

Hattie M. Williams Stabbed To Death Here Last Sunday

ered with blood, that he used a paring knife to make the attack. The officers further said that the knife blade was bent and that it must have been driven the full length of the blade and part of the handle into her neck. The victim, it was said, never cried out.

Williams' wife, housekeeper for the Dr. W. C. Mercer family, was held in high esteem and was respected by all who knew her. She was a devoted mother and faithful wife, and feeling ran high among her friends against the husband. While there was no mob action, it was said that small groups expressed the wish they could get their hands on Williams.

The record shows that Williams was in the courts in 1948 for attacking his wife, that later he cut his wife and mother and ran away. No warrant was signed, and last April he was in the court again for attacking his wife. He was sentenced to the roads for six months by Judge R. T. Johnson in the county court.

Williams did not offer to run from the scene of the killing, officers said. It was the third killing in this county in less than three weeks.

No Bond Allowed Dallas James, Jr. On Murder Count

man who is employed in the Pulp Mill at Plymouth told of driving toward Plymouth just about night and seeing three fellows and a woman on the left side of the road and 1 man on the right. None of the other witnesses had said anything about a woman being on the scene when the shooting occurred. Lovic said he was about 100 feet or so beyond the group when he heard a gun fire. He continued on to Plymouth where he planned to visit in the hospital. While at the hospital he learned that Peed had been shot and later was told that the man had died.

Sheriff Holloman said he received a call from Plymouth on the shooting and when he got there found the victim had died. Returning to look for the youth, he found the defendant standing in the road where he said he had been waiting for the sheriff an hour or so. The sheriff quoted Dallas James as saying he got the gun at the tobacco barn and carried it back to a store. He admitted the shooting, the officer told the court, and claimed self-defense.

Some dozen witnesses were recognized to appear at the September term of court but Lovic was told he need not return unless he received further notice.

Two Are Injured In Series Of Car Wrecks In County

parked to the curb in front of the courthouse last Friday morning. Jesse Latham of Washington suffered a painful chest injury, and his son, Leslie Latham, 28, of Williamston was dangerously cut on the thigh when their car went out of control, skidded about 171 yards and turned over four or five times on the River Road about four miles from Hamilton late last Friday night. The father is about ready to leave the hospital, but the son is likely to be there a few more days nursing the 40-stitch cut. Both were bruised and battered. Saunders Griffin, riding in the car, was not hurt. The elder Latham was driving the car which was rendered useless. Patrolman R. P. Narron estimated the damage at about $750 following his investigation. The victims were "laid out" at the scene of the accident for more than an hour, passerbys continuing on their way without offering aid. Finally a truck out of Roanoke Rapids stopped and picked up the injured and delivered them to a Williamston hospital for treatment.

to Miss Helen James of Stokes. Surviving are his widow and two sons, George A. and George J. Harris, all of Williamston. Funeral services were conducted in the Biggs Funeral Home Chapel yesterday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock by the Rev. John L. Goff, pastor of the local Christian church. Interment was in Woodlawn Cemetery.

brought $56.96. Because growers were later in harvesting their crops not as much was ready for market as last year. Volume was fairly heavy on opening day but little was sold for the next two days. Heavy sales are not expected until the latter part of this week.

"Growers turned over about 16 percent of their offerings to the Flue-Cured Stabilization Corporation under the Government loan program. Receipts for the first four days last year were less than 2 percent.

"More lower quality grades were marketed. The amount of nondescript about doubled. Percentages of common leaf, low quality primings, lugs and cutters also increased. There were fewer fancy grades, particularly lugs. Less lemon-colored tobacco was sold and more orange. Common to fair leaf, fair and good lugs, low and fair primings, nondescript and low cutters predominated the sales."

Through last Friday, the Georgia markets had sold 166,352,560 pounds for an average price of $45.46.

later in the week. Plans have not been completed for a further discussion of the issue raised by the Raleigh lawyer and the small group earlier this month. However, various leaders have shown interest in the plan and no doubt, they will be given an opportunity to advance their positions.

PROOF! Gertrude Berg, TV star of The Goldbergs, watched as a full glass of water was placed on one of 837 independent Beautyrest springs. She was amazed that water did not spill when near-by springs were pushed down. Beautyrest is made differently. Springs are "tied together." Result: No sags, just even, "Levelized Support."

PROOF! Above, John Ringling North (President of Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Circus) and circus elephant, "Big Mo." Elephant is hoisting all five tons into air, with rear feet planted on Beautyrest. (Note right foot on edge of mattress.) Yet even this weight failed to break down patented, sag-proof edges. Proof: Beautyrest is built to stand hard use.
