The Pessimists Speak

Following years of "good living" and material progress, the pessimists are now engaged in loud talk.

A spokesman for an economic research bureau paints a pretty dark picture for everybody except the holder of cash. The man with cash is about to come into his own, the researcher declares.

The same researcher says there are fifty million automobiles and trucks in the United States, that the motor vehicle market has reached the saturation point.

The researcher may be right, but there is the possibility he has overpainted the dark picture, and the picture for the cash-holder is not as rosy as he would have one believe.

The money man may buy a house cheap, but a cheap house with no renter is still costly. An idle factory, bought for a song, is still no bargain.

Offering Little

The Republicans are having much to say about the Democrats, but it becomes more evident day by day that Mr. Eisenhower and his party have little to offer.

If the Republicans have no one better to offer than McCarthy, Jenner and Company, they should simply close up and quickly fade away.

Aside from politics, the McCarthy victory in Wisconsin recently is a defeat for decency and fair play in this country.

The action of the Wisconsin voters is about as sickening and provoking as anything that has ever been perpetrated upon the people of this land.

If Candidate Eisenhower goes along with that crowd, and he has said he would, then he has little claim to support at the polls on November 4.

McCarthy has inflated his war record. He has not accounted for big income, and he allegedly dodged taxes.

Take Action Now

Instead of waiting until the end of the term and censoring the schools for the weaknesses of their children, parents and patrons should check up on their charges and the schools now.

Parents should visit the schools and check up not necessarily to take issue but to lend a helping hand. Parents should see that their children remain home evenings during the week and study.

The taxpayers will have spent tens of thousands of dollars for schools by the end of the 1952-53 term. They are entitled to a fair accounting of that money.

Life Is Funny

Man comes into this world without his consent and leaves it against his will. During his stay on earth his time is spent in one continuous round of contraries and misunderstandings.

If he doesn't raise a family he is too selfish. If he raises a check he is a crook. If he is a poor man he is a bad manager and has no sense.

By Example

Casualty and surety companies are upset, and rightly so, over the ever-increasing number of highway accidents and road deaths.

Some, if not all the proposals are good and should be broadened. During the meantime, the older folks can set an example more worthy of the youthful drivers to follow.

The Christian Viewpoint

People are more important than money. The story is told of an evangelistic service held many years ago. At the end of the two weeks of preaching only one little boy, aged twelve, had joined the church.

Men control money. Men are more important than money. "See that ye despise not one of these little ones; for I say unto you, that in heaven their angels do always behold the face of my Father who is in heaven."

One Of Compassion

Pictures carry a lot of meaning. One looks at a twisted death car with awe. And then one looks at another and releases a great big smile.

A few days ago one reached the office, showing a former charge of the Barium Springs orphanage cuddling a dozen or more homeless Korean children.

Eastern North Carolina farmers are not producing bountiful crops this year, but they are producing enough to spare, and it is firmly believed that through a cooperative effort a box car can be loaded with peanuts for shipment to the hungry homeless in Korea this fall.

Condemning His Own Makers

Dwight Eisenhower is condemning the Democratic administrations for this and that, making few or no exceptions.

Mr. Eisenhower was promoted to his rank by the Democrats. He was honored by the Democrats. Now, he overlooks the fact that he was made by those he is now condemning.

Relief For Channel Swimmers

A tunnel under the English Channel is being talked again. Such a connecting link would help solve the transportation problem between England and France, and, at the same time, relieve all those Channel swimmers.

Reviewers Book Club Meeting

The first meeting of the fall for the Reviewers Book Club, a division of the local Williamston Woman's Club, was held Tuesday night at the home of Mrs. Ernest Carraway, Mrs. Carraway and Mrs. J. C. Cooke acting as hostesses.

The president, Mrs. Francis Manning, called the meeting to order and she brought greetings to the fifteen members present. Mrs. Henry Griffin acted as secretary and read the minutes of the June meeting.

Attractive year books were distributed. Much credit goes to the Year Book Committee composed of Mesdames Asa Crawford, Ernest Carraway and J. C. Cooke for the work done in compiling the material. Mrs. Cooke explained the theme of study for the coming year, which will be classification of books, with monthly programs on philosophy, religion, social sciences, languages, useful arts, literature, fine arts and history.

The new books for the members to read and circulate were then distributed.

The hostesses served a delicious fruit salad course with hot tea. The meeting adjourned until October 7.

Those present were Mesdames Wheeler Martin, Ray Goodmon, Asa Crawford, J. D. Page, A. L. Jameson, F. M. Manning, Irving Margolis, H. O. Peele, Ernest Carraway, A. R. Dunning, J. R. Simpson, E. R. Fronberger, Jim Cooke, Henry Griffin and R. H. Clayton.

Asks Support For The Farm Bureau

L. T. Weeks, of Raleigh, general manager of the Flue-Cured Tobacco Cooperative Stabilization Corporation, the world's largest tobacco corporation, asked the members of the Farm Bureau to throw its full support behind the North Carolina Farm Bureau's current membership drive for 75,000 members.

In making this appeal Weeks said, "the Farm Bureau is responsible for the tobacco stabilization program we have today, which has meant millions of dollars to the growers of North Carolina."

The general manager pointed out that through the stabilization program every producer in the five bright leaf states is guaranteed at least 90 percent of parity for his tobacco on the auction warehouse floor.

"I have been connected with the tobacco program for some 18 years and I know that had it not been for the Farm Bureau under the able leadership of R. Flake Shaw, who led the fight for this program when the going was tough, farmers would not enjoy a price for tobacco which enables them to maintain a reasonable standard of living," he added.

Weeks said the Stabilization Corporation is operating in its der by the president, Mrs. C. B. Fagan. We sang "America the Beautiful" followed by the Devotional. Minutes were read and roll called. There were 16 members present. Old and new business was discussed. Mrs. Sam Coburn read a nice letter received from a pin-pal in Australia. It was decided that each member bring a bucket of peanuts to our November meeting and in that way would be able to have a bag ready for the train.

Cherio prizes were won by Mrs. C. B. Fagan, Bill Fagan and Julian Fagan.

seventh year and has received some 728 million pounds of tobacco from more than 438,000 tilled growers in the five bright-belt states.

"As of this date," he said "we have about 178 million pounds of tobacco (dry weight) on hand from the 1950 and 1951 crops that failed during the past year."

Weeks said that tobacco from all other crops has been sold and net gains from the 1946 and 1947 crops had been distributed. "The net gains from the 1948 and 1949 crops, which amounts to more than $5,000,000 will be distributed to the membership during December of this year and January of next year," he said.

Weeks emphasized that a strong Farm Bureau Membership must be maintained to support the tobacco program, "because it is dependent on national legislation which the Farm Bureau organizations in other states and the American Farm Bureau have joined with the North Carolina Farm Bureau to protect."

Electric utilities will consume 9.2 percent and by-product coke ovens 7.1 per cent more bituminous coal this year than in 1951, according to industry estimates.
