IS "A WORD TO THE WISE" SUFFICIENT?

The charges of Senator William E. Borah, Republican, of Idaho, that at least two of the Republican candidates for the Presidency are spending vast sums of money in their campaigns and that an attempt is being made to control the party convention by the use of money, has created a panicky situation in the G. O. P. ranks. Unless the differences in the party can be smoothed down Republicans fear that the Borah charges will react against the party in the campaign next fall, no matter who is nominated.

Senator Borah's latest telegram to General Leonard Wood demands that he make public a list of his contributions and expenditures and informs that candidate that unless he familiarizes himself with what is going on in his behalf and corrects conditions "you will bring disgrace upon your name, upon our party and your country."

The Idaho Senator has also called for a showdown on the amount of money being spent by the Lowden campaign managers. Governor Lowden has agreed to submit to an audit of his books and Senator Borah is endeavoring to arrange for an inspection early in April.

So far the replies made by General Wood to the Borah charges have not satisfied Senator Borah. This is shown by the caustic telegram sent General Wood reading:

"Press dispatches state you claim voters of Michigan. You are in part the attack upon you was to sway the correct. It was intended not only to sway the voters in Michigan but in the United States. I know of no other tribunal to which to appeal to correct these practices. But it can only be effective provided the facts I stated are correct.

"It is within your power, to give to the people of Michigan and other states a list of your subscribers, the amount which you did expend in South Dakota, the amount which you are expending, and the amount you propose to expend in Ohio and Illinois.

"If you will make a statement of these facts over your signature I will correct any erroneous statement I have heretofore made. The material which is coming from South Dakota, Illinois and Ohio convinces me that I was modest in my statements.

"General Wood, if you are not familiar with what is going on in your behalf for the Presidency I take leave to assert that unless you familiarize yourself and correct it, it will bring disgrace upon your name, upon our party and your country.

"It is up to you as a soldier and a man to come out boldly and meet these facts and either show the public that they are unfounded, or else repudiate the men who have manifested their determination to control the national convention through the use of money."

This telegram from one Republican to another reveals the bitterness now prevailing in the G. O. P. ranks. Practical politicians of the party fear the effect upon the morale of the organization and it is exceedingly distasteful to them to have a "money scandal" injected into the campaign so early.

Chairman Durbin, of the Ohio State Democratic committee, charged as early as last November that the Republicans were preparing to raise a great "slush fund" for use in the general elections. At that time, however, it was not anticipated that candidates for the nomination would focus public attention upon the use of money so many months in advance of the November elections.

Senator Borah will attempt to get prompt consideration in the Senate of the bill he introduced, providing that the campaign publicity law shall apply to Presidential candidates and their pre-convention expenses. This bill was the outgrowth of reports which Senator Borah said he regarded as entirely reliable that large sums of money are being expended in behalf of certain Republican candidates for the Presidential nomination.

As General Wood seems to be dodging the issue by refusing any definite reply to a Senator of his own party, and as the telegram received by him from Senator Borah is one that should appeal to a man who holds such exalted rank in the army of his country, it would seem that there is in one case at least good reason for Senator Borah and the public to believe that there is some foundation for their suspicions if not for their beliefs. Let the General sit upon a court martial of any man in the army. Let direct questions be asked the man, let the man refuse to answer or try to evade direct answer. Let the evidence against him be strong, and the army prisons will have a new inmate in the near future, following the court martial. Therefore why should the General not be called upon to answer to the public the direct demands and requests of a Senator of his own party? Because he is a General in the army is no loop hole for him to hold himself aloof from the public demands, and require the salute as the chief executive of the nation as he may be able to do in the army. The rank in the army is not the rank in public life. Stars on the shoulder are not stars in anyone's crown.

Senator Borah is trying to save his party from disgrace, as he openly tells the General in his telegram. It might be better for the military candidate for President to heed the Senator's warning now, and "square things" with the public while there is yet time, or he may have the evidence brought out at the last moment and lose not only the Presidential nomination but his exalted rank in the United States army as well. The army is not the Senate. Newberry may be permitted to hold his seat in spite of the laws made by that senate, but Wood will find that the army and the Senate are two entirely different bodies or organizations.

"A word to the wise is sufficient" and Senator Borah is doing his best to utter that "word." It remains to be seen whether Wood and other Presidential candidates are "wise."

CHURCHES FIGHT RED MENACE

Score of Large Denominations Allied With Attorney General Palmer in Awakening Nation to Enemy Peril Within.

AMERICANISM GREAT ISSUE.

