

CONVENTION IS DEADLOCKED WITH NO DARK HORSE IN VIEW

Today Is Anticipated More Uproarist Demonstrations in Convention Than Have Hitherto Occurred—McAdoo Is Again Showing Strength.

San Francisco, July 5.—The convention, now in its ninth day session, faces the twenty-third ballot for the nomination of a Democratic presidential candidate and there appears to be nothing to indicate any marked change in prospect from the last roll call of Saturday night.

McAdoo and Cox supporters are emphatic in their claims for a final victory today, but apparently had no definite basis for their confidence to make public.

A dark horse speculation is running riot today.

Leaders have combed the list of available, but all the talk came to nothing save the suggestion of a name upon which a new mobilization might be made.

The convention assembled today with prospects of more uproarous demonstrations than have characterized it from the start.

Unless some wholly unexpected shift occurs on the twenty-third ballot the rival workers have planned to try again at the first opportunity to jar the convention out of its poise and into a landslide.

The twenty-second ballot gave Cox 480 votes, McAdoo 372 1/2, Palmer 166, Davis 52, and Cummins 6.

This shows Cox to have the greater strength from the twelfth to the twenty-second ballot, although he lost thirty votes after the twentieth ballot which were recorded for Davis showing an attempt to landslide in his favor.

McAdoo again exhibits greater strength than he had done since the thirteenth ballot, but Palmer has weakened and is not taken seriously, except insofar as the delegates who are pledged to him, would practically secure the convention for either McAdoo or Cox.

ABOLISH JAPANESE IN HAWAIIAN SCHOOL

Teach Oriental Languages Only in Special Classes.

FIGHT LANGUAGE SCHOOL

Honolulu, T. H., July 5.—The report of the federal school survey commission, just made public by Professor Vaughan MacCaughy, superintendent of public instruction for the territory, recommended that the Japanese language schools of Hawaii be abolished.

The federal commission was headed by Dr. Frank P. Bunker, chief of the city school division of the bureau of education at Washington. It is suggested that opportunity be supplied in the public schools, wherever the demand is sufficient, for study of Oriental languages in special classes after regular school hours, taught by teachers regularly employed by the territory.

The commission's report declared that "language schools, which in the aggregate outnumber the public schools of the territory, are centers of an influence which, if not distinctly anti-American, certainly is un-American."

PREMIER DESTROY THE LABOR PARTY

London, July 5.—Arthur Henderson, secretary of the Labor party, has stated that Premier Lloyd George is out to destroy the Labor party, but the Premier himself characterized the statement as "simply absurd."

"It is perfectly true," he adds, "that I am opposed to the extremists in the Labor party and that I am strongly opposed to the extremist proposals of some of their number. That is a very different matter to being out to destroy the Labor party. So far from that I am delighted to see the Labor party seeking by constitutional aims to achieve its legitimate aims."

EDUCATORS ATTEND CONFAB OF BRITISH

20 ATTEND FROM U. S.

Arrangements for entertaining the members of the conference include a dinner by the Lord Mayor of London, another with the British government as host and week-end invitation to the homes of the Earl and Countess of Sandwich, Sir Alfred Mond and Lady Mond and others.

The conferees will visit the principal universities and places of historical interest in British Isles.

12 MILLION PEONS CRY FOR FREEDOM

Mexico City, July 5.—Twelve million Indians, who have slaved for five cents a day for five years at a time to support 3,000,000 idlers, cry out for help to the newly formed National Agrarian party, according to Crisoforo Ibanez, who made the keynote speech at the party's organizational meeting here yesterday, according to El Heraldo de Mexico.

"Since childhood I have lived the life of the peasants," said Ibanez. "I know how much the toilers of the field have suffered, how much they need and how much they merit. They have spent five years at a time earning the miserable daily wage of ten centavos (five cents) tilling the earth with the sweat of their brow for other people's profit. In the beginning of our history as a people the Indians were reduced to worse than nothing by the Spanish agents, who, to enslave them, inculcated in them fanaticism for the Virgin of Guadalupe, so as to be able to do anything they pleased with them later, by invoking this name; and the Indian was reduced to slavery."

"For this reason the Indian hates the white man. The Indians, who call the animal that roams the fields 'coahucoyote,' simply call the white man 'coyote,' that is thief. This because for a long time there have been in Mexico 12,000,000 Indians who have supported 3,000,000 idlers and not a few Europeans who also live off of them."

OPIUM IS GROWN DESPITE THE LAW

Shanghai, July 5.—Opium is being grown extensively in parts of Fukien province, despite the law against it, according to a mission worker stationed at Yehping. He writes to the Anti-Opium Society:

"At the city of Yungan, the headquarters of the southern forces, I found they were growing opium extensively; even in the grounds of the yamen itself the ground was white with poppy. It was told there were over 100 opium shops in the city licensed for one dollar per night market places for the breaking of the opium habit."

