

Official Addresses Local Kiwanians

Lieutenant Governor L. H. Fountain, of the Carolinas District of Kiwanis International, was the guest speaker at the August 3 meeting of the local Kiwanis Club. Fountain, an outstanding attorney of Tarboro, who was nominated in the recent Democratic Primary as a candidate to succeed himself in the State Senate, spoke in general on the objectives of Kiwanis International, and more specifically on the 1950 theme of the organization centered around "Aggressive citizenship, and the safe guarding of freedom".

Touching on Communism as the major threat to freedom, Fountain said that the world today is engaged in a contest to determine "Whether the philosophy of Karl Marx or that of Jesus Christ shall prevail. — The mask has been removed from the face of Communism and during recent years we have come to know Communism for what it is". He then suggested the field of Religion, Education and Legislation as being the primary fronts on which this threat to freedom must be met.

"History has never recorded the downfall of a nation whose people got down on their knees and prayed for help", Fountain said he stressed the need for a spiritual revival among those who cherish the privileges of freedom. He followed this appeal with pleas for a more practical educational program and for more active interest in government which in a Democracy is everybody's business.

Attacking the negative approach in the battle of freedom, Fountain told the Kiwanians that "We must work for right things; not merely against wrong things". He appealed to the group to work together unselfishly toward the good end by citing Biblical reference. "We must live by the sweat of our brow", he said, "Not by the sweat of our neighbor's brow".

Fountain was introduced to the club by Vice-president Garland Woolard who presided over the meeting in the absence of Club President, C. B. Clark, Jr.

The meeting convened when W. C. Manning led the group in the singing of one verse of "America" after which Rev. Tom Hastings pronounced the invocation. Following a delicious supper prepared and served by the Ladies of the Sarah Manning Circle of the Christian Church, James Manning was proclaimed to be the winner of the club attendance award.

The next regular meeting of the club will be held on August 17.

'Flying Tigers' Key Warner Epic

Jobs Are Secured For Thousands of School Graduates

Agency In State Places 2,500 Graduates In Jobs In Past Six Months

Raleigh.—More than 2500 graduates of colleges, high schools and business and commercial schools have been placed in suitable jobs, most of them from the crop of May and June graduates, through direct action by the local employment offices of the Employment Security Commission of North Carolina during the first six months of this year.

Information that placements have been made of 395 four-year college graduates, 91 two-year (Junior) college graduates, 271 graduates of business and commercial colleges and 1761 graduates of high schools, all in North Carolina, is contained in a report made by Ernest C. McCracken, director of the N. C. State Employment Service Division, and announced by ESC Chairman Henry E. Kendall.

The report also shows placements have been made of college graduates as follows: University of North Carolina, 65; N. C. State College, 61; Wake Forest, 51; Duke University, 25; Catawba College, 20; Agricultural and Technical College, Greensboro, 19; Elon College, 16; High Point College, 11; and from junior colleges: Peace College, 14, and Mitchell College, Statesville, and Mars Hill College, 10 each. Practically every college, business and commercial college and high school in the State is represented among the graduates placed, while scores of colleges throughout the country are also represented in the North Carolina residents placed in suitable and satisfactory jobs in the State.

These jobs are the first secured by the young people since their graduation. The work has been done by local employment office staffs, who worked in close harmony with the colleges and the Placement Bureau operated by many of them.

Most of the placements were made in the home communities of the graduates, but numbers of them were sent to other communities in the State through the State clearance system. Only a few of the State's graduates were sent to other states, and then only when work was not available in North Carolina and the graduates requested clearance to other states. Too, numbers of graduates, suitably placed in jobs, found places for their friends who joined them, but no records of such jobs show up in the Employment Service reports.

Efforts have been made to keep as many of the State's graduates in the State as possible, to give the State the advantage of the training they have received and of the cost in giving them this training. Local office personnel have given tests to determine abilities, counseled the graduates, advised them of jobs available now or later and otherwise assisted them in finding their proper places in the State's economy.

Farm Income Is Up 25 Percent

Heavy consumer buying and the Korean war caused a 25 percent spurt in farmer's cash receipts in July, the Agriculture Department reported.

The department estimated receipts at $2,300 million, 25 percent above the June level, and nearly the same as July, 1949.

Last week, the department reported a 6.5 percent rise in the level of prices received by farmers for their crops during the month ended July 15.

The department said cash receipts during the first seven months of 1950 may total $12,900 million, which includes $8,300 million from sale of livestock and products, and $4,600 million from sale of crops. The seven months' total would be a 7 percent decline from the like period of 1949.

July receipts from sale of livestock and products were estimated at $1,300 million, 8 percent below a year ago. Crop receipts were placed at $7 billion, twice the June level, but slightly below July, 1949.

The department estimated that total cash receipts for 1949 were
