DUDLEY, HOWEVER, URGES THE NEGROES TO ABSTAIN.

RADICAL NEGRO EDITION

(By LLEWEXAM)

Raleigh, Oct. 7.—Notwithstanding the publication of the appeal of J. B. Dudley, president of the negro Agricultural and Mechanical College sustained by the state of North Carolina at Greensboro for the education and training of negro youth, and the elaborate statement issued by him in which he gives his reasons for advising the negroes as a whole to "keep out of politics this year," and negro women especially, the Raleigh Independent, organ of the negro state republican committee, of which its editor is secretary, continues to cry out loud to the negro men as well as to the negro women, to rush to the polls in full force and register "or know the reason why."

The "Independent" has even called in an additional "editor" to help swell the chorus, announced as "Professor C. M. Moore of Greensboro," and starts out with the statement that "we do not believe in the existence" of the Colored Women Rights Association that sent out the recently widely advertised letter to negro women urging them to register and vote.

Really, he rawther, don't 'cher know, prefers to think the letter "the figment of a fertile brain for sinister purposes." One reason why he thinks this second think is because the writer does not appear to be familiar with the "relations" existing between the negro and lily-white elements of the republican party in North Carolina. He does not explain what that difference makes when all of them are trying to elect the same man president of the United States.

The editorial has all the earmarks of the inexperienced writer, who knows little about using the editorial columns of a newspaper. He presents nothing new, but repeats the call for the negro women as well as the negro men to register and vote.

WANT A. C. L. TO CONNECT RALEIGH WITH TARBORO

PLANS UNDER WAY TO JOIN UP
MONTGOMERY LUMBER COMPANY
TRACK AT BUNN AND EXTEND INTO RALEIGH; THE
CHAMBER OF COMMERCE IS PUSHING PROPOSITION.

(By LLEWEXAM)

Raleigh, Oct. 7.—Several times in the more or less misty past Raleigh has made efforts to get in connection with the Atlantic Coast Line system. Another effort along the same line has just been started here, through the initiative of the directors of the Raleigh Chamber of Commerce.

Tarboro and Rocky Mount are particularly interested in the plans now getting under way, as the connection sought would open up the eastern and northeastern counties of the state to Raleigh, greatly shortening the schedule to Rocky Mount and Tarboro.

One of the Chamber of Commerce directors talking with The Southern correspondent today said that the plan is to devise a way by which the tracks of the Montgomery Lumber Company could be used. The main line of the Montgomery Lumber Co. railroad now extends from Spring Hope, the eastern terminus of that road, to within twenty miles of Raleigh, the western terminus being only three miles of the village of Rolesville, Wake county.

The A. C. L., which connects with the lumber company's road at Spring Hope, is now operating trains over the tracks of that road as far as Bunn, and the idea is that the extension on to Raleigh is the thing to do.

A committee is to be appointed to confer with the officials of the Atlantic Coast Line and of the Montgomery Lumber Co., with the latter a definite plan for working out the financial program will be submitted soon. But just how far these negotiations will get, it is impossible to state at present. It is the fact, however, that there are some hopeful parties connected with the renewed efforts now under way, and more definite particulars may be available soon.

TEACHERAGE RUN ON VERY LOW COST

The local teacherage was started as an experiment, though it was forced on the school board by the shortage of boarding accommodations for the teachers of the graded school.

A building was acquired by the board and furniture installed, then placed in the hands of Mrs. Rosa Mercer to do best she could in furnishing food for the teachers at the least possible cost.

Starting on September 6, the average cost until the end of the month was $22.50 per person. This cost includes the cost of food, salaries and wages, light, heat, laundry and rent, everything in fact except paying for the furniture the school board provided.

It is stated that when the teacherage is running a while longer and when prices are more settled it is anticipated the cost per person will not exceed $25 per month.

"I wish to say that your statement was called to my attention by Mr. Tumulty, and that I requested him to issue the denial to which you refer. I reiterate the denial. The statement you made was false.

WARNS AGAINST TYPES OF GIRLS

London, Oct. 7.—Types of girls whom young men should not marry have been catalogued as follows by a London pamphleteer who calls himself "The Widowed Physician."

