MISS ALLIE HARDEN WEDS DR. MCGOWAN

In a ceremony of beauty and dignity, the marriage of Miss Allie Harden and Dr. Claudius McGowan was solemnized on Thursday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock in the Methodist Church in Plymouth, N. C. The Rev. Dwight L. Fouts was the officiating minister.

The church was decorated with ferns, standards of large white chrysanthemums and tiers of cathedral candles giving the stately beauty which prevailed throughout the service. A program of nuptial music was rendered by Mr. J. Sheppard Brinkley as organist. His selections included, "I Love Thee" by Grieg - "On Wings of Song", by Mendelssohn, "Ave Maria" by Schubert and "Liebestraum" by Liszt.

The traditional wedding marches were used. Mrs. Ralph P. Hardee of Ayden as soloist, gowned in heavenly blue crepe and head-dress of nylon Tulle and net with shoulder corsage of pink roses, sang "Until" by Sanderson, and "Because" by De Hardelet.

Acting as ushers were Mr. Eric Metzenthin, of Charlotte, son-in-law of the groom, Dr. Ernest W. Ferguson and Mr. Ervin Beam of Plymouth and Dr. John Cotton Tayloe of Washington, N. C.

The bride's attendants were Mrs. Charles E. Blair of Greenville, N. C., and Mrs. Eric Metzenthin, daughter of the groom. They wore formal dinner dress of American Beauty and sunset blue crepe respectively with matching head dress and gloves and carried cascade bouquets of bronze chrysanthemums tied with matching ribbon. Miss Harden chose as her maid of honor, her sister, Mrs. Charles Thomas Gurkin of Plymouth. She wore Aqua Crepe dinner dress with matching head-dress and gloves, and carried a cascade bouquet of yellow chrysanthemums tied with matching ribbon.

The bride entered with her brother, William Roy Harden who gave her in marriage and was met at the altar by the groom who was accompanied by Dr. Thomas Latham Bray of Plymouth as best man.

The bride's wedding gown was exquisite with its fitted bodice of ivory satin and appliqued panels of venise lace that extended to bottom of the skirt. Her very full skirt of skinner satin ended in a wide circular semi-train. Her finger tip veil of bridal illusion fell from a tiara of seed pearls and rhine stones. She carried a shower bouquet of garza mums centered with two white orchids with ruby throats.

For the wedding the groom's mother and the bride's mother were becomingly dressed in black crepe and wore corsages of white roses.

Mrs. McGowan is the attractive and popular daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Harden of near Plymouth. She received her education at Jamesville High School and Campbell College and has held responsible positions with Z. V. Norman, Atty. At Law, in Plymouth, N. C.; Roberson Little and Co., and Guaranty Bank and Trust Co., of Robersonville and for the past few years has been connected with the Guaranty Bank and Trust Co., of Greenville, N. C.

Dr. McGowan, son of Mrs. Martha Ann Harris and the late Lemon McGowan of Plymouth, was educated at the University of N. C., and was graduated from the Medical College of Virginia in 1917. He was a member of Phi Rho Sigma Medical fraternity. He served with the 82nd division in world war I and was honorably discharged in 1919. Since

Miss Willie Mae Cherry Becomes Bride of Mr. Irvin Clifford Griffin

Washington, N. C.—Miss Willie Mae Cherry and Irvin Clifford Griffin of Williamston were married in a candlelight ceremony in the Tranter's Creek Christian Church Thanksgiving afternoon.

Miss cherry is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William B. Cherry of Washington, and Mr. Griffin is the son of Mr. and Mrs. S. Claude Griffin of Williamston. The wedding vows were spoken before the Rev. M. Elmore Turner, pastor of the First Christian Church of Washington.

Wedding music was furnished by Mrs. Kenneth Roberson of Robersonville, soloist, and Miss Dot Wilson, pianist.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Cecil Cherry. Her wedding gown of white slipper satin was fashioned with a round net yoke and satin berthas. The fitted bodice was fastened by tiny satin buttons in the back and the long sleeves formed points over the hands. Her veil of illusion was attached to a coronet of seed pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of white bridal roses centered with an orchid.

Mrs. Robert Paramore of Chocowinity was her sister's matron of honor. Mrs. Paramore wore a strapless formal gown of deep rose taffeta. The dress was fashioned with moulded bodice with Nile green pleated in the waist line, forming a bustle effect at the back. She used a taffeta stole jacket, matching mitts and bandeau of green satin.

Miss Helen Gaskins of New Bern and Mrs. Beverly Congleton of Stokes were bridesmaids. They wore dresses in shades of Nile green taffeta with deep rose satin trim. Bandeaux and mitts matched the honor attendant's.

The bride's attendants carried nosegays of mixed autumn flowers tied with matching ribbons. Mary Jasper Cherry and Ann Jackson Cherry were miniature bridesmaids. They wore dainty light yellow taffeta dresses with fitted waists and ruffled berthas. They carried puffs of flowers tied with soft green ribbon.

Clyde Griffin of Williamston served his brother as best man. Ushers were Evan Griffin, cousin of the bridegroom, and Marvin Cherry, brother of the bride.

Following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Cherry entertained at a reception at her home near Washington.

The bride attended Louisburg Junior College and was graduated from Meredith College in Raleigh. She is now teaching at the Chocowinity school. Mr. Griffin is a graduate of the University of North Carolina and is associated with the Martin Supply Store of Williamston, where the couple will make their home following their wedding trip. For traveling the bride changed to a wine dressmaker suit with black accessories and wore the orchid lifted from her wedding bouquet.
