PEANUT SUPPORT

Peanut prices are to be supported at slightly higher levels this year than last, but the increase is negligible. The basic support rate this year is 10.8 cents a pound or $216 a ton as compared with 10.5 cents a pound or $210 a ton last year.

There'll be no penalty on excess acreage production, provided the acreage is not in excess of the 1947 plantings.

Mrs. Georgia Neese Clark, treasurer of the United States, will be one of the featured speakers at North Carolina Farm and Home Week, to be held on the State College campus in Raleigh from July 31 through August 3.

FIRST TOBACCO.

Williamston warehouses will be opened early Wednesday morning, August 16, to receive the first tobacco for sale on the opening, Friday, August 18, it was announced today. "We would be glad to open the houses earlier, but we earnestly believe the tobacco will be in better condition when it is not placed on the floors too far ahead of the sales," local warehousemen explained.

It was announced that the market will not book space this season, the operators explaining that the system had its disadvantages in the past. "We are all set and ready to go and anticipate a good season," the market operators said today.

supplemented from the regional library service shelves. Magazine and newspaper subscriptions have just about disappeared from the library on account of a fund shortage.

In 1939, the town gave the library $50 and in 1942 only $25 was appropriated. However, in 1943 the town appropriated $300 and as a result of action taken this week, nearly $1,000 will be given the library by the town.

Mrs. Cooke said that approximately $1,000 had been spent annually in keeping the library open since 1938.

The need for the library was pointed out when Mrs. Cooke said that 154 books were circulated in a 5-hour period this week. Boy Scouts, recognizing the need for enlarged facilities, have started a building fund, a late report stating that the youngsters had raised about $4.00.

ENLISTS

Leslie George Godard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Grover Godard of Williamston, enlisted for service in the U. S. Army and Air Force at Raleigh a few days ago.

Reviews History Of Library Here

Discussing local library facilities before a meeting of the town board of commissioners here Tuesday evening, Mrs. J. C. Cooke, member of the library committee, told about the growth of the institution and outlined its pressing needs.

The library was opened in the spring of 1938 after a public subscription netted $306. Shelves were placed in the Legion Hut and 600 books were borrowed from the Library Commission. In the first two weeks, according to Mrs. Cooke, 251 book borrowers were on the library list. Two years later the list had grown to 933 borrowers, and now there are more than 1,300 patrons.

Although its funds have been limited and public support has not measured up to expectations, the library now owns 2,374 books, but the list has been liberally
