

SIX DAYS OF JOY AT THE TARBORO CHAUTAUQUA JUNE 2nd TO 8th

GOOD CROWD HEARD HON. ROBT. N. PAGE SPEAK LAST NIGHT

Government's Function—Promote Industry, Care for Education, Protect Agriculture

GOVERNMENT AGENCIES BUSINESS METHODS FOR

Robert N. Page, candidate for governor, favors revaluation with reservation, a large Edgecombe audience was told here by the candidate last night. The reservation is that the constitution be amended so that a lower limit be placed on the right to tax citizens of North Carolina. Mr. Page believes that the act will work great good to the taxpayer if the law is amended so that taxes cannot be increased to the limit that they will be burdensome. The principle of the law is to equalize taxes, he said, and if proper limitations are placed upon it nobody can be harmed.

Mr. Page arrived here late yesterday afternoon by auto from Greenville. He was suffering from a lame right hand as the result of the grips given him by nearly five hundred men who formed part of the immense audience which heard his speech at noon in Pitt county's capital. In spite of the bruised member, however, he was in fine humor. At no time during his campaign had he been greeted with such enthusiasm as that which marked the opening of his last week of campaigning in the east.

At Greenville he was introduced as "the next governor of North Carolina" by Maoyr David M. Clark. This introduction here was ably and eloquently made by Col. John L. Bridgers. He was entertained in Greenville by Judge Frank Wooten, and here by Henry C. Bourne.

Mr. Page is running on a business platform. He is a business man and wants, he says, to institute business methods in the operation of the various state agencies. In recent years, he pointed out, the state government has grown to the point that it directly affects every phase of human endeavor—industry, education, agriculture, health work and rural life. There was a time, he said, "when government's principal function was to protect the citizenship in its life and property rights. Recently, however, government has become a larger thing. Its functions are to promote industry, care for education, protect health and foster agricultural progress."

With these additions to government the state has become the biggest enterprise in North Carolina, he said, and employs more men and spends more money than does any other enterprise within its confines. Necessarily, through the great hurry in which the new agencies have been brought into being, he declared, there have been errors which cause much duplication of effort and expense and many overlappings of authority. This results in waste of money that could be devoted to other phases of effort. It is to correct these evils that Mr. Page says he wants to be elected governor of North Carolina. Service to his people, he declared, is the actuating force behind his candidacy. He admitted that the honors are attractive, but declared that if he were prompted by no other reason than the gratification of personal ambition he would never have gained the consent of his mind to enter the race.

Employment of organization experts to survey the various departments and agencies of the state will be the first recommendation he will make of the legislature in the event of his election, he said. From this survey he hopes to evolve a plan through which large sums will be saved to the state. These sums, he contends, will go a long way toward paying for the improvements he advocates for all departments of the government.

Grace School Exercises.

The closing exercises at the Grace school, Laurence, will take place on Sunday, May 30. The annual address will be by Rev. V. C. Bonlander, of Rocky Mount, at the morning service, and the children's exercises and address by Rev. S. W. Hale at 2.30 p.m. Annual concert on Monday evening at 8 o'clock.

A CORRECTION.

It has been requested that a correction be made in the write-up of the article on the Rev. Q. C. Davis printed in yesterday's Southerner. In the last paragraph, through a typographical error it was stated "he is not a scholar" the word "only" was left out. The statement should have read "He is not only a scholar." The article was contributed, and the Southerner is pleased to make the correction as requested.

Weekly Weather Forecast.

For South Atlantic and East Gulf States: Occasional showers, although mostly fair middle of week; nearly normal temperatures.

BUSINESS WOMEN WILL ENTERTAIN

Merchants and Clerks Will be Guests of Business Woman's Club Friday Night.

The Business Women's Club will be hostess to the merchants and the clerks following the lecture Friday night by Mr. W. H. Farley at the Masonic hall, when they will serve refreshments to at least 100 business people.

The affair, which will start at 8 o'clock, will be both entertaining for there will be three thousand feet of moving pictures shown, as well as instructive, as there is hardly anyone who cannot profitably digest a lecture on business efficiency. It is a fact that we are prone to be careless, reckless, no to say lazy, in dealing with our business, and the Russian characteristic of putting off until tomorrow rather than do it today is largely our failing.

