INDUSTRIAL SURVEY IS NOW BEING MADE OF ALL EDGECOMBE COUNTY

Secretary Shackell of Local Chamber of Commerce Being Assisted By H. L. Knight of Henderson, in Preparing Copy For The Book

What promises to be another stride forward for Edgecombe county is the industrial survey now being made by the Edgecombe Chamber of Commerce, and which will appear in book form within the next few weeks.

Mr. Shackell is being assisted in the work by Mr. H. L. Knight of the Knight Advertising Service Company, whose home office is in Henderson, N. C. Mr. Knight is well experienced in the handling of propositions of this nature, and is here supervising the advertising space and publication of the book.

This work, which was authorized by the officers and directors of the Chamber of Commerce in March, will be a general review of Edgecombe county, its industries, resources and will depict its advantages to both home seeker and investor. The book will cover the entire county and will contain informative and interesting data. It will also carry a business and phone directory.

Being of approximately one hundred pages in size, and a total issue of five thousand copies, the book is to be distributed among the rural sections of this county as well as to manufacturers and the business public in general.

The purpose of the work is to create an interest on the part of the residents of the county and to let the outside public know just what Edgecombe county is.

The proposition cannot be well gotten out without the support of local people, and anyone desiring space in it, or having data of public interest is requested to communicate with either Secretary Shackell or Manager Knight at the Chamber of Commerce.

Murders Step-daughter Woman Hangs October 1

(By The Associated Press)
Quebec, April 22.—Mrs. Marie Gagnon, who was found guilty of the murder of her sixteen year old step-daughter here, has been sentenced to hang October 1. The evidence disclosed that the girl was burned with a red hot poker, forced to walk bare foot in the snow, and finally forced to drink poison.

TARBORO GUNNERS HOLD PLACE AMONG STATE GUN CHAMPS

R. L. Pittman and Joe B. Pennington Tie With Opponents As High Guns

CHAMPIONSHIP SHOOT SCHEDULED FOR TODAY

(Special to The Southerner)
Pinehurst, April 21.—A novelty was sprung at the Pinehurst gun club today when a good-sized field took part in a 25 target contest, under Olympic rules and conditions. Most of the contestants failed to get going at the start, and 19 was the best score made. Robert L. Pittman, of Tarboro, and Paul Earle, of Starr S. C., tied as high guns. John Philip Sousa, shooting under the handicap of a single-b-b-reb gun, connected with 18. A record field will probably be on hand for the start of the Stat championship shoot tomorrow. About 35 guns lined up for the practice hundred shot today and were taken into camp by Paul Earle, J. B. Pennington, of Tarboro, and Alber Kroehle, of Cleveland Heights, Ohio who tied as high guns at 93.

CONCERT NOTES

(Contributed)
As the date for the Howell-Murphy concert draws near requests for seats are coming in from all sections of the county, and from nearby towns. Miss Howell and Mr. Murphy are determined that the "quality" of the concert on the 27th shall make up for the disappointment and inconvenience unavoidably caused the public by their inability to keep the appointment on the 12th.

Mr. Charles Baker, the accompanist for Mr. Murphy, is organist and choir director for one of New York's largest and most fashionable churches, that he is past master of the piano goes without saying, and the fact that he accompanies Mr. Murphy on all of his tours is proof of his wonderful talent as an accompanist.

Interest in the coming event has by no means lagged, but is increasing daily as the treat in store for all music lovers draws near.

Growers and Spinners CLOSER RELATIONSHIP WOULD BE VALUABLE

The Board will meet next Saturday for the purpose of appointing registrars and judges for the county.

The Sprinkler

Again we were glad to see the street sprinkler on the job at an early hour this morning. Now that summer is here, we will need it several times each day in order to lay the dust.

GOOD ROADS MEET CALLED TOMORROW

Hard Surface Roads For County Will Be Topic Under Discussion

To the citizens of Edgecombe county who are interested in hard surfaced roads for their county, the meeting at the court house tomorrow, Friday, night is of vital importance. The fact that the Chamber of Commerce has called this meeting does not mean that only members of the Chamber are desired to be present and to offer any suggestions or plans for the building of these roads for our county.

