Miss McNaughton Weds Paul Davis

A quite but pretty wedding took place in Long Branch, New Jersey November 30 at 7:30 P. M., when Faye Garby, youngest daughter of Mrs. Malcolm MacNaughton of Liverpool, Nova Scotia, and the late Mr. MacNaughton became the bride of Paul Daniel Davis, son of Mr. Mack Davis and the late Mrs. Davis of Jamesville, North Carolina. The Rev. Arthur Copeland of the First Presbyterian Church officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride wore an ankle length white gown of chantilly lace and rhinestones over satin. Her shoulder length veil was attached to a bandeau of matching lace and orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of red roses.

Mrs. Peter Watt, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a gown of pale green lace over satin. She wore matching gloves and a plaited bandeau and carried a bouquet of yellow chrysanthemums. Peter Watt, brother-in-law of the bride, was best man. The couple left immediately following the ceremony for North Carolina.

Upon their return, Mr. and Mrs.