1. Beware of the girls who manicure their nails to the shape of a claw. I do not know why, but beware of them.
2. Beware of the girls who prefer to dress in purple or scarlet colors. There is usually something wrong in their morals.
3. Beware of the girls who are heavily scented.
4. Beware of the girl who is too obviously modest and demure. She doth protest too much.
5. Beware of the girl with the low, sloping forehead and dry, straight, coarse, jute-like hair. Any experienced magistrate will tell you this type of woman frequently summon their husbands for assault and battery.
6. Beware of the intensely religious girl. She does not mean to be dangerous or passionate, but the fact that she is so devotional indicates that she possesses an unbalanced passionate temperament.
7. Beware of the girl who sidles up to you, or lays her hands on you, or comes so close to you as to lead you readily to lay hands on her.
8. Specially beware of "harrid women" of reputed respectability, whom you have formerly had every reason to believe in and respect when these same women, by acts obvious or guarded, show you that they would not object to your being more intimate with them than you know in your own conscience you ought to be.
9. Beware of visiting with a chum sister, unless of course you wish to get married.
10. Beware of the mothers who are anxious as to the future of their daughters.
11. Beware of the girl who drinks wines freely, she will make a poor wife and a worse mother.
12. Beware of the girl who dresses in a slovenly, artistic manner.

The "Widowed Physician" recommends two types—the tomboy and the "pert modern self-sufficient learned young woman."

LLOYD GEORGE IS BADLY DRESSED

VISITS SWISS PRESIDENT IN SHABBY HAT AND SUIT.

PAPERS CRITICISE HIM

London, Oct. 7.—The worst dressed statesman in Europe is David Lloyd George, the British prime minister. Next comes Aristide Briand, the French political leader.

During his recent visit to Switzerland, Lloyd George created a sensation by calling on President Motta in a shabby old blue suit, with a soft hat, instead of the traditional frock coat, well pressed trousers and the stove-pipe hat, such as the Swiss chief of state wore.

When the report of the premier's sartorial faux pas was reproduced in the London newspapers, it caught the eye of Mrs. Lloyd George, and in a subsequent talk with her husband she pointed out the advantages of trim conventional appearance.

The premier, however, pleaded the tremendous pressure under which he has worked for the past five years has left him no time in which to consider his wardrobe.

MASSACHUSETTS CLAIMS N. Y. LAND

Boston, Oct. 7.—The state of Massachusetts has made legal claim to a strip of twenty-two acres of land on the outskirts of Rochester, N. Y., where the Genesee river flows into Lake Ontario.

Assistant Attorney General Jay R. Benton left for the Empire state today armed with legal documents to support the contention that the land belongs to Massachusetts under the treaty of Hartford, made between the Bay state and New York in 1787, shortly after the birth of the nation when the original states set out to adjust the conflicting border line.

BORAH SCARES HARDING INTO DENOUNCING LEAGUE

BROOKLYN ROBINS AGAIN BEAT REDS

Brooklyn took the third game of the series today by a score of two to one, making her a two-to-one favorite.

The winner obtained six hits against her opponent's three, each being credited with an error.

The batteries are Caldwell, Mails, Uhler, and O'Neill for Cleveland, and Nunnamaker, Smith and Miller for Brooklyn.

The umpires were O'Day, Dineen, Klem and Connolly.

Score by innings: R. H. E. Cleveland 000 100 000: 1 3 1 Brooklyn 200 000 00x: 2-6 1

Brooklyn, Oct. 7.—Cleveland and Brooklyn went into the third game of the world series today on even terms as a result of Brooklyn's victory yesterday, and the managers of both teams are anxious for victory because they figured it would give them advantage when the series after today's battle is resumed Saturday in Cleveland.

Mails for Cleveland and Smith for Brooklyn are expected to be the pitching selections today.

Fair weather again prevailed and the crowd began piling into Ebbett's Field at an early hour. Capacity attendance is certain today.

RICH AMERICANS BI FOR PALACES

Paris, Oct. 7.—American millionaires desirous of buying winter homes on the Riviera had better catch the first boat for France. Scores of chateaux, formerly belonging to the Germans and sequestered during the war are to be sold at auction, the profits to go to the work on the devastated regions.

The number includes the Hohenlohe Palace, famed as the most sumptuous home in the world. Art dealers and buyers from the United States, London, Paris, Japan and Rome are already gathering in Nice and at Monte Carlo, and it is expected, owing to the priceless relics contained in the mansion, the auction will be a record one. The building alone is expected to bring ten billion francs.

The Baroness d'Ottendorf's mansion "Eden" at Cannes is another famous palace, bidding for which will be keen. It was here that the Baroness gave the notorious "Latin orgy" which resulted incidentally in her losing jewels worth $60,000. Shortly after the day her husband was found assassinated on a little Japanese bridge in the garden. The Baroness's ghost is said to haunt one of the roulette tables at Monte Carlo.

In another Villa, La Mauresque, which was a hospital during the war, Madame Han had her famous idyll with the young Count of Koenigsmark, lieutenant of the Uhlans, who was afterward proved to have been a spy. The idyll was terminated in the flight of the count with most of his sweetheart's jewelry.