Mr. Farley will treat all these matters humorously as well as seriously, but what he says is gospel for it is the outcroppings of thirty-five years of close study to remedy to defects that are apparent throughout America. If a merchant thinks he has nothing to learn by this lecture we can at least promise he will be entertained if he attends; therefore, preparations are being made for every merchant and every business employe to be present at 8 o'clock Friday evening at the Masonic hall to greet Mr. Farley.

"ATTENDE VOUS"

Have you bought a Chautauqua ticket? If you have not, you had just as well come across, for you are going to be besieged by not one but sixty maids. Just as the Romans overwhelmed Tarpeia, so you are going to be overwhelmed by every member of the Business Woman's Club until you feel like shouting, "The tickets; the tickets; give me all the tickets. Only do not set that tribe on me again." For, with apologies to Longfellow, the women then are up and doing as the guard who stands on picket never passing, always asking every one to buy a ticket.

But, seriously, the women have undertaken the task of selling the tickets and they do not intend to fall down on the job. The Chautauqua directors have to have a guarantee of a certain number of season tickets before they will come to a town. Several men are guarantors and they are responsible for bringing the entertainment to our doors. Gate receipts do not help one iota on making good the guarantee for the Chautauqua management take those proceeds unto themselves. Buy a season ticket and thereby help the town and please the women, both of which duties, according to any clergyman, ought to be part of your religion.

Merci Beaucoup.

DAY'S NEWS FROM STATE UNIVERSITY, CHAPEL HILL

Chapel Hill, May 25.—Work has been started on the construction of the group of ten houses which the University of North Carolina is building for members of the faculty at an approximate cost of $50,000, and Business Manager C. T. Woolen today said the whole ten would be ready for occupancy by next September.

Prof. C. E. McClung, of the department of zoology at the University of Pennsylvania, chairman of the national research council on agriculture, botany, and zoology, and president of Sigma XI fraternity, will install tomorrow the local chapter of Sigma XI which has been granted the honor of fraternity for scientific work, occupying the same relative position in the scientific world that Phi Beta Kappa does in the arts college.

The last of the series of the Sunday afternoon musical concerts under joint auspices of the department of music and the community club was given Sunday by the University orchestra, the glee club, and Paul John Weaver, pianist. These concerts have been given monthly this year, and have been an enjoyable innovation in university life. They will be continued next year.

SEED MEN FINISH PLANS FOR COUNTY

Seed Growers Association Has Taken Definite Shape; By-Laws, Name Adopted.

The Seed Growers Association took definite shape when the farmers met in the courthouse and adopted by-laws and a name for the organization that may in the years to come make Edgecombe county known to every farmer of the south.

Planters throughout the south, as well as many other states look to this section for seed that is pure and can be depended upon for, as Mr. Zeno Moore stated at the meeting, "if I had been able to supply the demand made upon this county this year for cotton seed I could have shipped to the cotton growing states 30 trainloads of seed, and at our own price."

The plans of the organization are to start with cotton and have the farmers of the county produce purebred seed that will have the hallmark of being disease proof, then, as the demand become more urgent, for seed of other crops, to cultivate and sell a purebred product, whether it be corn, peanuts or any other farm seed product. This will have more to do in putting Edgecombe in the forefront of counties of North Carolina than any other single thing.

Farmers who attended the meeting were very enthusiastic over the results and all took a lively interest in the selection of a name for the organization, knowing that it would have to be a trade-name. Finally, after sifting out half a dozen other suggested names, "The Edgecombe Pedigreed Seed Growers Association" was accepted as the most distinctive name and as such the organization will henceforth be known.

By-laws were then passed and the first officers elected as follows: President, Mr. L. W. Shook; vice president, Mr. W. W. Bullock; secretary and treasurer, Mr. M. G. Mann. The directors were Messrs. W. W. Eagles, T. A. Wiggins, B. F. Shelton, D. H. Andrews and G. C. Phillips. The authorized capital of the new organization is $50,000, and application for a charter will soon be made to the secretary of state so that in the near future it is hoped the organization will be in full operation in order to help the farmers secure better and purer planting seeds.

HEALTH NEWS.

