

Living With Peace Of Mind

By Kirby Page

We little realize how vast is our indebtedness to Walter Rauschenbusch, for he has helped us immeasurably to understand the gospel of Christ. He recognized the simple gospel to be good news about God and about man, a summons to right relationships. The will of God embraces all human affairs. We are challenged to love God, to love our families, to love our neighbors, to love our enemies. Because the gospel is a proclamation of good news about right relationship, it is necessarily personal and social in nature. The personal gospel and the social gospel are the two sides of the one simple gospel.

It was Walter Rauschenbusch more than any other individual who drove home this truth to the leaders of the churches in this country. For eleven years he ministered to the people of a slum area in New York, and came to know sin in its many subtle and blatant forms. He became familiar with personal sins, and he was overwhelmed by the ravages wrought by social sins—corruption by politicians, ruthless greed by corporations, grafting by officials of labor unions, discriminations by white people against Negroes and by native-born against

Then he taught in Rochester Theological Seminary and wrote books. In 1907 appeared his famous volume, "Christianity and the Social Crisis." Five years later came "Christianizing the Social Order." Great indeed is my personal indebtedness to Walter Rauschenbusch for the powerful impact these books made upon me during my college and seminary days.

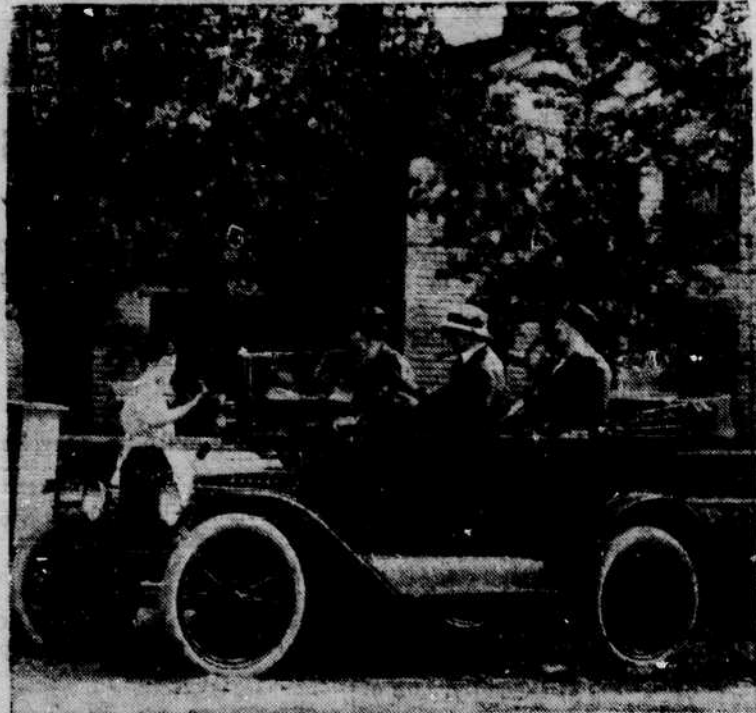

Rauschenbusch was a pioneer, along whose trail thousands of ministers are now traveling, as they preach the simple gospel of right relationships with God and with man, a gospel intensely personal and at the same time utterly social.

During the days of burning heat and nights of surpassing beauty, Jesus conversed with his Father, through forty days and forty nights. He examined again and again the proposed solutions which were being offered by his contemporaries, the ways out suggested by the Pharisees, the Sadducees, the Zealots, the Essenes. One by one they were dismissed as being inadequate or inconsistent with God's demands upon his life. Finally he was laid hold upon by a mighty conviction which never let him go.

This is God's will and this is God's way: Live today as a good member of our Father's home. Live this way positively by maintaining attitudes and engaging in actions which help other persons to love God and to trust him, and which bind men together in compassionate goodwill and mutual service. Live this way negatively by condemning and denouncing attitudes and actions which weaken love of God and love of man.

Live with sympathy and compassion; live with forbearance and forgiveness, with appreciation and gratitude; live with humility and patience; live with fidelity and trust; live with courage and sacrificial devotion.

Live without anxiety and fear; live without covetousness and en-

Sobering Vitamin Found By British

British doctors have reportedly found a solution to the sobering-up problem, which afflicts many straying citizens. It is said the solution is an injection of Vitamin B-6, (or Bandon), which reportedly sobers up drunks in three minutes without leaving a hang-over.

If early reports are accurate, and Vitamin B-6 becomes accepted as a sobering-up injection, leaving no bad after effects, then the world will be saved billions of overbearing hours from the drunks. In fact, it might become the vogue for all sober-minded brothers to carry a syringe loaded with Vitamin B-6.

Confronted with the overbearing drunk, all one would have to do is whip out his syringe and give him a quick shot of Vitamin B-6, choosing his spot according to the irritation involved. Live without pride and arrogance; live without enmity and retaliation; live without violence and bloodshed.

Happy are the gentle, the humble, the meek, the pure in heart, the merciful, the peacemakers, the zealous for righteousness, the seekers after God's kingdom. Love comes from relationship. Love God utterly, love people that way. Keep on loving and forgiving and serving. Run the risks, take the consequences, trust God's kingdom.
