For the week ending December 4, the weather for this section should be generally fair until the end of the week, when rains are probable; normal temperature, reports the weather bureau.

Mr. Britton Falls on Street.
On Saturday evening about six o'clock, outside Jenkins Garage, excitement was caused by Mr. G. A. Britton, make-up man of The Tar-boren, falling on the street.

Dr. Baker attended the man and sent him to the hospital, where he now is, apparently entirely recovered from his fall. He states that he felt that something snapped in his head, he became dizzy and fell to the street.
The case has been turned over to Dr. Raby, who will extract his tonsils while he is in the hospital.

Mrs. Bristow has been telegraphed for, but this is on account of one of the children being here with his father and there being no one to look after him while Mr. Bristow is in the hospital.

"The Bird of Paradise" at the Opera House Thursday night, Dec. 2.
While the coming of "The Bird of Paradise" is in itself a matter of genuine theatrical interest, the fact that it will be headed by Miss Ann Reader and William Macaulay, with a specially selected company assembled by Manager Tully and which he states is the best cast he has ever secured for the production of his play adds interest to the forthcoming production. The seat sales are now on at the Magnair drug store.