We are constantly hearing complaints about the sanitary wagon. Now, I do not wish to say that it is an ideal thing to have to contend with but I do want to tell you the thing which is ideal and a thing which the town has put in reach of practically every home in the city. I refer simply to the sanitary sewer. Now, let's every one think about this. Why not eliminate this undesirable thing at its source? Connect with the sewer. I'm sure every person in Tarboro wants to see it the nicest town in the state. Why not come on, fall in line and don't wait to be notified that the time has come. It has been here a long time. The town has done what it promised. It has laid the sewer system and now it's up to you. You may say the privy is all right for the country, but we are no longer the country; we are a growing city.

Please help it to develop a good, clean and sanitary one. Don't neglect to connect your residence with the sewer. C. L. OUTLAND, M.D., Health Officer.

"YE DEESTRICT SKULE."

Rebecca Geraldine Farrar and the same all-star cast in Ye Deestrick Skule will be at the opera house on Wednesday evening, May 26, at 8.30. Several new stunts will be put over and there will be three acts including the lunch hour and recess with childish sports. Be sure and come on time so as not to miss the march to school. Rehearsal tonight at Mrs. W. J. Thigpen's, at 8 o'clock sharp, and all pupils are advised to be on time, as Prof. Matty M. Pendergrass is going to Rocky Mount afterwards.

Farmville Splendid Host.

The cast of "The Microbe of Love" report a very happy time in Farmville. Especial mention is to be made of the following persons who added to the pleasure of the cast, and the success of the play: Mr. and Mrs. Oglesby of the Bank of Farmville; Mr. and Mrs. Willis, of the Citizens Bank; Messrs. Monk and Hobgood, and the Joyner Furniture Co. These gentlemen know how to place their town before the public.—The Cast.

Sugar Spud Special, Friday.

The sweet potato demonstration car will be at Tarboro, Friday, May 28. It will come on the 1.54 afternoon train, will go on the side track, and be here till night. When Edgecombe can raise cheaply the best potatoes in the world, it is a pity that not more than 25 per cent of them are sent at Christmas. This car explains the growing and keeping and control of diseases. It ought to interest housekeepers as well as farmers.

TODAY'S NEWS OF TARBORO 20 YEARS AGO

—Walter R. Lawrence has opened an ice house in the rear of the Farrar hotel.

—Wood Winborne will be pleased to see his friends tomorrow on the Rialto, if they have the slightest desire for barbecue.

—Bryan, Aycock and Kitchin may not be altogether euphonious, but they will prove political mascots just the same.

—Any unusual shortcomings in the Southerner yesterday and today are imperfections that should be passed on account of the Southerner man trying to get up the paper and attend a political convention at the same time. This is the reason that no mention was made yesterday of Dr. J. M. Baker's election as president of the State Medical Society.

Court Adjourned.—The criminal court adjourned this morning at 11 o'clock. The following cases were disposed of yesterday:

State vs. Wm. Thigpen, assault, with intent to commit rape; nol pros. State vs. Sam Powell, removing crops; nol pros.

The jury in the case of State vs. Drew Battle brought in a verdict of guilty last night. The judge passed sentence on the defendant this morning. Battle was sentenced to the state prison for a term of 19 years.

William Moffit, who was arrested yesterday afternoon for larceny of money from a guest of the Farrar hotel, plead guilty this morning and was sent to the state's prison for a term of one year.

Larceny Epidemic.—Of late there has been an epidemic of thieving. Messrs. Cobb and Forbes had a colored boy two weeks, who in that time managed to draw $31 from the business.

On the evening of the german, a waiter extracted several dollars from the pockets of a gentleman as he was donning his dress suit. Yesterday, Buck Everett, a white man, was arrested and held to answer for stealing the money, $21.75, of Reuben Jones.

The first two have been convicted and sentenced.

Residence Burned.—The distressing intelligence comes over the phone this morning that last night the dwelling of D. H. Barlow, Doehead, and all its contents were destroyed by fire. It is probable that there was no insurance. The loss which Mr. Barlow has sustained is most serious.

Honor Well Bestowed.—The State Medical Society, at its meeting this week, elected Dr. J. M. Baker, president. While the community is very much gratified in honoring the home talent, it is known that Dr. Baker is a most capable physician and will make an excellent presiding officer.

T. F. A. Commencement.—The annual commencement exercises of the Tarboro Female Academy will be held Friday evening, June 1.

