

Busy Day Certain For Officials And The County Court

Peel, tax supervisor, E. S. Peel, county attorney, and John Bland, county home superintendent, are expected. The commissioners' calendar carries very little other business, but by the time officers' bonds are approved and routine matters are handled, the authorities will have spent a greater part of the day in their meeting.

Tax Supervisor Peel is to appoint the township listtakers and they'll meet later in the month to make preparations for handling the 1951 property listings.

THE RECORD SPEAKS . . .

With only one redeeming feature—fewer deaths—the 1950 highway-street accident record is going from bad to worse in this county. There have been fifty more accidents this year than last, twenty-five more persons injured and the property loss is greater by more than $10,000.

The following tabulation offers a comparison of the accident trend: first, by corresponding weeks in this year and last and for each year to the present time.

49th Week
Accidents	Inj'd	Killed	Dam'ge
1950	8	5	0	$ 850
1949	6	3	0	2,040
Comparisons To Date
1950	173	79	3	$37,140
1949	123	54	5	27,075

Guidance Director Speaks to P. T. A. Monday Evening

On the matter of status, he said, it is important that both parents and teachers make the child feel he has a place in society. After a child reaches the adolescent age, Mr. Fuller said, it would help to have them in on decisions, especially those concerning large purchases. It would help to give them a feeling of belonging.

Another thing he warned both parents and teachers against, was the urge to trap a child and put him in a position where he would be tempted or even forced to tell a lie.

farm work, the officers saying at the time that Andrews, being partially blind, could do only so much. Turning to Worsley, Officer Holloman recalls a merry chase, the alleged attacker making good his escape in a swamp in the Parmele section.

He was later trailed over into Pitt County where he was advanced money to finance his getaway.

It is not known how long it will take for the extradition papers to clear but Sheriff Holloman is making every possible effort to have the man returned to the county for trial during the one-week term of the Martin County Superior Court opening on December 11. The officer is not expecting any delay in executing the proper papers for Worsley's return.

Boy Scouts Report Their Activities

Troop 218-Bear Grass

The Scout Troop 218 of Bear Grass has been growing fast. We now have 21 active members even though we have been organized only about one year.

Our Scoutmaster, Clayton Revels, is a good and faithful worker with us. He has made us feel that we are the best troop in Martin County.

Our meetings are every Monday night at 7:00 o'clock, and we usually dismiss about 8:45 o'clock.

Clifford Britton, Scribe

Troop 27

On Sunday some of the Boy Scouts of Troop 27 and Troop 29 went out to the cemetery where Little Bear was buried for a dedication of his stone. Our guests were Little Bear's father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Jeffrey Michaud from Maine and we were all delighted to meet them.

The regular meeting of the Boy Scouts of Troop 27 started at 7:05 Tuesday night.

Dickie Clayton led the troop in the Scout Oath and Law. Joe Clayton read a chapter from the Bible to the Troop.

Enoch Crisp took up dues.

Mr. Matthews, our Scoutmaster, thanked the boys that went out to the stone dedication. Mrs. Dunning of Williamston lent Mr. and Mrs. Michaud a room and did not charge the Scouts or them anything. For this favor we thank Mrs. Dunning very much.

We also have new flags and stands for the troop.

A vote was taken on having a Christmas party and we will probably draw names next week.

Scribe, James Pittman.

Confined To Home

Mr. Wm. Dave Manning, confined to his home for several years, has been quite ill for about two weeks.

Stars meet, with fire in their eyes in "All About Eve," all-star satire on the Broadway theatre and a handful of its topmost personalities arriving soon at the Watts Theatre Sunday for three days. Bette Davis, reigning queen of the New York theatre, meets up with a fledgling actress with more talent than scruples. She's Anne Baxter, bent for the top of her profession, no matter what it costs whom. In the Darryl F. Zanuck production, too, are George Sanders, Celeste Holm, Gary Merrill, Hugh Marlowe, Gregory Ratoff, Thelma Ritter, Marilyn Monroe, Barbara Bates and Walter Hampden. Joseph L. Mankiewicz wrote and directed for Twentieth Century-Fox.

uation for any young man to find himself in, we'd like to know what is. It seems hopeless, but after many laughable situations, everything finally straightens out to everybody's satisfaction through the common sense advice of the girls' grandmother. Those taking part in the play are Joyce Harris, the mother, James Ausbon, the father, April, the eldest daughter, May, the next daughter, June, the next in line, Taris, the next, and last but not least comes Little Leona, the little cowgirl of the family. The Grandmother is portrayed by Louise Bowen, and the fellow doing all the courting is Jimmy Terry, as Donald Regan. The most peculiar one is Aunt Etta, the old maid.

The curtain rises promptly at eight o'clock. The tickets are 35 cents for adults and 20 cents for elementary students. Remember the date, and don't let anything else interfere with your coming to see "He Couldn't Marry Five."

Elbert Shannon Griffin, son of Mr. Elbert Griffin, is receiving treatment in Shriners Hospital in Greehville, South Carolina. He is expected to undergo treatment there for at least four months.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Olmstead of Portsmouth visited Mrs. Olmstead's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Taylor, here over the week-end.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to express my sincere thanks to all of our friends for the kindness shown my son while he was ill at home. Each card, gift and flower was deeply appreciated by Ronnie.