God-Fearing Voters Covenant to Put at the Head of This Government a Man of Proved Capacity and Firmness Who Will Suppress the Preachers and Practicers of Discord and Violence.

Washington.—The greatest endorsement ever given to the outstanding Americanism of a living official in public life is the forward movement represented by the powerful among more than a score of large church denominational organizations which has just been effected in this country to combat the "Red menace."

Twenty-five million persons, representing more than 70 per cent of the membership of all Protestant church organizations in the United States, are now lending their strength to the alliance which will carry on to its logical conclusion the work of Attorney General Mitchell Palmer in awakening the people of the nation to a realization of their peril from the enemy within and protecting the government with a firm hand from those who sought to overthrow it by force and violence.

Americanism and Americanization is to be the watchword of the churches, and the Christian people of the country, who have caught the note from the reveille sounded by Mr. Palmer, will see to it that a man alive to the great question and of proved capacity to carry on the great work that is being launched is put at the head of affairs of government in this country.

To these millions of earnest people who see in the safety of the country, home and fireside the overshadowing issue of the future, regardless of politics or politicians, there can be no step backward now that the forward movement is on, and the man who appeals to them most strongly as measuring up to the highest standard of Americanism and whose deeds are test-proof of his high purpose to bring his whole country to a realization of the loftiest ideals of citizenship will receive their undivided support in primary, election and in the administration of his high office.

Before the great campaign of Americanism to be undertaken by the Protestant church organizations is well under way it would not be surprising to find the percentage in the alliance grow to a round 100 per cent, representing 100 per cent Americanism.

The great hierarchy of the Roman Catholic Church in the United States is heart and soul with the movement for Americanization and will lend its full strength to the promotion through the far-reaching channels of the church of the preaching and teaching of staunch Americanism to the many millions of its congregation within the United States.

A pastoral letter, the first issued by the heads of the Catholic Church in the United States in 85 years, has recently gone to all its people, in which the following paragraph is not the least in importance of the declarations of the letter:

"Whatever may be the industrial and social remedies which will approve themselves to the American people, there is one that, we feel confident, they will never adopt. That is the method of revolution. For it is neither justification nor excuse under our form of government. Through the ordinary and orderly processes of education, organization and legislation all social wrongs can be righted. While these processes at times may seem distressingly slow, they will achieve more in the final result than violence or revolution. The radicalism and worse than radicalism of the labor movement in some of the countries of Europe has no lesson for the workers of the United States except as an example of methods to be detested and avoided."

Thus the churches and their people in the United States stand united in a determined movement to look to the future security of the government of their country and the peace and happiness of its people. In this, as in many similar movements which have written history, it is more a question of the man than the measure.

The formation of the powerful alliance in the interchurch world movement to campaign against red radicalism with Americanism is but another proof that the American people have made the issue of the day for the government, for the church and for the nation. It is stated that the interchurch world movement is serving as a clearing house for speedy and cooperative action to cope with the evils of radicalism, which have been made public as the result of a nation-wide survey. On their own account the representatives of these 25,000,000 people of the country have found that "Americanism" is the one and great issue now before the people, and have called upon the churches to expend from their emergency funds several millions of dollars in immediate effort to raise the standard of Americanism.

Section 18.—The fees for digging graves and for the upkeep of burial plots or squares, shall be as follows: For digging graves, $3.00 per grave.

For any work in addition to the above, there shall be a charge of 40c. per hour.

All rules and regulations heretofore enacted respecting the upkeep, or government of Greenwood Cemetery are hereby repealed.

This is to certify the above ordinance was adopted at a regular meeting of the Board of Commissioners of the town of Tarboro, N. C., March 8th, 1920.

ON EASY TERMS

The First

More than a quarter of a century ago the kitchen cabinet idea was originated by C. P. MCDUGALL, founder of the MCDUGALL COMPANY. It was briefly, to build a combined cupboard and work-table for the housewife, in which would be assembled all the materials and utensils needed in the preparation of a meal. From that basic idea and the first MCDUGALL Kitchen Cabinet which evolved from it has grown the whole great kitchen cabinet industry.

The MCDUGALL was the leader Twenty-five years ago. It led the procession then for a host of early imitators, and it still leads in all that goes to make a kitchen cabinet better.

The MCDUGALL is not an ordinary kitchen cabinet—it is a veritable method of better kitchen management. This method extends to every working unit in the kitchen, but its primary purpose is to save time and labor, as well as a better utilization of food, etc. One hundred per cent efficiency and thrif are its inevitable accompaniments when introduced in a home.