"The military are forcing the people to plant the drug and no matter what the value of the crop may be, they are to be taxed a definite sum."

MAJ. W. C. GORGAS DIES OF APOPLEXY

Surgeon General of U. S. Army Was Expert on Mosquito Plague.

DECORATED BY FRANCE

London, July 5.—Major General William C. Gorgas, surgeon general of the United States army, whose death occurred here yesterday morning, was considered one of the world's foremost authorities on military medicine and surgery. He fought and defeated the malarial mosquito in Panama and thus made possible the building of that great waterway. He dislodged yellow fever from its century-old stronghold in Havana and under the direction of the United States government and the Rockefeller Foundation supervised campaigns against that dread disease in Central America, Peru and Ecuador.

At the invitation of the British government he went to South Africa in 1913 to study sanitary conditions in the country as a result of which he received high honors from the medical profession in London and Oxford University conferred a degree upon him.

In the last ten years his services were sought to give battle to plagues in many parts of the world. When the typhus epidemic began in Serbia in the war an effort was made to have him undertake the campaign against it but at that time he was needed to direct the medical and surgical work for the American army in France.

He was decorated by the French government and made a commander of the Legion of Honor and knighted by King George of England, the latter for, as the King expressed it to him, making possible the construction of the great canal.

In the days of the old French company which attempted to build the canal, tropical diseases annually claimed one-fourth of all its workers. The French were powerless before this pestilence.

When General Gorgas became general sanitary officer of the Canal Commission, the annual death toll had been reduced, but it was still difficult to obtain the vast army of workmen necessary and to care for those disabled by malaria, yellow fever and dysentery.

In nine years, by a systematic campaign for the destruction of the mosquito, General Gorgas virtually drove these diseases from the Isthmus.

When he gave up the work to accept the post of surgeon general in the army in 1914, deaths among the canal workers had been reduced to 5 per thousand annually. Congress, in recognition of his achievement, made him a major general and the world hailed him as one of the great men of medical science.

RAILROADS DISOBEY I. C. C. COAL ORDERS

Washington, July 5.—Widespread complaints that the railroads are not obeying the Interstate Commerce Commission order granting priority to shipments of coal and the prompt return of empty coal cars to the mines resulted in the commission ordering an investigation of the alleged infraction.

A hearing was set for July 8, and a number of witnesses, both for the railroads and shippers, were summoned. Members of the commission said that in view of the slowness with which normal movement of coal was being resumed, an attempt will be made to determine whether new and more stringent orders were necessary to prevent a serious coal shortage during the coming winter.

MUMM'S PROPERTY BE SOLD BY FRANCE
Furniture of Famous German Champagne King at Auction.
BRING 500,000 FRANCS

Paris, July 5.—Paris is witnessing the passing of one of the last reminders in France of the famous German champagne King, Baron Walter de Mumm. The handsome furniture of the wealthy wine merchant, which was sequestered early in the war in his apartment on the Avenue du Bois Boulogne, is being sold for the benefit of the state.

The contents of the beautiful apartment included some fine tapestries and several specimens of 18th Century cabinet makers' work. The sale brought more than 500,000 in francs. One piece of tapestry valued by the government officers at fifty francs brought 8,000 francs. The sale attracted a large gathering of prominent Parisians, because Herr Mumm's apartment was known as the most lavishly furnished in the fashionable quarter in Paris.

COMMUTE TERM OF GERMAN SPY

Caught Making Maps and Drawings of U. S. Harbors.

WALKED INTO A TRAP

Leavenworth, Kans., July 5.—Lotta Witsche, the only German spy sentenced to death during the war, was received at the federal prison here recently to begin serving a prison sentence. The death sentence was commuted by the president. Witsche was a lieutenant in the German army.

During a naval engagement in the Atlantic ocean, in which the Teuton warship on which he was serving was sunk, Witsche was cast adrift. He was picked up by a vessel bound for Mexico and later made his way over the international line into the United States. He succeeded in making a number of maps and drawings of harbors and fortifications along the Pacific coast and returned to Mexico. There he became confidential with an American of German descent, who induced him to return to the United States for further espionage work. He walked into the trap and at Nogales fell into the hands of federal officers.

'ONE HORSE SHAY' AT THE INAUGURAL

Dr. Harding Will Drive Shay, If His Son Is Elected President.

STICKS TO HORSE FLESH

Marion, July 5.—If Warren G. Harding is elected president of the United States, his father, Dr. G. Tyron Harding, expects to drive his "one horse shay" in the inaugural parade for his son. The aged doctor has never taken up with the modern means of transportation, but still retains his old horse and single-seated buggy.

"If it's good enough for Marion, it's good enough for Pennsylvania avenue," said the candidate's father. "When Warren is inaugurated, I'll drive my horse and buggy in the inaugural parade."

CARNIVAL TONIGHT ON TOWN COMMON

Interest Taken in the Complimentary Affair to Baseball Players.

