Delusion: The idea that if the U. S. had said a few kind words for Chiang Kai-shek the gentleman would still be master of China.

Nothing increases the admiration of children for their parents like a large estate for division among the heirs.

There is no use trying to regulate the world unless you first demonstrate that you can regulate and control yourself.

The world of literature is crammed with wonderful ideas but none of them will jump into your brain unless you hunt them up.

It may sound foolish but we rise to suggest that the nation which spends $30,000,000,000 on plans for warfare can afford to spend large sums on plans for human living.

Happiest People

Every person in the world may not be a personage; but every person may become a personality. The happiest people are those who think the most interesting thoughts. Interesting thoughts can live only in cultivated minds. Those who decide to use leisure as a means of mental development, who love good music, good books, good pictures, good plays at the theatre, good company, good conversation—what are they? They are the happiest people in the world; and they are not happy in themselves, they are the cause of happiness in others. —William Lyon Phelps.

Throttling Free Enterprise

Possibly in no other industry has Free Enterprise been so loudly proclaimed in theory and so bitterly throttled than by the steel barons. Grabbing and apparently holding by pressure coveted positions, the steel magnates have fought the common worker, maintained a virtual monopoly and gained all kinds of concessions, the latest being a delay in excess profits tax levies.

Henry J. Kaiser, the lone wolf who would dare tackle the Pittsburgh barons in an effort to help relieve the steel shortage, found the going mighty tough. However, he came through to prove his point, but the big monopolists held and still hold the coveted position. Kaiser borrowed money from the government and built steel plants in the West. He has paid the government 21 million dollars in interest and has made arrangements to retire the loan in its entirety.

While Kaiser dared go ahead in the name of Free Enterprise, the big companies waited for the government to build its own plants and then took them over for the proverbial song. Records show that the government invested $527,000,000 in steel mills and that one big steel company gobbled them up for $148,000,000.

It is perfectly all right for the government to hand over $379,000,000 to the steel moguls, but we are told by the same steel barons that it is socialism when the government supports farm prices or takes steps to relieve human suffering.

Popular Young Man

St. Louis Star-Times

A six-foot nine-inch Kansas boy who scored some 1,300 points as a high school basketball player was invited to enroll at 12 different universities, including St. Louis. He chose Kansas University for reasons that the dispatches failed to explain. His case though, offers a sort of rule-of-thumb guide to a basketball prospect's popularity: one and a fraction university invitations for every inch over six feet—a little less than one for every 100 points in his high school score book. This does not rule out entirely, of course, the possibility that a boy from Medicine Lodge, Kan., could attract attention with an outstanding record in the romance languages, say, or solid geometry.

'Reason' for the Korean War

William Schmidt, Chicago managing editor of "Free Enterprise," weekly paper of the Property Owners' Association of America, explained the Korean war to a group of Milwaukee property owners the other night.

"The war in Korea," Schmidt said, "is merely an incident. It was started by the maneuvering of bureaucrats in Washington for one purpose—the extension of rent control."

Now, we hope, you've heard everything. —Milwaukee Journal.

Perpetual

Whatever the consequences, something approaching perpetual motion is gradually coming into reality. Just about the time we finish beating swords into plowshares, we have to turn and start beating farm machinery into guns and tanks.

There just seems to be no end to the costly business, but some guy'll come along and say such a crazy pattern will provide employ-

Want a long run for your money?

Better Buy Buick!

YOU want a new car to be tops in things like style and room and comfort and power——and a thrill-packed fifteen minutes with the nimble number pictured here will show you it has all these things in abundant measure.

So you ask us—how about money? What does it cost to buy a Buick—and to own one?

All right—let us ask you some questions.

Take first cost. Do you know that Buick prices start down at a level below what you'd pay for some sixes—and that every Buick, on a cents-per-pound basis, is a standout buy?

Take operating cost. Do you know that the bang you'll get from Buick's Fireball power comes from a valve-in-head engine—recognized by engineers as a thrifty saver of fuel?

Do you know that owners of 1950 Buicks are writing us rave letters, saying that this year's version is the most economical Buick ever built?

Do you know that such comfort features as coil springs on all four wheels protect the car as well as the passengers—and throw in an extra saving because they need no servicing, and are practically breakproof to boot?

Do you know that Dynaflo®—in addition to keeping you fresh as a daisy on a day-long drive—caps its convenience with savings on tires, cuts down the strain on

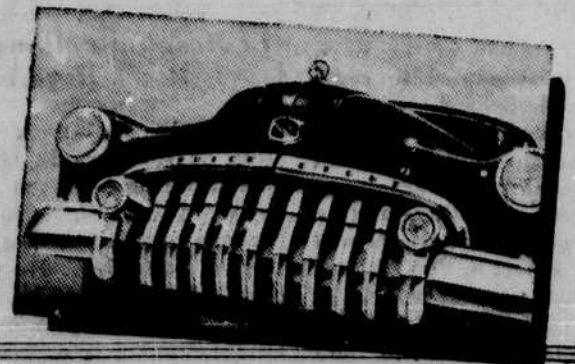

* Dynaflo Drive is standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on SUPER and SPECIAL models.

FOUR-WAY FOREFRONT—This rugged front end (1) sets the style note, (2) saves on repair costs—vertical bars are individually replaceable, (3) avoids "locking horns," (4) makes parking and garaging easier.

transmissions and engines—and eliminates all friction clutch repairs, because it hasn't any?

Take final cost. Do you know that when the owner of a Buick gets a yen for a later model, the prices that Buicks command on a used-car lot are the ultimate proof of their long-run value?

So if you want a real run for your money, better buy Buick. And the first step is very simple: Go see your Buick dealer—soon—and get an order signed.
