RECENT BRIDE, GROOM HONORED AT PARTY

Miss Georgia D. Roberson and Mrs. J. Claude Leggett entertained in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Williams, recent bride and groom, at their home on Smithwick street last Wednesday night.

The adjoining living rooms, thrown in suite, were decorated throughout with arrangements of gladioli, mixed summer flowers and white tapers. The bride's table carried out a green and white motif in detail.

Mrs. J. Claude Leggett presided at the punch bowl and Misses Frances Raynor and Bernell White assisted in serving bridal cakes, lime punch, mints, nuts, pickles and olives.

Mrs. Alton Keel of Everetts served as registrar by the bride's book and Mr. and Mrs. William Manning of Jamesville said the goodbyes.

Russia Spending Much for Defense

Russia is selling gold in a number of places throughout the world, it was reported in Washington recently. Other reports indicated that Russia is also selling diamonds from the imperial jewels. While it is difficult to determine just how much gold has been sold by Russia, piecing together of scattered reports indicate that since the end of the war the Russians have parted with about $200,000,000 in gold.