From recent statistics, it has been stated that $30,000 is being wasted every year on the roads of Edgecombe county, and it is the purpose of this meeting to arrange for the use of all monies of the road fund for the best benefit and interest of the county.

The meeting is called at the court house tomorrow night. The hour is 8 o'clock. It should be the best attended mass meeting the county has held for some time.

Echoes From Third Meet Equal Suffrage League

(Contributed)
Mrs. Mary Settle Sharpe who addressed the league left the same evening for Greensboro. Mrs. Sharpe was most enthusiastic and appreciative of her reception in Tarboro. She left home very hurriedly expecting to talk to a handful of women in a parlor and was amazed to find that Judge Lyon had adjourned court for the occasion and several hundred people were waiting to hear her speak. She stood at the foot of the stairs and was presented to a long line of people by her hostess, Miss Nan Clark. Miss Sally Stator president of the league briefly dispatched business. Mrs. Haywood Foxhall read minutes of previous meeting and had roll call. Mrs. Donald Williams, treasurer gave a report of the finances. Miss Dorothy Williams, corresponding secretary, read a characteristic communication from Mr. Jesse Brake, regretfully declining an invitation to address the league. The president in a few well chosen words presented Mrs. Sharpe, who spoke nearly an hour on various plans of the subject.

Mrs. Steidley To Preach

Mrs. Steidley, who is with Cyclone Mack, will preach at the McKinney church Sunday morning at 11:30 o'clock. The public is cordially invited to hear this talented woman.

TODAY'S NEWS OF TARBORO 20 YEARS AGO

Twenty years ago today was Sunday.

DISTRICT 13 U. D. C. IN ANNUAL SESSION

Bethel Heroes Chapter Of Rocky Mount Is Host To

The annual session of the U. D. C., 13th District of the North Carolina Division, opened at the Y. M. C. A. auditorium yesterday morning with the Bethel Heroes Chapter of Rocky Mount hostess to 200 visiting daughters of Tarboro, Battleboro, Wilson, Nashville, Middlesex, Spring Hope, Whitakers, Greenville and Rocky Mount, all of which places represented in territorial bounds of the district.

The session was called to order by Mrs. H. E. Brewer, the president of the Bethel Heroes Chapter. The U. D. C. ritual was read by the chaplain, Mrs. F. A. Woodward. A hearty welcome was extended the visitors by Mrs. W. O. Winstead, and the peculiarly amusing style brought much applause.

The response by Mrs. L. L. Stator, district leader was a gem interspersed here and there of original poetry.

A tribute to Mrs. W. H. Ricks was read by Mrs. R. P. Holt, after which a death mark of Mr. Ricks was displayed to the chapter, amid a thrill of silent prayer by the assembly. The mark is wonderfully life-like, and will be placed in the Hall of History.

The social feature of the session was an elaborate three course luncheon served in elegant style, perfect as to detail. Two hundred guests were seated at once. The tables were decorated with "crabapple blossoms."

Two interesting features of the afternoon session was an address by state president, Mrs. Felix Harvey, and the presentation of the "Powell Banner," won by the Nashville chapter, recently organized with 45 members. The banner was awarded to the chapter making greatest gain this year in membership, and Mrs. Stator was thanked by the state president for her grand work, and the offer of the banner which has been the means of 150 new members being brought into the district. Rocky Mount and Tarboro have also greatly increased their number of members.

Mrs. Stator was urged to serve the district another year, but declined, and Mrs. Walter Woodward of Wilson, was elected.

The local chapter was represented by Mrs. Adah Bass president, and thirty or more members, and all speak glowing terms of the gracious hospitality of the hostess chapter, and the many courtesies extended by Rocky Mount.

WHAT'S NEWS UP TO POSSESSION

Paper May Change Policy, Political, Or Otherwise, Says Illinois Court

Chicago, April 22.—The right of a newspaper to publish what it considers news and to disregard whatever it feels does not come within that category was upheld in an opinion of the appellate court here.

Attorney William Reeda, an "independent" candidate for superior court judge in the November (1917) election, resented the action of the Chicago Tribune in publishing a facsimile of a portion of a specimen ballot.

The published portion named Democratic, Republican and Socialist candidates, but omitted independent candidates not with any intent of ignoring them, but because they were not considered as active contenders, whereas the fight was between the party tickets.

