LOCAL BACKDOWN
DEPRESSED TEAM

The complete surrender of Tarboro's rights to the forfeited games with Greenville showed itself in the team itself yesterday at the opening, and in particular with the loss of Shipley as coach. It is still a matter of local wonder how those in authority could come to such a determination as to forego the rights of Tarboro. There is not an atom of excuse for giving these games back to Greenville, and it is a question of how much damage such a course has done among the local fans who feel the injustice of this decision keenly.

Yesterday's game was lost by Tarboro purely and simply by the inability of the boys to bunt with a man on first and none down. Twice we had the chance to score before with two and three men on bases and none down, but we were unable to hit at the right time.

The one big feature of the game, in which Tarboro got her only run was a homer by Mark Webb, when he hit a line drive to deep rightfield about two feet inside, making third on the hit and coming home on a wide throw by Sacks Barnes. Sack Barnes was also in good form and held the locals to only a few scattered hits. Tarboro gave Greenville the games that were hers and the resigning of Manager Shipley has taken the life out of the players.

WILLIAMSTON WINS.

Williamston, Aug. 5.—Williamston won from the Scotland Neck-Hobgood aggregation here yesterday in a 14-inning contest by the score of two to one. Both clubs showed unusually splendid form, but the hitting opportunity in the last half of the fourth the locals were able to send the winning runner across the pan.

BREAK EVEN AT PINETOPS.

Pinetops, Aug. 5.—Pinetops and Washington broke even in a double bill here yesterday, the locals winning the first game by the score of 5 to 3, the visitors taking the last by the score of 3 to 1.

LARGEST DRY DOCK PLANNED AT NAPLES

Washington, Aug. 5.—The largest dry dock on the Mediterranean is planned at Naples.

Recent decrees of the Italian government authorizing the construction of this dock and a smaller one at the industrial port of Baia-Averno provide that work must begin within six months of the official date of the declaration of peace.

Besides the dry-docks, it is planned to transform Lake Averno for the use of shipyards, and to build a canal connecting the lake with the port of Naples proper.

The Italian government will within a period of 50 years pay about half of the cost of the work and at the end of 60 years the entire property automatically becomes government property.

CALLED HER FAMILY TO HER BEDSIDE

Six Years Ago, Thinking She Might Die, Says Texas Lady, But Now She Is a Well, Strong Woman and Praises Cardui For Her Recovery.

Royce City, Tex.—Mrs. Mary Kilman, of this place, says: "After the birth of my little girl... my side commenced to hurt me. I had to go back to bed. We called the doctor. He treated me... but I got no better. I got worse and worse until the misery was unbearable... I was in bed for three months and suffered such agony that I was just drawn up in a knot... I told my husband if he would get me a bottle of Cardui I would try it... I commenced taking it, however, that evening I called my family about me... for I knew I could not last many days unless I had a change for the better. That was six years ago and I am still here and am a well, strong woman, and I owe my life to Cardui. I had only taken half the bottle when I began to feel better. The misery in my side got less... I continued right on taking the Cardui until I had taken three bottles and I did not need any more for I was well and never felt better in my life... I have never had any trouble from that day to this." Do you suffer from headache, backache, pains in sides, or other discomforts, each month? Or do you feel weak, nervous and fagged-out? If so, give Cardui, the woman's tonic, a trial. J. 71

VETERANS MEETING

Annual meeting of the Lewis-Dowd-Wyatt Camp of the Confederate Veterans. The meeting was called to order by John W. Cotton, commander, and a prayer was given by Chaplain S. S. Nash. There were 32 members of the camp present, which was a very good attendance. The following officers were elected for the next year:

- Commander, John W. Cotton.
- First Lieut., C. M. Parke.
- Second Lieut., Jesse Brake.
- Third Lieut., W. T. Gorham.
- Fourth Lieut., C. J. Austin.
- Adjutant, J. A. Davis.
- Asst. Adjt., H. P. Foxhall.
- Quartermaster, R. H. Gatlin.
- Commissary, C. D. Coker.
- Chaplain, S. S. Nash.
- Treasurer, J. F. Shackelford.
- Surgeon, Dr. C. H. Barron.
- Asst. Surgeon, J. C. Bellamy.
- Sgt. Major, B. H. Taylor.
- Officer of Day, J. H. Grimes.
- Color Sgt. F. B. Staton.
- Vidat, Levi Denton.
- Color Guard, E. T. Felton.
- Sponsor, Mary Parker Bourne.

