by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure Catarhal Deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy.
HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE acts through the Blood on the Mucous Surfaces of the System. Catarhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing may be destroyed forever. Many cases of Deafness are caused by Catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

BASEBALL JOTS

TARBORO GETS REVENGE ON HYPHENS IN FIRST

The Tarboro baseball aggregation afternoon went into first place in the Eastern Carolina League race when they came out on the long end of a 7-to-6 slugfest in which no less than 31 hits for a total of 36 bases were garnered off the pitchers. One of the largest crowds of the season witnessed the game and supporters of both clubs had an ample opportunity to cheer for their favorites as the game was one of those up and down affairs in which the final score was in doubt until Tarboro went one ahead in the ninth and the visiting crew did not get another turn at bat.

Bill Petway, of the 1920 Virginia baseball nine, essayed to do the twirling for Scotland Neck-Hobgood and Llewellyn, Carolina's pitching star, was on the firing line for the home club until the beginning of the 8th, when Manager Shipley sent First-Baseman Shirley, two twirls from the port side, to the mound in an effort to stop the scoring. Both pitchers were hit freely from the start with Llewellyn having a shade on Petway, but the local management's decision in changing pitchers worked very effectively, stopping the scoring of the visiting team while the local aggregation continued to pound Petway for runs in each of the last four innings.

Scotland Neck-Hobgood pushed a runner across in each of the second and fourth innings, but Tarboro came right back in their half of the fourth frame and tied the count when Casey Morris went to the platter following Shirley's single and drove the pill to deep right field and circled the bases before the horsehide could be recovered. From this time until Casey's same bat drove a clean single to left field, scoring Horn, who was given life on Kuyke's error of his grounder and had been advanced to second on Bird's single, it was a game full of thrills and nice plays and one that gave everyone present their money's worth.

Probably one of the most sensational plays of the game came in the first half of the ninth, when Bird, who was shifted from right field to first, leaped into the air and stabbed Petway's liner with runners on first and second and two men down. It probably saved the game for the locals. Minton, first-baseman for the visitors, played like a big leaguer around the initial corner, accepting several hard chances without bobble.