It was contended by Mr. Reeda that this omission was "willful and malicious and done with intent to injure his candidacy." He asked for $100,000 damages.

World Advertising Survey To Place Publicity Value

New York, April 22.—Under the guidance of the Associated Advertising Clubs, a world-wide investigation of advertising, designed to show just where it stands as an economic force has been started.

A board of survey will be organized under the direction of Prof. Paul T. Cherington of Harvard and data will be collected impartially from every part of the world. The material will be presented in a book prepared by Professor Cherington, according to an announcement made by Herbert S. Houston, vice-president of the Associated Advertising Clubs.

Interesting material for Professor Cherington's book will be furnished by the next annual convention of the advertising association, which takes place at Indianapolis, June 6 to 10, when 5,000 business men and women from the United States, Canada and other parts of the globe, will meet to discuss the results they obtain from advertising.

Has Spent Thirty Hours Hanging To Friendly Pier

(By The Associated Press)
London, S. C., April 22.—E. C. Parnell, who escaped death by grabbing a friendly pier when his bateau went over the Gregg Shoals Dam yesterday, is still marooned at the same spot, thirty hours after the accident in which his companion was killed. It has been impossible to get food or water to him, and it looks as though he will have to spend another day in the same position.

Notice To Subscribers

The policy of The Southerner is that all subscriptions shall be paid in advance, at this writing we want to say that within the past two months the price of the paper that we use in publishing The Southerner has more than doubled. In order to meet this additional expense and to enable us to continue to publish a paper, it is very necessary that we have funds to purchase paper. We want to ask that each subscriber look at their label on the paper and see if the subscription is paid in advance and if not, you will do us a very great favor to let us have your check for a year or more in advance. On June 1st, 1920, we will be forced to take all names off of our mailing list that are not paid in advance, we have to take this step in order to save paper, as it is now so high that we cannot afford to send out any free copies or to carry your account on our books.

POSSESSION MA 'MOONSHINER'

KENTUCKY FARM Cider and Wines of Over Half One Percent Alcohol Is "Moonshine"

EVERY PEACE OFFICER IS "BONE DRY" OFFICER

(By The Associated Press)
Louisville, Ky., April 22.—Farmers in Kentucky who have been accused of moonshining their whiskey, and cider may be classed as "bone dry" under the McLehman law which goes into effect on July 1st. Under the state-wide dry amendment adopted by the people last fall, a person having a beverage containing more than one-half of one percent alcohol, including cider or home wine, on their premises, may be brought into court to show whether it was manufactured with or without permit.

Kentucky in thus assuming "current jurisdiction" with the government of the United States in enforcing prohibition puts more into the Volstead Enforcement act and makes every peace officer in the state responsible for keeping moonshine "bone dry."

Thirty-four other states and District of Columbia have state enforcement measures as follows: Alabama, Arkansas, Colorado, Iowa, Florida, Georgia, Idaho, Kansas, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Mississippi, Montana, Nebraska, Nevada, New Hampshire, New Mexico, North Carolina, North Dakota, Oklahoma, Oregon, South Carolina, South Dakota, Tennessee, Texas, Virginia, Washington, West Virginia and Wyoming. Ohio has not adopted a complete enforcement code but has three codes having been passed by the legislature and held up by popular referendum.

Eleven states which so far have not passed law enforcement codes are: Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, Vermont, New York, New Jersey, Maryland, Pennsylvania, Louisiana and Wisconsin. Three states, Rhode Island, New Jersey and Wisconsin, have adopted beer bills and the Wisconsin legislature, in enacting a two and one-half percent law, provided that if the United States supreme court sustains the Volstead act, the statute shall not go into effect. Rhode Island will license places selling beverages containing more than four percent alcohol by weight on the ground that it is non-intoxicating. New Jersey, galling the manufacture, sale and transportation of three and one-half percent beer awaits the formal declaration of peace and the end of prohibition.

Maryland wet legislators proposed three and one-half percent beer which was passed by the House but defeated in the Senate. A three and one-half percent bill is now pending in the Massachusetts and New York legislatures. Delaware is considering an amendment to the state prohibition code providing for the sale of liquor for medicinal purposes in harmony with the federal code. It dries oppose it on the ground that it nullifies much of the state prohibition law.