In the castle of the Eucalyptus, on the route to the Juan Gulf, the Count of Festetic de Tolnac gave numerous romantic fetes based on the realistic tales contained in Gilles de Rais's "Babe Bleu"—fetes which were later the subject of cruel sarcasm by Jean Lorrain in his "Tales of the Riviera."

Not far from the Eucalyptus is the Castle Robert, where the famous Count Zellineck-Mercedes spent his winters. "La Bruyere," another famous villa once Gorman owned, has been purchased by the Duke of Connaught.

A cynical provision of the French board of alien enemy property is that all these ex-German chateaux must be thoroughly fumigated before the sale.

R. C. Warren was operated upon yesterday. On the local page the name was given as Mr. Lam Lawrence.

HARDING'S SPEECH THIS MORNING AND THE IDAHO SENATOR'S WIRE SHOWS IRRECONCILABLE CONTROL OVER THE NOMINEE; WHAT WILL MAP-PEN NOW?

Washington, Oct. 7.—Upon receipt of the telegraphic report of Senator Harding's speech this morning that he had renounced his alliance with the league reservations and had thrown in his lot with the irreconcilables, democratic leaders brought forth a copy of Senator Borah's telegram to Harding, in which the Idaho senator consented to continue his work in the republican ranks and for the election of Harding.

"Taking the speech of the republican nominee and the telegram of Senator Borah together, it becomes plain that Senator Harding has abandoned his majority supporters and assured the irreconcilables, such as Borah and his clique, that he would henceforth stand against the League of Nations in any form.

"This makes Senator Harding's chances of election a greater problem than ever as he now throws in his lot with the republican minority against the majority of his party. What the outcome in republican ranks may be none can now foresee. It may mean the utter defeat of Senator Harding."

The telegram from the Idaho senator to Harding is as follows:

"In view of the reports, I wish you to know my speeches in the future will be along the same lines as at Dayton and in the senate. I want to see you win, and I want to see the league scheme defeated. In my own way I shall devote my time to the achievement of both propositions.—William E. Borah."

New York, Oct. 7.—Senator Hiram Johnson will leave California on Saturday to begin an eastern speaking tour in the interest of Senator Harding.

Des Moines, Iowa, Oct. 7.—Speaking here today, Senator Harding came out flatly for the rejection of the League of Nations covenant, as now proposed, thus accepting the democratic challenge to make the league an issue of the campaign.

Brushing aside the problems of clarifying reservations, Senator Harding declared he would favor staying out of the covenant as written at Versailles.

"I do not want to clarify American obligations," he said. "I want to turn my back on them. It is not interpretation but rejection that I am seeking."

GOOD TOBACCO BRINGS THE PRICE

Some piles of tobacco this morning brought higher prices than have been recorded this season. This was due to the weed having the body that is required by the buyers this year.

One lot of 78 pounds brought 66 cents; another of 106 pounds brought 64 cents; two others of 186 pounds brought 60 cents, and 200 pounds brought 55 cents.

SPURNS FORTUNE TO LEAVE PRINCE

QUEEN OFFERS FIVE MILLIONS TO PRINCE CAROL'S BRIDE.

PRINCE MAY EMIGRATE

Paris, Oct. 7.—With a royal gesture of disdain, worthy of the Queen she can never be, Mlle. Zizi Lambrine, morganic wife of Prince Carol of Rumania, who has just returned from America to Paris, has refused an offer of $5,000,000 from Queen Marie of Rumania to marry some one else and thus finish once for all the unhappy romance which resulted in Prince Carol twice renouncing his rights as heir-apparent to the throne.

Prince Carol is said to have been so enraged by the attempt to buy off his wife that he has threatened to "return to America and become a plain citizen." By so doing he will not only legalize his marriage but will also legalize his infant son, born several months ago in Paris.

It was no secret that the Queen sent the Prince on his trip around the world with special instructions to stay as long as he liked, especially in America. It was hoped that he would fall in love with some American girl and forget his liaison with Mlle. Lambrine.

New York, Oct. 7.—Chairman White, of the democratic national committee, said today that he attached no significance to the nomination of Hardwick for governor of Georgia.

Hardwick is opposed to the League of Nations.

BELGIANS CELEBRATE PERIOD OF PEACE

Brussels, Oct. 7.—American visitors to Belgium this summer were greatly struck with the almost incredible number of brass bands that marched in the hundreds of street parades, celebrations of one sort or another, which occurred almost daily at Brussels or Antwerp.

In enjoying her first period of peace since the war, Belgium is observing every possible fete day and each of these seems to call out literally scores of brass bands, each parish or each workmen's organization seeming to have one. Bicycle tourist clubs also have them, mounted on bicycles, and even fishing clubs, off for a Sunday holiday with pole, hook and line, take their musicians along.
