

A Serious Cotton Disease and How to Handle it.

There is a disease of cotton which is yearly attracting increased attention throughout the cotton belt. It is known as cotton anthracnose.

It is most easily recognized when on the boll, where it forms ulcer-like spots, which, as they age, become pink in the centers. The spot may enlarge so as to effect the whole boll. The diseased part of the boll usually falls to open and often the contents rot. Enquiries from various sections of the State are being received almost daily at the Experiment Station concerning the disease. It has also been especially severe in Alabama and Georgia during recent years, so severe in the latter State that the Legislature has made a large special appropriation for its investigation.

Although the disease is seen and recognized most prominently on the bolls, it also occurs on the leaves and stems. Cotton growers should know that the disease is carried from season to season on the seed and that seed from a sick boll, even though very slightly diseased, may raise a diseased plant, and this in turn may spread the disease to the whole crop of the next season. There is no satisfactory treatment, and the one point to be remembered is that seed from diseased fields is likely to carry the disease. In fact, almost sure to do so. Even seed from clean fields which has passed through a gin in which diseased cotton has been ginned is dangerous. It is of utmost importance for the grower to be sure that his cotton seed does not come from a field or from a region where this disease prevails.

In Loving Memory

Last Wednesday, October 4th, 1911, the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Williams, of South Mills, N. C., was darkened, when the Angel of Death came and took their little darling Maimie Webb to that bright and beautiful world beyond, which is called heaven. Don't weep, loved ones, for little Maimie is one of Heaven's brightest angels and will meet you all again in that glorious day which is in time to come. Little Maimie leaves papa, mamma, sister, two brothers and a host of friends and relatives to mourn their loss.

The funeral was conducted by Rev. C. P. Jerome, at the home and the remains were laid to rest in the family burying ground to await the resurrection morn.

Asleep in Jesus oh, how sweet!

HELEN WILLIAMS.

Rev. Joshua Elliott, Grubb—St., Hertford, N. C., says: "I gladly verify all I said about Doan's Kidney Pills when I publicly recommended them in January, 1908. I suffered constantly from backache and pains through my loins. I did not rest well and felt tired and worn out when I got up in the morning. Doan's Kidney Pills were procured for me and they gave me prompt and permanent relief. I have often recommended this remedy to my friends, and I know that it has always done good work."

BEAUTY OF COLOR PAINTING

Nice shades of color like L. & M. Tuxedo Yellow or Silver Gray, and solid trim of Olive or Shaker Green, both ornament and wear, when used by adding three-fourths of a gallon of Oil to each gallon of the L. & M. colors as produced at factory.

MISS HARRIS BECOMES BRIDE OF MR. TOXEY

In a pretty home Wedding last Tuesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock, Miss Agnes Harris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Harris, became the bride of Mr. Charles F. Toxey at the home of the bride's parents in Martin street.

The home was beautifully decorated in golden rod and potted plants, making a color scheme of yellow and green.

Immediately after the ceremony, the bridal party escorted Mr. and Mrs. Toxey to the Norfolk Southern depot, where they boarded a North-bound train for an extended trip to Northern cities.

Mrs. Toxey is one of the most charming young ladies in the city. She has a host of friends among whom she is very popular.

THE WRIGHTS NOW AT KITTY HAWK

HAWK

News from Kitty Hawk states that the Wright brothers are there making preparations to test their new flying machines.

They passed through this city Monday with a large quantity of paraphernalia, consisting of machinery, material and supplies, heading toward the scenes of their old operations. This time, while in the city they were the cynosure of all eyes.

They have become famous since they were here before. When making experiments there three or four years ago, they spent considerable time in this city unnoticed by the people.

They are making preparations to test their machines and will be ready to go to flying around those sounds in a few days. The squad of Newspaper reporters are already on the scene, having got there before the Wrights did. They will likely have an easier task this time reporting their experiments than they did before. The Wrights are considerably more communicative than they were then and are a great deal more sociable, fame and riches having made them magnanimous and charitably inclined.

Mr. Lorin Wright has spent considerable time in this city during the past two or three weeks, and he was not secretive in the least, but was inclined to be communicative, making no attempt to conceal the purpose of this trip to Kitty Hawk.

I gave up and thought I would die, but my husband urged me to try Cardui, so, I began, and the first bottle helped me. By the time the third bottle was used, I could do all my work.
