

"The Big Lift" Filmed in Berlin

The Berlin Airlift, which made news headlines in 1948 and 1949, is making movie headlines in 1950. For what many consider the outstanding air achievement of all time has now been brought to the screen in "The Big Lift," filmed in Berlin, starring Montgomery Clift and Paul Douglas, and coming on Wednesday July 5th to the Watts Theatre.

That Twentieth Century-Fox, producers of the "The Big Lift," should think the Berlin Airlift worthy of cinematic treatment is not surprising. For although history has been repeating itself for thousands of years, nothing quit like the airlift ever happened before. The two and a quarter million residents of the three Western-power sectors of Berlin, cut off from their sources of supply, were kept alive with goods from the air for over eleven months, from June, 1948, to May, 1949. With an average of

Racing Story At Marco Sunday

A match quarter mile race in which an Arizona cow pony beat one of California's fastest thoroughbreds, with a wager of $50,000 at stake, was responsible for the making of the picture, "Boy from Indiana," co-starring Lon McCallister and Lois Butler. Billie Burke and George Cleveland are featured in the Eagle Lion Films release coming to the Marco Theatre on Sunday and Monday.

The race took place at Hollywood Park one morning a year ago and when Producer Frank Melford, veteran producer, heard about it he decided that quarter horses were exciting enough to feature in a motion picture.

"Four years ago some Arizona stock men tried to get some California racing men to bring a thoroughbred sprinter to Tucson for a race against a quarter horse," says Melford. "That didn't work out, so, finally, a year ago, Barbara B, a quarter horse, was brought to California for a match race against Fair Truckle, one of C. S. Howard's best sprinters, at Hollywood Park.

"Barbara B, then four years old and since retired, belonged to Roy Gill, a wealthy rancher. Roy Adams, who since committed suicide, was the man who really brought the race about. Adams was a colorful character, once world's champion calf roper, who made and lost a dozen fortunes. Most of the money that rode with Barbara B was his. I do not think Howard himself bet on his own horse—others were too eager to cover Adams' money.

"Johnny Longdon rode Fair Truckle and Barbara B's jockey was Tony Licata. As they flashed past the quarter mile finish line Barbara B was two clear lengths ahead.

"Oddly, the debate about whether those cow ponies who work six days a week and race on Sunday are faster than thoroughbreds still rages. Occasionally, I'm told, a thoroughbred sprinter will win but not often enough to create any monotomy."

The deeper Melford dug into the subject of quarter horses the more he became convinced that here was material for a good picture. He learned that there are 14,000 registered quarter horses in this country, that they were established in Virginia in 1665, a cross between Spanish and native English stock.

"Boy from Indiana" primarily is a modern romance which involves Lon McCallister, Lois Butler, Billie Burke and George Cleveland, but there's also a lot about quarter horses, the fastest

MAKES YOUR TOBACCO WORTH MORE

PAYS N. C. FARMER $260.00 MORE PER ACRE!

Comparative Test PROVES VALUE of AIROVAC

Oxford, N. C.

Air Control, Inc.,
Atlanta, Georgia.

In 1949 the tobacco cured with AIROVAC sold for $260.00 more per acre than tobacco cured without Airovac. Yet, all the tobacco came out of the same field, was the same grade, variety, and kind. It was all cultivated and fertilized alike, so we feel and KNOW that AIROVAC was responsible for obtaining the higher and better price.

(Signed) R. W. Danie

Here's the actual experience of a successful farmer who has used the AIROVAC method of curing tobacco for two years and found it highly satisfactory. Tobacco cured in the barn with AIROVAC brought a much higher price than tobacco cured without AIROVAC. This comparative test shows that AIROVAC provides the only scientific method of bringing tobacco to its best color and quality. By definite control of the air which circulates up through the tobacco leaves, curing can be done without sweating, sponging or any of the old hit or miss methods of the past. NOTE cut-away section of barn showing how air is taken in, circulated and expelled. Let us show you how AIROVAC can make your tobacco worth more. Call, write or come by today for full information.
