Washington citizens vote on the selection of their own governing body. Senator Graham voted for the bill, because he believes in home rule as a fundamental part of democracy."
