

Increased Social Security For 6700 In This Section

Higher Payments Go Into Effect In September For October Delivery

About 6700 people in the Rocky Mount area will receive higher social security payments as a result of the social amendments which President Truman signed into law last Friday. The first increased checks will be for the month of September, delivered early in October.

Marshall Barney, manager of the Rocky Mount social security office, emphasized that no one needs to apply for the increased payments. "The Social Security Administration is already changing the amounts," he pointed out. "We expect to get them changed in time to have them in the mail October 3, the regular delivery date, but if in a few cases we don't meet that schedule we'll send the regular check and make up the difference in a later check."

Mr. Barney pointed out that although nearly every family receiving payments would receive an increase, the additional amount would not always be divided among all the members of the family receiving monthly checks. In some cases the entire increase will go to the retired worker.

Under terms of the law, most families will get an increase of about $5.00, some will get less, some will get more. A few benefits now being paid, and most of those payable in the future, will be based on earnings after 1950 instead of after 1936. The amended law provides a new formula for determining the amount of the payments in these cases. Under it, a retired worker's monthly benefit would be 55 per cent of the first $100 of his average monthly earnings plus 15 per cent of the remainder up to $300.

Beginning September 1, the new law increased to $75 a month instead of $50 the amount of money a beneficiary may earn and still receive the monthly benefits. Self-employed people entitled to old-age and survivors insurance benefits may receive the payments for each month of the year if their net earnings during the entire year are not over $900.

The amended law contains a provision of special importance to self-employed people who have retired or plan to retire during 1952. Before the passage of the law, a self-employed person could not receive benefits until he was 62 years old. The new law provides that a self-employed person can receive benefits at age 62 if he has worked for at least 10 years in covered employment.

Farm Meeting To Be Held July 31st

One of the larger farm meetings scheduled in the county this summer will take place Thursday, July 31, when members and patrons of the Martin FCX Service will gather at the Williamston High School.

J. W. Snead, local FCX manager, explained that these membership meetings are held every third year. In addition to hearing a report on the operation of their cooperative, the farmers will also elect a local board of directors to serve a three-year term in an advisory capacity to the FCX manager.

Also scheduled during the business session will be the election of county delegates to attend a meeting where this district's representative on the central board of directors of the Farmers Cooperative Exchange will be nominated. Election of central board members will take place at the annual two-state meeting of the FCX in Raleigh September 9.

M. G. Mann of Raleigh, general manager of the farm organization, said considerable changes have been made in this year's series of county meetings.

Heretofore, he said, the meetings have been held during the afternoon. This year the meeting of FCX patrons in the Martin area will be held at 8 p. m., as will all other county meetings of the organization.

Also, he pointed out, the practice of serving a barbecue picnic will be discontinued. Instead light refreshments will be substituted and a prize drawing held. Grand prize in the drawing will be a 9-cubic-foot farm freezer. Lesser prizes will also be awarded.

Nine Thousand Immunized Against Typhoid In County

Between nine and ten thousand persons in this county were immunized against typhoid fever during the recent drive in this county, according to a report released this week by Health Officer John W. Williams. Although no special clinics are being held for that purpose, Dr. Williams explained that the protection is still available at the county health office in Williamston any week day, at Robersonville each Wednesday afternoon, and during the scheduled baby clinics in Jamesville, Hamilton and Oak City.

Commenting on the drive, the health officer said: "We have been very fortunate in controlling the fever in this county, and while immunization has played its part, sanitation, especially as it relates to water supply and proper disposal of excreta, is still about the safest way to control the fever."

"The installation of septic tanks and pit privies is important, and it is suggested that the county sanitarian be consulted before installations are made," the doctor said.

Few cases of the fever have been reported in this county in recent years, but the disease was common not too many years ago. As many as 15,000 persons were immunized in the county in single years, and the number of cases dwindled rapidly. Much progress has been made in eliminating those conditions that invite the fever, but unfortunately all such conditions have not been relieved. Until they are handled, immunization is advisable, health authorities point out.

Get The Children Ready For School

Pointing out that the new school term will get under way in five or six weeks, Dr. John W. Williams, county health officer, appealed to all parents to get their children ready for school.

With the exception of Robersonville, all districts where the beginners were examined in the pre-school clinics, have been visited by health department personnel who appealed to the parents to have remedial defects corrected. Most of those physical defects have been corrected, but there are a few victims who have not been able to finance the costs. Dr. Williams pointed out that it is possible for the health department and the board of education to lend some assistance, and such cases should be referred to the department, he said.

Snakes Attack Loggers Again

Several Martin County loggers, working in the Indian Woods area of Bertie County, were threatened a second time by rattle snakes late Tuesday afternoon. Several of the logging crew turned from their saws and axes and started out of the woods.

Killing two fairly sizable reptiles, Junior Perry, heading the logging crew, told his workers that if any more snakes appeared the work project would be abandoned. With one eye on their work and the other on the alert for snakes, the crew finished its task for the day.

