

Nut Referendum On December 14

Peanut growers of North Carolina and other states will vote December 14 in a referendum on peanut marketing quotas. Persons eligible to vote include all farm owners, operators, or sharecroppers who were entitled to share in the proceeds from a crop of peanuts produced during 1950, on a farm with a picked or threshed acreage of more than one acre. G. T. Scott, State chairman of the Production and Marketing Administration, explains that if two-thirds of the votes are favorable, quotas will be in effect for the 1951, 1952, and 1953 crops of peanuts unless the Secretary of Agriculture determines that quotas for one or more of these years should be terminated because of increased demand or a national emergency. If more than one-third of the growers oppose, quotas will not be used for the 1951 peanut crop. In this case, another referendum will be held next fall for the following three peanut crops. If quotas are approved, price supports on the 1951 crop of peanuts must be set at a level between 80 and 90 percent of parity as of August 1, 1951, the beginning of the next marketing year. If quotas are not approved, the law requires that the level of support be set at 50 percent of parity. Scott says growers will be notified of the 1951 acreage allotment established for their farms prior to the voting on December 14. In general, he asserts, the 1951

Chevrolet Trucks Reveal 1951 Advances

Typical of improved 1951 Chevrolet trucks is this heavy-duty stake model (Series 6409). Newly designed heavy-duty stake model (Series 6409). Newly designed "Twin-Action" brakes on rear wheels assure increased braking effectiveness and longer life. Adjustable panels for better ventilation and a new spring seat construction are among other high spots.

Screen's Cleverest Canine Featured

Zoro, the Greenland husky canine of "Timber Fury," film version of James Oliver Curwood's thrilling story of the north country, "Retribution," is considered by his trainer, Jimmy Griffin, to be the biggest ham in Hollywood. He loves applause and is actually unhappy when he isn't before the cameras or on the stage. He'll go through his repertoire of tricks: the barest signal from Griffin, and occasionally does a few on an unasked-for basis when enough people are around to appreciate same. Almost human in intelligence, Zoro can do almost anything. He'll carry a cigarette to the designated person. He can type, growls over the telephone after knocking the receiver off the hook. He knows his cues and allotment will be based on the 1950 allotment established for the farm.

The State allotment for 1951 is 188,451 acres, compared with a 1950 allotment of 225,202 acres. The decrease reflects the downward trend in overall requirements for peanuts and will necessitate a moderate downward adjustment in most farm allotments from the 1950 level.

Smiley Sings In A New Western

Two of the three songs sung by Smiley Burnette in Columbia Pictures' "Outcast of Black Mesa," which also stars Charles Starrett at the Watts Theatre, are of his own composition. They are "Donkey Engine" and "Nobody Fires the Boss," both unpublished. The third song, "Just Sittin' Around in Jail," is by Frances Clark and also is unpublished. Will play Saturday at the Watts.