Mr. Jesse Brake submitted the following poetry which he composed:

Taps.
Soon taps will come when no light we'll see
With these our natural eyes,
But let us hope for a brighter light,
Fa rabove the skies.
For the brightest light we ever see
Is when our eyes are closed.
It is a light that Jesus sends
To lead us where he goes
Then it is not all of life to live
Nor aliofdeath to die
It is a blessing Jesus gives.
To take his heirs on high.

After the routine business was transacted all of the veterans were grouped in the court house yard and a picture taken by Mr. Hightower. After this they repaired to the fair grounds, where a delicious barbecue dinner was served to them and to the Daughters of the Confederacy and the Dixie Lee's, who were the guests of the Veterans at their annual meeting.

PRETTY BIRTHDAY PARTY

A very pretty little birthday party for the tiny tots was that of the little misses Minnie Bruce and Katherine Andrews at their home on Pitt street, Wednesday afternoon, the former being five and the latter four years old.

The tiny tots gathered about four o'clock and many games were enjoyed, after which they marched into the dining room, where two long tables had been placed, each with a tiny birthday cake and the birthday candles. At each place at the table was brick cream, cakes and mints, and at the ends of both tables were bowls of bananas and peaches.

Streamers of white and pink crepe paper hung attractively from the center of the room to each end of the tables and the bowls were also draped with it. Crepe paper hung elsewhere made the dining room very pretty.

About thirty of the little folks enjoyed the afternoon and the little misses Andrews had many gifts from their little friends.

Mrs. E. A. Pearce of Florence has joined her husband here. He is connected with the Elks Williams Tobacco Company.

Mr. F. P. Hicks came in on the morning train from Rocky Mount.

At Rest.
The remains of the late D. Ernest Braswell were laid to rest yesterday afternoon in Greenwood. Funeral services were conducted from the M. E. church by Rev. Mr. Grimm, of the Atlantic Christian College, Wilson, assisted by Rev. D. E. Earnhardt. Being a loyal Mason, he was buried with full Masonic honors. A large concourse of sorrowing friends paid the last tribute of respect and the many beautiful floral offerings spoke a message all their own.

Miss Ellen Baker Leggett is on a house party in Hobgood.

Mrs. Whichard, of Bethel, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Tom Braswell, on Church street for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Curtiss and Miss Annie Nash of Wilmington are visiting Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Nash.

The History of Edgecombe County.

Only one thing can account for such a production—the greatest county history in the whole state so far as known to me—except a very exalted county pride and a desire on the part of the authors to contribute their bit to the glory of the grand old county of Edgecombe.

To review the volume in detail is unnecessary. There are some faults to be found, the chief one being a lack of the index we have become dependent on, and mistakes here and there which are absolutely unavoidable in a comprehensive study like this, covering matter and tradition put in print for the first time and now scanned by next door neighbors with critical eyes. But with all possible mistakes and flaws, it is the best North Carolina book published in a long time, a remarkable book that will be of increasing value as the years pass by. The field covered is very varied. The readers of a book like this should not hunt for isolated errors or mistakes but should study the great facts and movements of thought and habits and actions depicted.

Studied in the proper way this book will repay the reader in interest and information most handsomely. He will be amazed at the splendid record of old Edgecombe, at the prominent and admirable part she has played from the first, in times of peace and times of war and struggles for political freedom. No county has a finer record than Edgecombe which is shown to have had a unique individuality and the amount of general history that one learns is very striking.

Of especial interest to all students of constitutional history and of the hard struggles of our ancestors for political freedom are the first two chapters. These are most ably written and the picture therein given of the settlement of the county and its colonial government is exceedingly valuable and justifies close study.

The next chapters cover the Revolutionary and Post Revolutionary periods and are also of very great value and are most instructive. All lovers of Edgecombe will be proud of the part shown to have been played in those momentous days, and many will be pleased to see the names of their ancestors.

Then there are highly interesting chapters on the Civil War and the Reconstruction epoch. The chapters on Slavery and Agriculture are excellent and show how these great subjects were controlled and how much of a pioneer the county has been.

In brief the book is a wonderfully fine production and a very great credit to its authors. All of us who read it will learn much that we ought to know about the county and its great record. We will learn that the wide spread reputation of Edgecombe is thoroughly well deserved. No county anywhere stands higher or has sent out more sons and grandsons. As such a descendant I esteem it a mingled duty and pleasure to express to Mr. Turner and Col. Bridgers my fervent gratitude for the great work they have done and to take off my hat to them as champions of our Mother County. I only regret that I have not been able to express my appreciation more effectively.

The amount of money being made in the automobile business is something enormous, but not at all surprising when you think how thoroughly automobiles are advertised.
