Married December 28

Miss Eleanor Roberson and J. R. Everett Speak Their Vows

The strapless bodice was worn with a brief bolero in tucked design. The full skirt was fashioned with cords of purple satin. A purple net bandeau, white gloves and purple slippers complimented her costume and she carried a nosegay of yellow, purple and pink pompons and carnations tied with pink satin.

Roland Everett of Williamston served his brother as best man and ushers were J. O. Manning, Jr. and Horace Ray, both of Williamston, brothers-in-law of the bridegroom, Eli Hoyt Roberson, Jr., and James W. Roberson, brothers of the bride.

Mrs. Roberson wore a black Botany suit, using black accessories and a lavender orchid corsage. Mrs. Horace Ray, the bridegroom's sister, wore a Wedgewood blue dress with brown accessories and a lavender orchid.

The couple left for a wedding trip to New York. The bride wore a navy blue suit, wheat colored poodle cloth coat, wheat accessories and the white orchid from her wedding bouquet.

The bride was graduated from Meredith College in Raleigh and Miss Eleanor Brown Roberson of near Washington became the bride of James Robert Everett of Williamston in the Macedonia Christian Church of Williamston on Saturday, December 28, at 11 o'clock in the morning.

Using the double-ring ceremony, the Rev. Preston Cayton of Edenton heard the vows. Floor baskets of white gladioli, lighted tapers in branched candelabra, and a background of palms, smilax, and fern decorated the church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eli Hoyt Roberson, Sr., of Washington, route three, and Mr. Everett is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Robert Everett.

Mrs. J. R. P. Griffin, pianist, presented a program of wedding music using traditional marches for the processional and recessional. Evan Griffin, soloist, sang "O Promise Me" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride, escorted by her father who gave her in marriage, wore a wedding gown of nylon lace and illusion over white bridal satin. The bouffant ballerina skirt was of nylon net with lace inset near the hemline. The fitted bodice was of lace, styled with a small pointed collar, long sleeves extending into petal points, and buttoned by tiny satin buttons. Her halo bonnet had a small flared lace brim outlined with seed pearls. Her tiered veil was of illusion. She carried a nosegay of white carnations and pom-poms centered with a white purple tipped orchid.

Miss Lane Roberson was her sister's maid of honor. She wore a purple nylon net gown made over
