Proposed Fourteen Billion

The Eisenhower Administration is making all the appropriations for WPA, REA and all the other alphabetical agencies look like mere handouts.

The oil lands were given away on a silver platter. Vast holdings in the West are being taken from the masses and turned over to the privileged for exploitation.

And now there is a strong movement to turn over to the monopolies a fourteen billion dollar package—atomic energy patents. It is, by far, the biggest sell-out ever proposed in this or any other land.

Congressman George M. Rhodes of Pennsylvania warned about the threat of the atomic grab the other day, as follows:

"It seems to me that the Congress should give greater attention to the important question of control of atomic energy. There seems to be a strong desire on the part of the Eisenhower administration to give away this great atom power program to private monopolists, and to deny the people of America the benefits from the $14 billion payments. It is most alarming that this important question gets very little attention in the Congress. There is so little publicity on this matter that the public is unaware of the big grab which appears to be shaping up. To permit this program to fall into the hands of special private interests will not only result in denying the American people the benefits of this great development, but it will also be a threat to traditional American freedom."

Somebody Say Something

Cries have been sent up from the city streets and from behind the far removed swivel chairs over the country about the farmer getting a fair price for his commodities. Nothing has been said these past few days as farmers sold their snap beans for 80 cents a hamper, a price too low to pay for the container and picking.

It is declared by good authority that the consumer is not sharing in the savings made possible by the producer.

Many farmers will not grow snap beans and Irish potatoes another year. With low prices this year and nothing to sell next year, he'll hardly be in the market for a new machine, fertilizer, auto and other articles.

Mr. Ezra Taft Benson and his followers should visit the bean and potato fields and see for themselves how foolishly unsound is the system for marketing those two crops.

Still Not Satisfied

Americans spent sixty-seven billion dollars for food last year. And the farmer received less than one-fourth that amount for producing it.

There are still those who are not satisfied, and apparently want to cut the farmer's share to a fifth, or sixth and even more.

A Borrowed Credo

All is grist to my mill! While we were driving back home a couple of weeks ago, we stopped off at a plant to pick up a friend for luncheon. Framed on the wall of his office was the Credo of the firm for which he worked. That Credo I have borrowed for this article.

"We believe that our first responsibility is to our customers. Our Products must always be good, and we must sell them better at lower costs. Our Orders must be promptly and accurately filled. Our Dealers must make a fair profit."

Rather a good yardstick against which to test the efficiency of one's own work, don't you think? To do even little, unimportant things—honestly, accurately and fairly. To give full measure for what we earn. That is a task for each of us.

"Our second responsibility is to those who work with us—each person must be considered an individual standing on his own dignity and merit."

Do you know, I think the world would be a pretty wonderful place to live in, if those two ideas were put into practice. Yes, I realize it is another way of saying the Golden Rule—but isn't that the ideal law of conduct?

"Our third responsibility is to our management. Our Executives must be persons of Talent, Education, Experience and Ability. They must be persons of Common Sense and Full Understanding."

There is a congressional election in the offing. IF we applied that yardstick to the men we put into office, if we cast into the discard political hacks who couldn't measure up—wouldn't we have a government that could do a job!

"Our fourth responsibility is to the communities in which we live. We must be a good citizen . . . participate in promotion of civic improvement . . . and good government."

That is a call for positive action! No kibitzing from the sidelines — but a full realization and recognition of where responsibility lies—and what is our job as citizens.

"Our fifth and last responsibility is to our stockholders. . . Reserves must be created, research must be carried on, adventurous programs developed, and mistakes made and paid for."

In short—our only real security is not in what other people — or government — may do for us — but in what we can do for ourselves.

See what I mean? This is a credo that means as much to each of us—as we have

Byrd Economy

Senator Harry Byrd hasn't been heard much lately in his screaming for economy. It is possible that he is remaining quiet while the federal government makes ready to pump nearly three-quarters of a million dollars into a project at Virginia Beach.

The gentleman from Virginia has the gall to yell about economy in forty-seven states while free spending goes rapidly forward in his own state.

It would be encouraging to hear Mr. Byrd start crying for economy at Virginia Beach, at Newport News, at Little Creek, at Langley Field, at Pendleton, Norfolk.

TEXT: "Liberty has restraints, but no frontiers."—Lloyd George.

A little boy who didn't think he was having his own way as much as he should, asked his father: "Pop, when will I be old enough to do as I please?"

"I don't know," his father replied, "Nobody has lived that long yet."

