Living Beyond Our Means

There's little doubt but what most of us are living beyond our means. For most of us there's no good reason for such a foolish practice.

But a report comes from Washington, maintaining that the national legislators can't exist on the $15,000 salary paid them.

And the irony of it all is that some of those who draw $15,000 annual salaries voted against increases in social security and condemned any and every movement to boost the 75-cent basic wage.

We don't know, but it seems the $15,000-a-year man could cut his expenses somewhere along the line and still provide himself nourishing food, adequate clothing and a favorable health and social environment.

Yes, some live beyond their means when they do not have to, and others live beyond their means because they have to do it.

Geography and Food

About half the 2,500,000,000 people in the world are on the edge of starvation. Yet with the help of modern technology a population 10,000 times that on earth today could be maintained.

These are among the thought-provoking statements made by international geographers meeting at the centennial celebration of the American Geographical Society.

The study of geography has assumed a vast new importance in today's world. The geographers are, in a sense, the advance scouts of the agronomists and technicians of all sorts who are moving out under the banner of Point Four to help raise the level of production everywhere.

Here is a reminder that technical aid programs cannot be looked on as quick stop-communism expedients. The enemies, as General Marshall along ago pointed out, are hunger, poverty, and geographers play a vital part in mapping out the terrain to be won for peace, prosperity, and production.

No Handouts

An Industry spokesman declares that the practice of the government allowing industrial plants to depreciate plant expansions in a hurry is no handout. The same fellow says industry is entitled to the consideration, that industry is gambling when it undertakes such projects.

The same spokesman turns and shouts that any consideration shown the farmer is socialism. After gambling with the elements and losing rather frequently, the farmer then gambles with the markets. But if he loses, he still isn't entitled to any consideration of any kind whatever, even if he produced life-sustaining food and fiber.

Too Much Or Too Little

The love angle has just about been lost to the big money group. Many marriages have gone on the rocks because there was too little money to maintain economic standards.

Just recently the Dick Reynolds divorce and the $2 million settlement on his ex-wife are in the news again. Mr. Mansfield has not been in the news this week, but it's been only a short time since he was there in big headlines.

While all the Reynolds money apparently could not keep Dick and his second wife together, eastern Carolina tobacco farmers could use a little of it to keep their families together.

Not A Private Affair

Concerning the action of the State Board of Bar Examiners in the Myron Ross case, The Greensboro Daily News says:

The state board has a difficult and delicate task on its hands, one of great importance to the public. There is reason to believe that it could make that task much easier for itself by being more frank with the people whose agency it is.

Until the board give a better explanation for its refusal to permit Mr. Ross to take the examination, it must face the suspicion that it has acted unfairly toward a young man who wants to become a lawyer and who has completed, with distinction, the course prescribed in the law school of the State University.

This is not a private matter. This case does not merely involve one man. Indeed, when the power of all the people in licensing lawyers is exercised in secret and as if it were a private matter, both law and justice are endangered in this State.

The Dividends Went On

During the 55-day steel strike, wages stopped, certain manufacturing enterprises closed down and they said the flow of arms slowed up. But the dividends went on just the same.

Surely, the holders of steel stock are entitled to a return on their investment, but it is baffling to understand how dividends were maintained when the steel industry was idle.

There is a great deal about the steel strike that has not been cleared up in the minds of the people, and it is generally thought that only management can clear those things up. And if inflation follows the steel episode, the people are certainly entitled to all the facts.

Byrd Economy?

The federal government, at the insistence of someone along the line, is spending $675,000.00 to keep Virginia Beach from washing away.

Possibly it is fair that the government should step in with North Carolina taxpayers' dollars and the dollars from taxpayers in all the other states to save a beach resort for Virginia. The project has all the earmarks of that Byrd economy all the other forty-seven states have been hearing so much about.

Mr. Byrd has "yapped" about economy. Well, let him start the movement in his own backyard. When the better part of a million of the taxpayers' dollars are spent on a beach resort, Mr. Byrd in his ohwn beach resort in his own state, Mr. Byrd should not begrudge the helpless individual who receives a few dollars to sustain life itself.

Sovereign Or A Sucker

The Wall Street Journal says the consumer is sovereign. Catching the ultimate price load, the consumer is of the opinion he is a sucker. Of course, he doesn't have to buy and that is a sovereign right.

But when he does buy and has to pay about twice as much and more in many cases than the actual producer received, it would appear the consumer is being made a sucker, pure and simple.

Must Be Some Mistake

It is hard to believe that Kerr Scott would allot three-quarters of a million dollars for road building in his home county, rather than spread it out over several or more. There must be some mistake in the report.

However, Alamance could be entitled to the sizable allotment, and the Governor could be recognizing a legitimate claim, but the vast majority of the people are questioning the action. Certainly the act, if it is concluded, will do Alamance much good, but, at the same time, it is doing Mr. Scott much harm.

"All my life I've wanted to own a Buick"

Power Steering now available on Super as well as Roadmaster—optional at extra cost.

It seems that owning a Buick is something that a lot of folks dream about—plan for—and finally do

We say that because, so many times, they say so in words like those above.

Those words make us happy, of course—happy to know we sell a car which means so much to those who own it.

But they make us feel just a little bit sad as well—sad to realize all the years of fun such folks have been missing for no good reason at all.

For the fact is this: If you can afford any new car, you can afford a Buick.

You can afford the thrill of bossing around that big Fireball 8 Engine that purrs forth a mighty flow of power.

You can afford the gas bills—as any owner of a 1952 Buick will tell you—because that high-compression, valve-in-head marvel gets a lot of miles from a gallon of fuel.

You can afford the extra luxury of a real million dollar ride—the silky smoothness of Dynaflo Drive*—the extra room and comfort and style that have put Buick popularity right up at the top of the list, next to the "low-priced three."

So if you want to own a Buick—there's just one thing to do:

Come in—pick the one of your choice—and let us show you how close the figure that goes on the bill of sale comes to what you'd pay elsewhere.

As we've said before, your first car can be a Buick. Why not take the Big Step right away—today?

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. *Standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.

Sure is true for '52

BUICK will build them.