POLICE MAKE LITTLE HEADWAY CLEARING UP BERGDOL ESCAPE

Philadelphia, May 25.—Military authorities, department of justice agents and local police have apparently made little headway toward fixing the responsibility or obtaining any clue toward the escape of Grover C. Bergdoll from army guards last Friday.

LOCAL ITEMS

—St. James street, one block from Main street, both east and west, is rapidly nearing the "speedway condition." Top-surfacing between St. Andrews and Main streets is being placed today, while sub-surfacing between Trade and Main is being laid.

—St. James street, one block back of the Presbyterian church, looks as though the war was still on and trenches were in use. The sewer connections demand a fall, which in turn demand about a 20-foot ditch at this point.

—Since everything else seems to be changing these days, old man Weather is joining the ranks. No one can be sure whether we are having summer, winter or spring.

—The county candidates will speak at Conetoe Saturday. There will be a number of Tarboro voters present to hear the speeches.

—This is the last week of any of the college terms for this year. The boys and girls will be coming home next week.

—Again we had the street sprinkler on Main street today.

—The seat sale for the repetition of "Ye Deestrick Skule" is promising a second big success. New jokes and new acts are promised.

—One week from tomorrow is the opening day for the Tarboro 1920 Chautauqua. Have you secured your tickets?

—Commencement class day exercises are scheduled for the Tarboro school next Thursday evening. The "TAR-BO-RO" is off the press. It is the high school annual.

WEST VIRGINIA HAS FOUR CANDIDATES

Voters to Choose From Four The Man They Wish Next U. S. President.

Charleston, W. Va., May 25.—Generally fair weather has prompted the election officials to forecast a large vote at all state wide primaries.

Charleston, W. Va., May 25.—Names of four candidates for President and complete state and county tickets were presented to West Virginia voters when they went to the polls today for the state wide primary. The election was conducted under the double election board law, and it was expected that results will be known soon after the polls close, except in those mountain counties with which communication is difficult.

The presidential candidates on the ticket were all in the Republican column. They were Louis Adam Baird, of Parkersburg, W. Va.; U. S. Senator Howard Sutherland, of Elkins, W. Va.; William G. Webster, of New York, and Maj. Gen. Wood. No candidates were listed on the Democratic ticket, but it was expected that many Democrats would indicate their preference by writing in the names of their favorites.

All candidates for delegates to the national conventions are required under the law to say whether they will support the popular choice of the primary election. Of the 25 candidates for delegate-at-large all but one have declared they will obey the mandate of the voters of his party. Nineteen candidates for delegate-at-large are Republicans.

Three Republicans are seeking the nomination for governor—Fred Paul Grosscup, of Charleston; Ephraim F. Morgan, of Fairmont, and Samuel L. Montgomery, of Kingwood. The Democratic candidates are Arthur B. Koontz and Adam B. Littlepage, both of Charleston.

Candidates for Congress in the six congressional districts of the state will be chosen in today's primary. The Republicans' vote is expected by leaders of both parties to be heavy as there are contests for almost every state office among the Republicans, there is but one fight in the Democratic party, that for governor.

TARBORO BASEBALL CLUB RECEIVES ITS BASEBALL CHARTER

Scotland Neck-Hobgood Combine Forces to Make Up the Sixth Club of Circuit.

ASSOCIATION SEASON OPENS FRIDAY, JUNE 7

The Tarboro Baseball Club has received its charter and as soon as the stock certificates are received they will be issued to those who have subscribed in the last few days over $2,000 upon the call of the finance committee.

The plan is simple. Stock in the new Tarboro ball club is being sold at $10 a share and every fan, and many fannibelles, should be rushing to the secretary to take what they feel they can afford in support of the team that will represent this town in the Eastern Carolina Baseball Association season. Those who have not yet subscribed should lose no time in doing so as the uniforms for the 12 men, eight of whom will be Delaware State College men, who will make up the Tarboro team. The secretary of the Edgecombe Chamber of Commerce is acting secretary and treasurer until a general meeting is held at which time the stockholders will elect officers and directors so that the club will be in readiness to start the season on June 7.

The clubs which will make up the association will be Greenville, Washington, Williamston, Pinetops, Scotland Neck-Hobgood and Tarboro—a six cornered league in which Scotland Neck and Hobgood play as one team. With towns as closely aligned as the above there should be considerable rivalry and with only a ten-week season of four games a week, the fans should give enthusiastic support.