Anyone may do as he pleases any time that he pleases. He simply must remember that 2 plus 2 make 4. When he selfishly whines that 2 plus 2 should equal 5, or cynically sneers that 2 plus 2 is only 3, he gets into trouble. The fellow who demands that the rules be changed so that he may obtain the answer that he wants, is inviting chaos. He will always be unhappy. He is the one who complains, "Aw, I thought this was a free country."

This country is not free. It's citizens do have more liberties than men ever possessed before. These liberties are held by keeping a few rules. To change a rule to please a selfish complainer would be as wrong as to agree that, sometime, 2 plus 2 equal 3 or 5—just to quiet them. No compromise will satisfy a fault finder. The man who obeys the rules asks no compromise.

Jaycees Win Two In Little League During Week-End

Both Games Last Night Decided By A Single Run In Pitchers' Duels

After two high scoring games on Thursday night of last week, the Little League came back last night with two very close ones, one-run margins deciding each contest. The Jaycees again coming through to win. While the Jaycees out-scored the Kiwanians 16-11 Thursday night and the Lions drove by the Rotarians 10-8, the pace was slowed last night as the Jaycees topped the Lions 2-1 and the Kiwanians topped the Rotarians 4-3.

In the first game last night both teams scored in the first inning and then went scoreless until the Jaycees scored the winning run in the fifth without benefit of a hit—they got just one off Gordon Cowan.

In the first game Thursday evening, the Jaycees scored 11 runs in the first inning, none in the second and third, two in the 4th, one in the fifth and two in the 6th to win 16-11 as the Kiwanians got none in the first, one in the second, five in the third, none in the fourth, five in the fifth and none in the sixth.

In the second game Thursday, the Lions picked up seven runs in the second after failing to score in the first frame. They got two in the third and one in the fourth to win 10-8 as the Rotarians scored in every inning but not enough to balance the big innings of the Lions. The Lions got one in the first, two in the second, three in the third and two in the fourth.

Bill Williford, Braves' pitcher, and Dunn, Grimesland pitcher, really had a pitcher's duel Sunday afternoon at the Grimesland park with the Braves winning by the close score of 3-2.

For the first two innings, no runs were made. In the third, Calvin Warren got a base hit, stole second and was brought home by a hit by Jack Roberson.

Williamston ahead with a score of 1-0, which held up until the last of the sixth when Willoughby got a hit for Grimesland. Hudson came to bat, bunted and got on base due to a bad throw by Rawls, Williamston catcher.

Bear Grass Club Regular Meeting

The Bear Grass Home Demonstration club held their regular monthly meeting June 17 in the home of Mrs. N. R. Rogerson. The meeting was called to order by the President, Mrs. Chesley Jones, after which the group joined together in singing "America." The club collect was repeated in unison. The devotional was given by Mrs. N. R. Rogerson, taken from the 4th chapter of Col.

The secretary read the minutes of the previous meeting, which stood approved as read. The roll call showed 16 members present. For old business the treasurer gave a report of $43.45. A motion was made and carried that the treasurer give Mrs. Price a check to cover all debts on the club house. A report was made on the Ruritan supper which was $75. New business, Mrs. Jones spoke of the home that is being built on State Campus. We sent $5 as our donation.

A special music scholarship has been set up and any club that wishes to donate can do so. This matter will be settled in our club later. June 30 was set for the day of our annual family picnic which will be held at the club house, as a wienier roast.

A report was made on Farm and Home Week by several members that attended.

The July and August meeting being omitted so the September meeting will be held with Mrs. Tim Malone.

For our demonstration Miss Catherine Rogerson made a fruit fantasy. Pointing out the importance of the uses of milk. Miss Rogerson is a very outstanding 4-H Club worker especially in diary

"Flying Saucer" Season At Hand

Air Force officials pointed out a few days ago that the "Flying Saucer Season" is now approaching. The meteor showers which are easily seen in the heavens in the summer, especially in July and August, always bring about a flurry of reports of "Flying Saucer" sightings.

Air Force officials say reports from citizens claiming to have seen "flying saucers" have fallen off heavily since 1952. They believe better public education about flying machines, and better scientific investigations, have reduced the reports.

It is reported that so far in 1954, eighty-seven sightings have been reported. Over 1700 such sightings were reported in 1952 alone. By 1953, the number had dropped to something over 400, and if the current rate continues, the number of sightings this year will drop to around 200.

Air Force officials admit they cannot explain some ten percent of the sightings, and deny that they are disinterested in such reports. On the contrary, Air Force officials say the air service appreciates reports about unidentified flying objects and welcomes such "information."

The meeting closed with the group singing "It's a Good Time to Get Together."

The hostess assisted by her daughter served the group fruit fantasy, cookies and ice cream lemonade.

After the meeting all members went to the club house to work. Reported.