Tobacco Target Of Hot-Dry Weather In Section

Started back in late April and nearly May under ideal weather conditions, the tobacco crop has been a target of first cold then extremely hot and dry weather, farmers declaring that the resulting damage will run into several millions of dollars.

The crop is possibly above par in some sections of this county, but for the most part it is far below par, farmers declaring that it will be from 15 to 20 per cent short of expectations with the quality rating about the poorest in years.

With a few exceptions the harvest is now in full swing, reports declaring that the crop is beginning to break down fast under the extreme dry-hot weather. A few farmers say they'll harvest the first of their tobacco this week-end. Farmer Toba Bowen completed the harvest in one field this week, and he isn't at all encouraged by what he got.

County Exceeds Goal For the Cancer Fund

Total Of $2,151.07 Received During Recent Campaign

Nine Districts Exceed Their Quotas To Carry County Over The Top

As a result of the faithful work of canvassers and a liberal response by hundred of persons, Martin County recently exceeded its quota in the 1952 cancer fund drive, it was announced this week by W. Clyde Griffin, treasurer.

Without an assigned chairman, the drive got started under the direction of Mrs. Chas. I. Harris and Miss Irene Tetterton of Williamston with able volunteers coming to their aid in a concerted drive to go over the top.

In a final report released this week it was explained that $2,151.07 had been raised, the amount exceeding the $2,150 quota by $1.07. It was also pointed out that nine of the districts—Jamesville, Williams, Griffins, Bear Grass, Cross Roads, Poplar Point, Hassell, Hamilton and Goose Nest—exceeded their quotas, that by their action, the county goal was achieved.

Late reports show that Williamston raised $900.06 of its $975.00 quota, and Robersonville raised $255.07 of a $325.00 goal. The Williamston report just recently released in its entirety lists the following canvassers and the amounts raised by them:

Democrats Start Nominating Talks In Chicago Today

Seventeen Candidates Advance Claim To Presidential Nomination

With most of their squabbles over and without too many serious wounds, delegates are hearing speeches at the Democratic national convention in Chicago today. Seventeen candidates are still laying claim to the Presidential nomination, but support for Governor Adlai Stevenson's selection continues to mount. However, Kefauver and the Harriman followers are working to cut in on Stevenson's strength, and just what course the convention will follow from now on is uncertain.

From six to eight hours will be required to clear the nominating speeches with the possibility that balloting will get under way tonight. If the trend is uncertain at the close of the speeches, it is likely that balloting will be held over until tomorrow, placing the convention in order for adjournment sometime late in the day.

The platform was given approval without a big fight, the action coming somewhat as a surprise. The big squabble centered around a "loyalty pledge" which was inflated beyond reason. South Carolina, one of three states holding out against the pledge, was said to have favored secession, but when the convention resumed its work at 11:00 o'clock this morning the delegates were in their seats. The pledge, as it was explained, merely asked the delegates to see that no names appear on the Democratic ticket other than those of nominees or those of electors pledged by the Democratic party.

After withdrawing from the race for the nomination, Alben Barkley was given a great ovation last night when he addressed the convention.

Little League Will Send All Star Unit To Tarboro Park

Same Team Will Play Next Month In Greenville In District Eliminations

Little League All-Stars are being asked to meet at the George Reynolds Hotel at 4:45 on Monday afternoon, July 28, in full uniform so that they can be carried to Tarboro on the Williams-Green Wave bus for a game with a Tarboro team at 6:30. All coaches and officials interested in going with the players are asked to be at the Hotel no later than 5:00.

All Little League players who did not make the All-Star team should be at the City Hall at 5:00 o'clock. They are to wear their uniforms if they wish although they will not be permitted to go on the playing field in Tarboro. League officials are also asking that all local people attending the game in Tarboro go by the City Hall before leaving town and to pick up several of the boys and take them along as their guests to the game.

Under the direction of Ed Rowland as manager and Clyde Manning as assistant manager, the little league all-stars are as follows: James Murray Strawbridge, Daniel A. Manning, Benjamin F. McKeel, J. Donald Howard, pitchers, Billy Ray Bowen and Joseph W. Griffin, Jr., catchers, and the following fielders: Joel Muse, Jr., John W. Wells, Hugh Raynor, Shelton Chesson, Gerald Robertson, Jerry Mack Rawls, Roy Rogerson, L. Carlyle Brown.

The same group will travel to Greenville the first week in August for the District I playoffs and if successful there will go on to Wilmington for the State playoffs.

The game in Tarboro has no doubt the tournament play that will give the local team a chance to find how it stacks up against outside competition. It is believed that the local boys will make a good showing as it has a fairly strong pitching staff and the batting averages of most of the players are good.

Mrs. Wm. Spencer Dies In Hospital

Mrs. Susan Eudora Sears Spencer, mother of Dr. J. L. Spencer, a former resident of Williamston, died in a Norfolk hospital Wednesday morning at 5:15 o'clock following a ten-day illness.

Mrs. Spencer made many friends in Williamston while visiting her son during his residency here.

Funeral services will be conducted at the Graham Funeral Home in South Norfolk Friday afternoon at 1:00 o'clock. Interment will be in Riverside Memorial Park.
