"TYPHOID MARY" OF PESSIMISM

The editor of the American Magazine to fitly express the disease of which many of us are such great sufferers that we have no apology to offer for reprinting the editorial, hoping that in some slight way a remedy may be found for the "germ" that springs up over night and is everlastingly with us:

"A few years ago there was a mysterious outbreak of typhoid fever cases in New York City. For some time the health authorities were unable to trace them to the source of infection. Finally they ran them down to a woman employed as a cook, who was carrying around typhoid germs, to which she was herself immune, but which played havoc with other people. They named her "Typhoid Mary" and they separated her from her job as a cook, so that she could no longer infect others.

"Too many of us are "Typhoid Marys" of pessimism. There is nothing really the matter with us. We are not even scared ourselves, but we go around talking as if we were, and all that we accomplish is to scatter germs of fear which infect others and do harm.
"I have just had a talk with a business man who has travelled in forty-five out of the forty-eight states since March 1. He says the condition of our country is wonderful. He says that if the people would shut their mouths, talking about possible panics, and go on about their business we would be in for a period of prosperity the like of which we never saw.

"He says that he has made a point of going into smoking cars and listening to men's conversation. And he adds that everywhere he has been he has found these carriers of pessimistic talk. Some of them are travelling men who have had trouble getting the goods with which go fill the orders they have taken—so they wander about the country saying that things are going to the demitition bow-wow.

"Stop going around like a "Typhoid Mary"—not sick yourself—yet spreading the germs of fear."

H. M. (SPIKE) WEBB

HOLD'S WORLD RECORD
A news item from Antwerp, giving credit to the American boxing team for having finished second in the Olympic games just staged in that city, mentions H. M. Webb, known in the athletic world as "Spike," as being the coach of the team.

This item of news would have probably passed without particular interest but for the fact that Webb is the brother of Mrs. Lionel Weinberg, of this city, and is generally known as a world famous athlete.

Webb writes the sporting news for the Baltimore papers, besides being the instructor at the naval academy.

It was he who ran from Baltimore to Washington, a distance of forty-five miles, in six hours, thus breaking the world's record, which he now holds.

These Tires Are a Revelation

The Brunswick is frankly a combination of the best in tire building.

There is one tread that's supreme beyond question. And that is now on Brunswicks.

There is one side-wall construction, which, by every test, holds the summit place for endurance. And that one was adopted for Brunswicks.

Fabrics differ — up to 30 per cent — in their strength tests. On Brunswicks the maximum long-fiber is the standard.

There are certain additions, each one expensive, which add vastly to tire mileage. The Brunswick embodies all these extras.

There are no patents, no secret formulas to prevent any maker from building the best. It is simply a question of knowledge and skill — cost plus care.

Brunswick standards are known the world over. The very name certifies an extraordinary tire. Yet Brunswicks cost no more than like-type tires.

Buy ONE Brunswick. It will prove that a better tire cannot be bought, regardless of price.
