"WORTH YOF THE BEST BRITISH STOCK."

(By F. H. C.)

Horatio Bottomley, a member of parliament, and "editor of John Bull, a London newspaper, with two and a half million circulation," is one of the most bitter enemies the United States has in all England. He is intensely loyal to England.

In one of his recent articles he said:

"Americans, I know, are not all Daniels and Wilsons. There are a few stalwart fellows like Admiral Sims, who have been standing up for the Old Navy of the Old Country with a courage and a candor worthy of the best British stock."

Thus we have it from eminent British authority that Admiral Sims is "worthy of the best British stock."

This time the assertion does not come from the secretary of navy. It does not come from an American citizen. It comes from one of the most prominent members of parliament.

Admiral Sims now receives the British endorsement and is characterized by this Britisher as a "stalwart fellow" who stands up for the Old Navy of the Old Country with courage and candor.

There is no cause for complaint when British subjects contend that the British navy should be superior to any navy, but when admirals of the United States navy reach the point that they stand up for the Old Navy of the Old Country, and are encouraged in their position by Republican politicians, who seek to make political capital at the expense and honor of our country, it is time that we open our eyes.

Republican Chairman Hale, and his co-conspirators have been persistently black-guarding the navy in a futile attempt to destroy Josephus Daniels—the outstanding success of the Wilson cabinet.

The investigation has but served to show how much the navy really accomplished, in spite of Admiral Sims and his pro-English satellites.

Not only that, but it has conclusively shown (and British authority now substantiates) that the American navy is infected with an extremely dangerous foreign sentiment that the safety of the country demands should be checked.

The investigation has also shown that this Republican congress has encouraged this sentiment, and that Republicans cannot be depended upon to stamp it out.

The American congress needs an infusion of red-blooded Americanism. Unfortunately, we will have to wait until after another election to get it.

WILD OR TAME.

In spite of many academic discussions, nobody really cares what makes the wild cat wild because the wild cat is no good even when he is tame. But it makes all the difference in the world whether useful livestock is trained or wild. The finest colt in the world, product of the best draft stock, is of little use to a farmer unless he has been broken to harness, is bridle wise and tractable.

A cow may be a champion milk-producer but she is of comparatively little value if nobody can milk her.

A setter may carry the blue blood of Count Gladstone and have a nose for birds that is unequalled but nobody wants to hunt behind him unless he has felt the jerk of the trainers choke line and learned not only to find birds but to give his owner an opportunity to bag them.

It is exactly the same way with dollars. The country today is overrun with wild dollars. They are as numerous as the herds of wild horses and buffalo that used to roam the plains of the west and just about as useful. If you capture them, all you can do with them is lock them up in a cage to keep them from getting out, destroying your financial fences and trampling your garden plots. You cannot even handle them without their getting away or doing you some harm.

But if you tame and train them by continued and patient and regular investment in safe securities such as War Savings Stamps, Treasury Savings Certificates or Liberty Bonds, you can make them work for you faithfully and well. Investment is the only known method of subduing wild dollars but it must be safe investment. Like every other animal trainer you must have patience and the lesson must be repeated until it is thoroughly learned.

REPUBLICANISM AND SECTIONALISM.

Charges that the Democratic party is a sectional party have been given a severe blow by the recent action of the Republican National Convention.

Southern delegates must have felt considerably disturbed upon the announcement that, hereafter, number of Southern delegates was to be considerably decreased.

The convention based this action on the grounds that since the South contributed so few votes to the party that she was entitled to a lesser number of delegates.

A national convention meets for the purpose of selecting a man who, if elected, will be the president of the United States, and the executive of ALL the people. The people have no opportunity to vote for any candidate save such as is selected by a party convention.

The number of delegates to a convention should be determined by the number of people they are to represent.

Of course, this action toward the South is simply an open confession that the representatives of the Republican party are seeking to but serve the party and its interests. The PEOPLE of the United States are not to be taken into consideration.

Only those sections of the country that contribute handsome Republican support are to be recipients of party favors.

The South contributes but little, and but little will she receive.

In fact, the Southern republican is still in a wild chase after Federal offices. He will get the offices, if the Republicans are successful in electing a president, simply as a partisan consideration.

The Republican politician will benefit in the things that come to him, locally, as a necessity. The South will get nothing.

indicate more clearly that it is the Republican party could not party of sectionalism, and that it is still a South hater, as at the day of its birth.

IN THE DAY'S NEWS.

Hon. Thomas A. Crerar, who today enters upon his forty-fifth year, is one of the outstanding figures in Canadian politics. In recent months he has been especially prominent through his leadership of the so-called agrarian movement in the Dominion. Mr. Crerar was born at Molesworth, Ont., and early in life began to take an active interest in politics. When the Unionist government was formed during the war he was offered and accepted the post of minister of agriculture at Ottawa. In 1919, however, he resigned his place in the cabinet and left the party in consequence of the budget proposals of that year. Since then he has campaigned over a large section of the Dominion in the work of organizing what has been styled by its adherents the National Progressive party, and of which he is the recognized leader.

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure Catarrhal Deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE acts through the Blood on the Mucous Surfaces of the System. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be removed and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing may be destroyed forever. CALLED HER FAMILY TO HER BEDSIDE

Six Years Ago, Thinking She Might Die, Says Texas Lady, But Now She Is a Well, Strong Woman and Praises Cardui For Her Recovery.

Royse Mt., Tex.—Mrs. Mary Kilman, of this place, says: "After the birth of my little girl... my side commenced to hurt me. I had to go back to bed. We called the doctor. He treated me... but I got no better. I got worse and worse until the misery was unbearable... I was in bed for three months and suffered such agony that I was just drawn up in a knot... I told my husband if he would get me a bottle of Cardui I would try it... I commenced taking it, however that evening I called my family about me... for I knew I could not last many days unless I had a change for the better. That was six years ago and I am still here and am a well, strong woman, and I owe my life to Cardui. I had only taken half the bottle when I began to feel better. The misery in my side got less... I continued right on taking the Cardui until I had taken three bottles and I did not need any more for I was well and never felt better in my life... I have never had any trouble from that day to this."

Do you suffer from headache, backache, pains in sides, or other discomforts, each month? Or do you feel weak, nervous and fagged-out? If so, give Cardui, the woman's tonic, a trial.