STREET DANCE AS CLIMAX

The ladies have been particularly busy today, putting the finishing touches to the carnival, lawn party and street dance which is to be staged tonight on the town commons, complimentary to the baseball boys, who have made such a good impression among the citizens.

The many attractions will be naturally nothing but fun, and it is desired that all who participate should recognize them as such. Seriousness is not a part of the provisions for this night of frolic. It is instead a fitting ending for a day of pleasure and recreation that the national holiday has become.

The various committees ask the co-operation of the people of Tarboro and vicinity in this attempt to entertain the boys, the fans, their friends and all others who are pleased, so all be on the Commons when the band begins to play and see how near you can come to "playing yourself."

Have Men Under Their Heel.

Among the wild Tauregs of the Tripoli desert woman's sway is absolute. She does not rule by insidious wheedling, but by outright command, and though the women of other lands may have the men twisted around their little fingers the Taureg ladies can only be said to have them well under their heel. Among the Tauregs descent is traced entirely through the feminine line, and what little teaching is given to the young is given by the women.

MORRISON INCREASED LEAD IN GUBERNATORIAL RACE

HELP TO SUPERVISE OHIO POST OFFICE

Columbus Employees Aid in System of Management.

MEANS HIGH EFFICIENCY

Columbus, Ohio, July 5.—Unlike any other post office in the United States, the management of the one in Columbus is supervised by employees. A system of management by the employees, similar to that adopted by some of the country's larger industries, has been in operation since February. Postmaster Samuel Kincaid says the system has brought about a number of beneficial changes in the operation of the post office and is proving a success.

The innovation was adopted to bring about a higher standard of efficiency to the public and better working conditions for employees.

Grievances or suggestions made by employees are reported to committees, of whom there are about forty. Following their investigation of the complaint or proposal, their recommendation is reported to the post office council composed of all committeemen. The council debates the subject and either approves or rejects the recommendation.

The postmaster has the power to veto all recommendations of the council, but it is said that anything approved by the council is likely to receive his approval, as he is heartily in favor of the system.

DUCHESS OF OPORTO ERECTS MONUMENT

Lisbon, July 5.—The Duchess of Oporto, the American widow of the late Prince royal of Portugal, has arrived here, and, in an interview with the president of the cabinet, thanked the government for permitting her husband's body, now in Italy, to be brought to Portugal and placed among those of his ancestors.

The transfer of the body will take place probably next winter and for this purpose an Italian warship will be employed.

To the Associated Press the duchess said she intends offering a large marble bust of the prince which she has had made especially in Italy to the government, requesting that it should be placed in the Ajuda Palace with the other busts of the sovereigns of Portugal.

Since her arrival here, hundreds of friends and servants of the late royal family have called continually at the hotel despite the fact that the duchess has declared that her visit is made solely to the republican government.

The Duke of Oporto, only brother of the murdered King Carlos of Portugal, died in Naples, February last, where he fled after the revolution in Portugal which made King Manuel an exile of England.

King Victor Emmanuel of Italy, cousin of the Duke, gave him asylum and assigned to him a suite in the royal palace in Naples and an allowance of $10,000 a year.

CORSETS FIRST WORN BY GRECIAN-ROMAN WOMEN

The corsets are believed to have had their beginning in stiffened bands of cloth that Grecian and Roman women wound around their bodies.

Women to Vote.

The Democratic city executive committee has decided to permit women to vote in the coming city primaries.

With Seventy-three Counties Heard From, Cam Morrison Has a Majority of 5,557 Votes Over His Opponent, O. Max Gardner.

Cameron Morrison, from the best information obtainable, received a majority in the second primary, over his opponent, O. Max Gardner, in Edgecombe county of approximately 850.

This is stated to be a close approximation, although the returns are coming in slowly and it will be tomorrow before the tabulation takes place in Attorney Hardison's office.

Nash county also gave him 500 majority; Wilson, 719; Lee, 450; New Hanover, 350; and Martin, 300.

For the state the returns have come in very satisfactorily, considering two holidays followed the primary.

Seventy-three counties have been heard from, giving Morrison a vote of 50,757 against Gardner's vote of 45,200, showing a majority of 5,557 from the seventy-three counties and leaving twenty-seven counties still to be heard from, which will in all probability, increase Morrison's lead.

For the state auditor, with the same counties heard from, shows that Durham leads Cook by over 7,000 votes, while Stacy for the supreme court associate judgeship is more than ten thousand ahead of Long.

To Aid Girl Law Students.

The Washington College of Law purposes to establish a scholarship to aid girl law students who are without the means necessary of securing their professional education. The scholarship is to be named in honor of the late Belva A. Heiress Can Keep Secret.

Miss Gwendoline Farrar, who inherited a fortune of several million dollars from her father, the late Sir George Farrar, the Rand millionaire who was one of those sentenced to death by Boers for taking part in the Jameson raid, is a young woman who can keep a secret.
