PEANUT ASSOCIATION NOW A GENUINE COOPERATIVE

The following from the Progressive Farmer will be read with interest to the peanut growers of eastern North Carolina:

We rejoice in the fact that the Peanut Growers' Exchange of North Carolina and Virginia has now been put on a thoroughly sound, efficient and genuine cooperative basis. This means better business and better prices for all our peanut growers in the two states.

As we pointed out several months ago, the exchange last season was not operated on the approved principles of cooperative marketing. In that editorial we suggested several needed reforms. Practically all three have since been adopted.

Mr. Aaron Sapiro, famous authority on cooperative marketing, has now been engaged as permanent counsel and adviser for the exchange. More important still, a new sales manager has been selected (and he began work this month) who is not only enthusiastic for true cooperative principles but has had long and successful experience in the management of a cooperative association.

This man is Mr. E. M. de Pencier. He has just left the position of assistant sales manager of the famous successful raisin growers' cooperative association of California in order to take up his new work for the peanut association in Suffolk. It is also gratifying to us to announce that the directors have named a president to have close and constant supervision of the work, and for this position have chosen Mr. J. A. Examer, Jr., of Scotland Neck, N. C. For financial manager, Mr. G. Fenton Crocker has been named.

Having now become a genuine and modern cooperative marketing assoedition and having elected officials whose records insure success for them our peanut farmers in Virginia and North Carolina have an organization which will be as efficient as the cooperative marketing associations for cotton and tobacco. And in view of these facts, every peanut grower in the two states should see to it that his peanuts this year are sold through this strong and capable management.

Senator Markon Butler was pretty hard on those farmers of his county who would not sign the contracts in the cooperative association. In the course of his speech Senator Butler made the remark that there was only one change in the contract that he would like to make and that was "After those who had already signed reaped the effect of cooperative marketing to take the surplus and build an asylum for the hard-headed fools who would not sign." As soon as he left the courthouse he was approached by one of Sampson's largest cotton growers, who told him that he did not think they would have to build an asylum, and immediately he signed the contract.

In giving the list of those counties who voted for and against the Fordney-McCumber tariff bill the news is that Borah voted against the measure and that the two democrats from Louisiana, Ransdell and Broussard, voted with the Republicans. These two democrats must be of the sugar variety.

In a recent interview a few days ago, Mr. Hoover expressed the opinion that the people need not give themselves any annoyance about the oil situation for the winter, yet on the back of this comes the cry from the cotton seed owners down south that unless the oil situation improves thousands of tons of cotton seed will necessarily rot this winter for want of fuel to have seed crushed.

Mr. Hughes now comes to the front and reiterates the fact that Mr. Newberry was wrongly convicted. The American public were not a whit for what Mr. Hughes says. Neither Mr. Hughes nor anybody else will ever be able to remove the stain from the senator for his slush fund in the last election.

The strike is like the autumnal rains, it is always clearing up tomorrow, but tomorrow never comes. The country is about as tired of conferences on strikes as Europe has been on conferences to settle international finances. It is going to take something more than conferences to settle these modern strikes.

One headline of a city daily has it "Coal negotiations rest for today." It may be a rest, but not a rest in peace.

When the U. S. government begins to check up the qualifications of the enlisted men in the army and navy as to the vocations of these men, it looks like the government may be preparing for the worst.

Even though the Tarboro team is at the bottom of the list in standing of the clubs, it can be truthfully said that the baseball officials here have given Tarboro and the other towns some good clean sport. Our boys may have lost, but they have played clean ball all the way through both series.

Are Tarboro people going to sit still and allow the neighbor towns to get more than their share of the cotton and tobacco that are signed up in the cooperative marketing system? It now looks like this will be the case unless Tarboro gets busy.

This fact proves that when Catarrh is a local disease, it is greatly influenced by constitutional conditions. KEEP YOUR HOGS HEALTHY

Clean and Careful Feeding Essential in Successful Hog Raising

Here is a secret of successful hog raising practiced by many successful and prosperous farmers. Don't feed your hogs sour or ill-smelling garbage.

The swill should first be sweetened with Red Seal Lye. Take one tablespoonful of Red Seal Lye and dissolve it in a pint of water. Mix this solution thoroughly with sufficient feed for 10 hogs. One-half a can of Red Seal Lye dissolved in one quart of water will sweeten a 50-gallon barrel of swill. Feed twice daily, night and morning.

Ordinary garbage ferments, forming an acid which is injurious to the hog. Red Seal Lye will remove this acid and make the feed more wholesome.

Swill which has been first sweetened with Red Seal Lye and fed to the hogs, will help make healthy, sturdy animals.

Make a strong solution of Red Seal Lye, sprinkle around your hog pens and wash out the feeding troughs. Use at least once a week. Be sure and get the old original, highest test, granulated Red Seal Lye. Accept no substitute.
