

News As Reported In The Enterprise Forty Years Ago

July 1, 1910

J. C. Keel, of Robersonville, went to Greenville Monday. Misses Emma and Maree Robertson, of Robersonville, returned to their home from a visit to Greenville. Miss Geneva James, of Robersonville, who has been spending some time in Everetts returned home Sunday. Miss Susan Ross, of Stokes, is visiting the Misses Mooring at their home in Robersonville. The new Opera House has been leased for one year to a syndicate composed of Messrs. S. R. Biggs, W. T. Meadows and others. These gentlemen have gone to considerable expense to secure a line of first class attractions for the people of our town and county. They have opened a booking agency in New York City with Charles H. Bent Southern Theatrical Circuit. Mr. Bent has over two hundred theatres in the South, and he has charge of Klaw and Elanders Southern business. The opening attraction at the Opera House will be the great Southern play, "Human Hearts" on September 15th. Lester, Roy and Ralph Roberson, of Robersonville, spent Monday night at the home of their uncle, J. F. Purvis of Hassell. Johnnie Eubanks, and their sister, Varnie, of Hassell, left Saturday to visit their sister near Parmele. Dr. LeRoy Fleming, of Hassell, has returned from Raleigh where he finished his medical course.

Miss Dora Fleming, from near Stokes, visited her cousin, Miss Era Rawls in Hassell last week. Jodie Woodard, of Everetts, is filling the vacancy in the bank in Robersonville. This vacancy was caused by the death of Joe Ward. Will Everett, of Robersonville, returned home from Richmond Thursday. Tom Knight, of Durham, is visiting his cousin, Robert Adkins, in Robersonville. Le Roy Rollins, of Bethel, spent some time in Hassell last week. Jack Bullock, a prosperous farmer living about three miles from Bear Grass, had a horse to run away while hitched to the plow Tuesday morning, and cut himself very badly. Elder John N. Rogerson, of Bear Grass, attended services at Smithwick Creek Saturday and Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Harris, of Bear Grass, spent Sunday in the country with Mr. and Mrs. Henry Peel. Lon Cowing, of Bear Grass, attended services at Mr. H. T. Woodard's Sunday afternoon. J. M. Sitterson, went to Bear Grass Monday on business. John B. Sloan, of Rock Hill, S. C. organized a Conclave of Improved Order Heptasophs in Oak City Monday night with 31 charter members. There were 30 applicants present all of whom passed. One honorary member was admitted, Mr. E. L. Perkins. The Conclave will be known as the Oak City Conclave. Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Hurst, of Oak City, spent Sunday with Mrs. Hurst's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Beverly, near Bethel. Will Casper and sister, Miss Bessie of Oak City, went to Williams Chapel Sunday to attend the services. Not since 1896 has our town had the honor of being host to so large a delegation of church people as now, when the Warren District Conference is holding its annual session in the Methodist Church. The congregation here is the largest in town, and has the most commodious church building. Rev. C. L. Read, who is finishing his fourth year, has faithfully led his people and with them he stands for the moral uplift of the community. If you do not pay your auto tax by June 20th it will cost you $5.00 now to get a new number. Martin county is almost free from the dangerous machines. Williamston and Martin county also feel honored in having Dr. John D. Biggs as the executive committee member from the first district at the recent Banker's Convention which met at Wrightsville. Dr. Biggs was the only one of the old committee retained, which was quite a compliment. Mrs. E. L. Tarkenton, of Wilson, has been the guest of Mrs. John Carper this week. Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Roberson returned Wednesday from a tour to Northern cities. Miss Irene Smith attended the Hanff-Smith wedding at Scotland Neck Wednesday. Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Saunders are at home after a pleasant trip to Northern cities. The fastest game of the season was played on the Williamston diamond on the 27th by the Williamston Regulars and the Tamany Tigers. Resulting in a score of 10 to 7 in favor of the Regulars. The line up was as follows: Regulars; Joe Godard 1b, Willard Teel ss, Harry M. Stubbs, c, Wheeler Martin cf, Willie Watts 2b, Haywood Knight rf, Maurice Moore p, 3b, Ben Hopkins rf, S. R. Biggs p. Tamany Tigers; Julius Peel 1b, Jim Godard II, Sam Gurganus cf, D. E. Gurganus c, Leslie Fowden ss, Dillon Simpson 2b, J. H. Thrower 3b, Ben Hopkins rf, S. R. Biggs p. Features of the game were the strong work by Biggs, who was upon the mound for the Tigers, he allowed very few hits and kept them well scattered. The fast playing and head work of Fowden on the short was wonderful. We are confident that no amateur short stop in the South has a wing like his. Peel, who held the first sack played an errorless game, robbing the Regulars of several pretty hits in his territory. The Tigers as a whole are there with the willow. The Regulars played steady ball and gave Ward and Moore good support. Stubbs allowed no stealing. This being the first appearance of the Tigers in uniform we feel safe in predicting that they will make the Regulars go some in the next contest. Miss Mable Haislip, of Hassell, is visiting her aunt in Tarboro. T. H. Johnson and R. H. Salisbury, Jr., of Hassell, spent Sunday in Hassell. Mrs. W. Z. Morton and little daughter, Elizabeth, spent last week with relatives in Hassell. Miss Louise Reeves, of Robersonville, is visiting relatives in Greenville this week. Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Ross, of Robersonville, spent Sunday in Tarboro. Jim Taylor, of Robersonville, was a visitor in town Monday. Frank Haislip and Will Rhodes, of Hamilton, were visitors in Hassell, Tuesday.

Hamilton Man Returns Home From Hospital
Mr. LeRoy Everett, prominent Hamilton business man, returned home yesterday in a Biggs ambulance from Duke Hospital, Durham, where he had been a patient since June 6. While his condition is much improved, he'll be forced to continue in bed for some time, it was learned. Agricultural scientists estimate that American farmers use about 200 species of plants as crops.
