Left-Over Turkey

After the turkey has made its appearance for dinner on Thanksgiving Day it may lose some of its appeal if served again in a similar way. Since there are so many ways to serve left-over turkey no homemaker can be excused from the economical use of the whole bird.

Creamed turkey on hot waffles will make a perfect luncheon for the day after Thanksgiving.

Ace Threesome In Drama At Viccar

Three of Hollywood's top talents aided and abetted producer-director-writer Kurt Neumann in the making of Lippert Productions "Rocketship XM" (Expedition Moon), the new space ship saga that is garnering rave notices with the same ease as the New York Yankees capture pennants.

The film, the exciting story of man's first attempt at interplanetary travel, opens today at the Viccar Theatre.

The trio are Karl Struss, cinematographer par excellence, film editor Harry Gerstad, and composer Ferde Grofe.

Struss was recently selected by his colleagues in the American Society of Cinematographers to photograph in the Academy public relations short of cameramen. Considered one of the top men behind a camera in the business, Struss was greatly responsible for the excellent quality of the negative.

starts after the death of Wild Bill Hickok. Calamity's one and only true love. All the action takes place in and near Deadwood, South Dakota, the town where Hickok was killed, and where both are buried today.

According to Hollywood, no effort was spared to reconstruct the town of Deadwood as it was during Calamity's heyday. Her saloon, the Prairie Queen, and the guns, knives, watches, ladies' fans, lamps furniture, traveling bags, and other paraphernalia of the period were produced as faithfully as possible. Calamity's own pistol and rifle will be seen and heard blazing away, just as they did years ago. The pistol is a cap and ball Remington, the rifle was made by Winchester. Both Guns, in excellent condition, were located in Hollywood, in the possession of a Mr. Bill Hudeman.

Marshall Plan Benefits South

The Marshall plan for European recovery has brought nearly a billion and a half dollars to the agricultural economy of the South in the past two years, the Federal Reserve Bank of Richmond reports in an article in the December issue of its "Monthly Review."

Of the $4,400,000,000 of Marshall plan expenditures authorized to purchase agricultural commodities in America during that time, the article states, $1,128,000, 000 has been allocated for cotton and $369,000,000 for tobacco.

The article was written for the "Monthly Review" by Horace G. Porter, senior agricultural economist of the Reserve Bank's research department. Porter recently returned from Europe, where for two years he had been on loan to the Economic Cooperation Administration as a cotton specialist.

Pointing out the Marshall plan's effects on the remarkable recovery in European industry and agriculture, Porter stresses the importance of the program to the South, and the Fifth Federal Reserve District in particular. The Fifth District includes Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, and the District of Columbia.

Before World War II Western European countries took about 60 per cent of American exports of cotton and 75 per cent of the country's exports of tobacco, Porter points out.

"Fifth District cotton and tobacco farmers know from sad experience what it means to lose, even temporarily, their European market," he says. "It is more difficult in times like these for them to know how much of their present prosperity is the result of European purchases of cotton, tobacco, and other farm products."

"There is no doubt, however, that farmers in the Fifth District as well as elsewhere in the United States have been considerably more prosperous in the last few years than they would have been without the Marshall plan."

GI Farm Training Paying Dividends

What does the GI Bill farm training program mean to the Nation?

In North Carolina, its 24,482 veteran-farmer enrollees account for the largest total of any state in the nation. Furthermore 97 of the state's 100 counties have high school instructional units for the veteran-farmers and, in addition, there are 17 city high school instructional units participating.

Typical progress has been shown by a Stanly county veteran-farmer who saw the advisability of soil conversation. It is an accepted fact that it takes 18 bushels of corn to grow one acre of it. His yield used 22 bushels, leaving only four bushels profit. After improving his land through the GI Bill farm training program, he grows 60 bushels per acre. Now he gets 42 bushels profit instead of four.

Interesting Bits Of Business In U. S.

Military expenditures have been over-estimated, analysts state, being nearer to $20-$30 billion annually rather than the $50-$60 billions talked about publicly. Investment bankers, now in Florida for their convention, are confident they will win in the government anti-trust suit charging monopoly. Claims for damages due to the recent storms in the East are expected to hit an all-time record, exceeding 1938 claims of $400,000,000.

Your key to greater hauling profits

There's been a lot of talk in recent weeks about "the buying power of the dollar"—past, present and future.

We can't foretell the future—but we can tell you this right now:

You'll look a long way before you'll find a car that offers as much for the money as you can get in a 1950 Buick.

Close to half a million of these cars have been built and sold this year.

Close to half a million people have checked their features and prices against the field—and decided they'd better buy Buick.

As to prices—they start down below some sixes. And whether you price the SPECIAL, the SUPER or the ROADMASTER, you'll find, on a cents-per-pound basis, that few other cars can touch them for value.

And this is for sure! When it comes to performance—ride—the way they handle and hold the road—and thrifty use of fuel and oil—Buicks have never been finer.

That's another way of saying that coil springs on all four wheels—Dynaflow*—torque-tube drive—and Buick's high-compression, high-economy Fireball power produce an out-of-this-world combination.

So if you want your dollars to do extra duty—the time to act is now.

Look at the price tags—look at the features—sample the power and thrill that you get for your money—and you'll know what we mean.
