DECEMBER 16, 1910
Hubert Morton, of Jamesville spent Sunday in Robersonville.
L. E. Corey spent Monday in Jamesville.

Johnnie Anderson, the clever collector of the City Furniture Company was in Jamesville Tuesday.

G. S. Williams and J. W. Darden, of Jamesville, returned home Saturday from New York and other Northern cities where they have been on business.

Miss Roland Moore and Miss Mamie Taylor, of Everetts, have returned home after visiting in the home of C. B. Harrison.

Gideon Barnhill, of Robersonville, spent Sunday in Everetts with his brother.

Nathan Roberson, of Bear Grass was a visitor in Everetts Thursday.

Last week the Mid-Winter debate between the societies in the Freshman Class at the University occurred at Chapel Hill. The question was the all important one, "Ship Subsidy." Elbert Sidney Peel, the young son of Prof. R. J. Peel, who entered as a freshman, this term, won for himself the distinction of representing his society, taking the negative side. With gift of mind and speech, he easily won over his opponents and was awarded a prize of ten dollars.

The many friends of Miss Lizzie Roberson, of Robersonville, are glad to see her out again after a long illness.

Misses Helen Conleton, Fannie Belle Roberson and Willie H. Crofton, of Robersonville, returned from a visit to Ayden Monday.

Jamesville is the principal point in an important part of Martin County and has within it some very prosperous and progressive citizens. There is located an immense plant of the Dennis Simmons Lumber Company and several other mills. But for some unknown reason it is lacking in educational advantages. It is now the purpose of the people to start an Institute there. Mr. Alexander Corey is preparing folders with application blank attached, which will be mailed to people in different sections of the country. It is hoped to get stock subscribed to the amount of $5,000 to which will be added a like amount, making a $10,000 equipment. Each share of stock is to be worth $10,000. This is a worthy undertaking and will mean much for that section of success is attained.

At the residence of the officiating clergyman, Rev. George H. Spooner, pastor of Monumental Church, Portsmouth, Va., Mr. Jesse T. Price and Miss Minnie Manning were married on December 13th. Mr. Price and Miss Manning left for Norfolk on last Tuesday, presumable for holiday shopping in that city, but their purpose was to be wedded in the popular romantic style. Rumor had it, however, that the young people intended to unite their lives in that manner, so the marriage was not a surprise to many friends. The bride is one of the County's attractive young women and belongs to the Manning family which has produced some of the best citizens of the county. She has, for years, been a successful public school teacher, and the groom is to be congratulated upon his winning her. Mr. Price is well known as the chief clerk in the post office at Williamston, where he has been for years. He is a young man of sterling worth, and enjoys the respect and esteem of all who knew him. He has made a home for himself and mother for several years on West Main street, to which he will carry his bride.

After years of successful management of a large grocery, Joseph A. Mizell has sold out to J. D. Gurganus and will retire to his farm about three miles from Williamston. Mr. Mizell has made many friends by his courteous manners, and by catering to the wants of his patrons. He retires with the good wishes of a large number of friends who will miss him.

The newly inaugurated Board of County Commissioners at their first meeting this week elected Frank Hassell, Esq., county attorney. The selection is an admirable one and also quite an honor to this gentleman.

The Town Commissioners have forbidden the shooting of fire works from Academy to Houghton Street on Main and from Church to Railroad on Smithwick street.

Mrs. P. H. Brown and little daughter, of Jamesville, were in town Sunday.

Messrs. E. B. Darden and Robert Baker, of Hamilton, were in town Sunday.

W. H. Crawford killed nine porkers on Tuesday which were good to see. They averaged 200 lbs. each and were in fine condition. Mr. Crawford is one of the most successful hog raisers in the county.

"Calamity Jane" Due At The Viccar On Sunday

The Texan Meets Calamity Jane, Columbia Pictures' new Cinecolor release, opens Sunday at the Viccar Theatre. Evelyn Ankers and James Ellison head the cast, which also features Lee Lassie White, Ruth Whitney, and Jack Ingram. The film was written, produced and directed by Ande Lamb.
