

Cotton Support Loans Extended To September 30

(Continued from page one) in an orderly manner, by CCC. "On final liquidation of all cotton in the pools, the net proceeds, if any, after deduction of all advances, interest and accrued costs including storage, insurance and handling charges — will be distributed among the producers whose cotton was placed in the pools, in proportion to the amount of the loans on the cotton placed in such pools," the chairman explains.

Man Charged With Attempt To Break Into Local Home

and they followed the trail for a good ways, losing it in a horse lot. When Chief Roebuck and Officer Chas. Moore went to Wilkins home, they found him in bed with no clothes on. Asked where his clothes were, Wilkins could not produce them. The clothes picked up back of the Roberson home were identified by Wilkins' mother as those belonging to her son.

Wilkins separated from his wife, is said to have served three terms on the roads for law violations in recent months.

Two Positions In Grammar School Yet To Be Filled

(Continued from page one) He and Mrs. Austin are now at home in the teacherage on North Smithwick Street. Mr. Austin, a graduate of N. C. State College, Raleigh, is entering the profession this year. He has already signed up forty-eight pupils, and even though his department contracts a serious housing situation at the beginning of the term, preparations are being made for a high standard course.

Mrs. W. H. Abernathy, who ably volunteered to help relieve the teacher shortage in the elementary department for several years and who resigned the fifth grade teacher position, has agreed to accept the eighth grade, succeeding Grover C. Wood, resigned. Mr. Wood is now with the Corey Plumbing and Heating Company.

Richard Napier of Rockingham has been named to teach mathematics, science and social studies in the high school. A graduate of Brevard and East Carolina Teachers College, taught for two years at Swansboro. He is a married man.

Coast Guard Will Hold Anniversary Event On Friday

(Continued from page one) personalities on hand for the day. Vice Admiral O'Neill, Commandant of the United States Coast Guard forces, will deliver the main address. He will be introduced by Herbert Bonner, Congressman from the first North Carolina District at 2 p. m. Lindsay Warren, Comptroller General and W. Kerr Scott, Governor, are among the invited dignitaries. Edmund Harding, North Carolina's Ambassador of Goodwill, and the squire of the Pamlico, will be there to add his bit to the success of the day.

There'll be bands, music, dancing, singing and everything that goes to make a big occasion successful. The people of Beaufort County will furnish the hospitality in overwhelming measures.

The Washington Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring the event. J. Max Roebuck is general chairman. Mr. Roebuck says that he is expecting thousands of visitors for the day. Everything will be carried out with split second timing.

There is ample room on the miles of shore along the beautiful Pamlico so that visitors may watch the spectacular events in comparative comfort from Washington park.

County and Towns Share In Special Tax Distribution

Officials Plan Education Event

Conference on Education in the South.—The governors of the states of Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maryland, Mississippi, North Carolina, Oklahoma, South Carolina, Tennessee, and Virginia have invited the presidents and faculty members of the universities in the South to a meeting to be held at Daytona Beach, Florida, September 4 to 11. The purpose of the meeting, according to a New York Times report, is to devise an agreement specifying the graduate studies each institution is to develop on a regional basis.
