DEMOCRATIC BONUS PROPOSAL REJECTED BY REPUBLICANS

Democratic members of the Ways and Means Committee of the House of Representatives, in a minority report made on March 29, 1922, recommended that "whatever kind or sort of bonus or adjusted compensation Congress shall deem justly due the World War veteran" should be paid from taxes levied on excess profits and great wealth. This proposal was rejected by the Republican House, which, with the Republican Senate, had previously voted to repeal excess profits taxes amounting to $450,000,000 and high surtaxes aggregating $61,500,000 a year.

Recalling that many big monopolistic corporations which have profited upon the people and the government since January 1, 1916, to the extent of more than $40,000,000,000 of net profits and who are continuing their profiteering would represent one legitimate source of revenue for the payment of the bonus, the democratic minority said:

"For this purpose we favor the reenactment of the surtax on the large incomes of these millionaires and multimillionaires which are repealed by the republicans in their revenue act of 1921, and a reenactment of the excess profits tax which was also repealed by them in said act."

NEW TARIFF A COFFIN FOR THE CORPSE OF PROSPERITY.

The Fordney-McCumber Protection Tariff bill, which is estimated to amble the taxation of the American people; that is to say, to add another $4,000,000,000 in the way of taxes, but of which only a few hundred millions will go into the Treasury, the balance into the pocket of the special privilege class, has been signed by the president and is now a law.

This tariff bill, aptly termed "the coffin for the corpse of prosperity," will fall heaviest upon farmers and working men, by reason of the fact that it will still further curtail the farmers foreign markets, and by destroying what little is left of our foreign trade will greatly reduce production in manufacturing lines as well as in natural industries.

In a speech just prior to the passage of the bill Senator Underwood, democratic leader of the senate, called attention to some of the outrageous rates of the bill, particularly to the wool schedule, in which he showed that the tax levied on raw wool would collect out of the pockets of the American people $200,000,000, only $20,000,000 of which would go into the treasury of the United States and the balance into the pockets of the special interests.

Senator Underwood excoriated that feature of the bill which transfers the taxing power from Congress to the president, and said:

"I do not think it will last long as a law. If it should last long, if the terms of the bill were to stay on the statute books for two decades, I would predict the rottenest filth and corruption that could grow out of such a bureaucracy, that would be a stench in the nostrils of all good people. But, I do not think it will last. I think before that day comes the American people will take the size of what this Congress has done, will realize that the Congress has laid down a great responsibility that was given to them, which the constitution of the United States has placed in their hands, that they have surrendered a great trust and the American people will rebuke any party and any set of men who have been guilty of abandoning a trust like this given to their safe-keeping."

DEMOCRATS GAIN 22 IN MAINE LEGISLATURE.

One of the results of the Maine election on which the republican press and speakers maintain abjectly is the democratic gain of 22 members in the state legislature, which more than doubled the democratic representation in that body.

A comparison of the returns from the four congressional districts with only a few minor exceptions, show an average falling of republican lean majorities of 10,000.
