

Attention Ford Owners!

Ford parts, like almost everything else worth while, are counterfeited. Imitation parts are manufactured to SELL at the highest possible rate of profit and the grades of steel used are consequently not the same high quality, specially heat-treated alloy steels specified in Ford formulas for the manufacture of GENUINE FORD PARTS.

Don't be misled—Insist upon GENUINE FORD PARTS made by the Ford Motor Company. By so doing you will get from 35 to 100 per cent more wear from them, and you will pay the lowest possible cost—the same everywhere.

FEED YOUR LAND AS WELL AS LIVE STOCK

For the honor of the land and for the health of the farm animals' utilize as much acreage as is available and for planting some legume crop. Three of the best for the Cotton States are cowpeas, soy beans and velvet beans.

The cowpeas is the best known and most extensively grown leguminous crop in the Southern States. It is grown mainly for forage and to improve the soil, but the seeds are rather commonly for human food.

The cowpea will do best on sandy loams, but will succeed on practically all types of well drained soil.

The cowpea should not be sown before corn planting time, and usually it is better to wait until at least two or three weeks later. For green manuring, pasturage, or hay, cowpeas sown as late as the first of August will make considerable growth. When they are follow to wheat or oats they should be sown at the earliest possible date after the crop is cut.

For seed production the best practice is to sow in rows three feet apart while for forage or soil improvement broadcasting is most generally practiced.

Cowpeas hay is an excellent hay for all kinds of stock. When cut at the right stage of growth and properly handled the cowpea is equally nutritious as hay from other legumes and is general relished by farm animals.

For further information see U. S. Department of Agriculture, Farm Bulletin 1153, 1148, 1125 and 386.

Soy beans are fine for feed and fire for fertility. Time of planting extends from early spring until mid summer, depending on latitude and use to be made of the crop.

For grain or as a main hay crop the best time is about that for planting corn, when the ground has become thoroughly warm.

Soy beans are more generally grown with corn than with any other crop, and may be combined advantageously with many systems of crop rotations.

The growing of soy bean seeds enable the farmer to produce at moderate cost, part of the high protein concentrates necessary for stock feed and milk production.

DALLAS, Texas, May 13.—The Brotherhood of Railway and Steamship Clerks, Freight and Express Handlers and Station Employees, in triennial convention here today, voted to aid the striking New England textile workers.

RECEDING WATERS LEAVE DEBRIS-STREWN STREET

BRISTOL, Va., May 13.—The receding waters of Beaver Creek which overflowed last night, left debris strewn in the streets. Water filled the cellars in the business section. Damage is estimated at $600,000. Thirty-five stores and residences are flooded. Merchants saved their goods in many instances moving to upper floors. The flood which ended at most as quickly as it began, originated from a cloudburst near Wallace.

TO SHEAR SHEEP.

On or about the 16th of the month the agricultural department will have a man from State College to shear sheep for owners of the county.

Those who have sheep to shear would do well to see Mr. Zeno Moore of Whitakers or Mr. M. G. Mana of Mr. Charles Austin of Tarboro.

COTTON CONSUMED.

WASHINGTON, May 13.—Cotton consumed in April mounted from 446,843 bales of lint and 46,288 bales of linters compared with 409,240 bales of lint and 48,227 bales of linters last year for the same month the census bureau announced today.
