NEGRO SMASHES AUTOMOBILE

A negro chauffeur by the name of Webb smashed into a telegraph pole Tuesday afternoon on the corner of Pursue and Church streets, demolishing pole, fence and part of the porch of George Grandy's house, and damaging the machine badly. His one passenger, a young white man from Tyrrell county, was not hurt, and neither was the chauffeur himself. Webb tried to turn his machine in time to avoid running into ropes that had cut off traffic from that end of Church street on account of the serious illness of Edward Old, and landed against the telegraph pole instead of going down Purs street as he intended.

Messrs W. H. and F. M. Eason of South Mills were in the city Wednesday on business.

CELEBRATION AT FORT RALEIGH

Tuesday's Program One of Unusual Interest and Crowds Large From Near and Far

Manteo, N. C., Aug., 18th—At the site of Old Fort Raleigh was held today the biggest annual celebration of the Roanoke Colony Memorial Association yet. Opening with the address of welcome by Rev M W Hester, the audience gathered in the new pavilion were given deeper insight in the history of the Lost Colony. Rev. Mr. Hester spoke of Fort Raleigh as the shrine of American patriotism; stating that there was found the first tobacco—and possibly Irish potatoes; he spoke of the island's having a poor house but no inmate a jail but no prisoners; there flourishes and bears still the oldest Scuppernon Grape Vine in America. The address of welcome was followed by a response by Dr. R B Drane. He stated the purpose of the Association and its aims. Dr Howard E Rondthaler the president of Salem Academy and College for women then made an interesting address. Dr. Rondthaler's address was deep in analogy and he pointed out the many reasons why Roanoke Island was possibly predestined for the birth place of the United States. A duplicate of the standard used on Raleigh's ships was then presented by the chairman—Dr Richard Dillard, to Hon Wm. M Bond. This flag was given by Marshall Delancey Haywood and the appreciation rendered by Judge Bond in his well received and brilliant speech was deeply felt by those present. The flag was then raised beneath the American colors by Miss Rennie Griffin the beautiful and talented daughter of Mr S A Griffin. There under his direction. A pilgrimage to the fort then followed. It is estimated that there were about two thousand people present, about one hundred and fifty boats of every class bringing them from various points in eastern Carolina. A dozen cars and scores of teams were utilized in bringing the Roanoke people. A grand picnic dinner was spread in the shade of the privian forest where once roved the wild bear, the deer and the Indian. Genuine cider made from the native apples of Roanoke Island flowed and the occasion was one of great pleasure. Refreshments were served on the grounds and Mr A H Davenport made somewhere in the neighborhood of one hundred and fifty dollars.

PICNIC AT SHILOH NEXT FRIDAY

Shiloh, N. C., Aug., 19th—The Rebekah Lodge of Shiloh has planned a big picnic for Friday, August 28th. The picnic will be held at Shiloh wharf on the afternoon and evening of Friday. A large crowd is expected from Shiloh and its immediate vicinity and quite a number from Elizabeth City also. The occasion will, no doubt prove a most enjoyable one for both young and old, and those who stay away will miss a pleasant outing and a jolly social event. Mr W D Cox of Moyock was in the city Wednesday. Mr Cox is candidate for the State legislature from Currituck county.

VETERANS MEET AT POWELLS POINT

Saturday Will be a Day of Stirring Speeches and Thrilling Reminiscences of Civil War

Powells Point, N. C. Aug 18. The Veterans ReUnion to be held at Powells Point Baptist Church Saturday is expected to be the biggest ever held in the county. Mr W D Simmon of Elizabeth City, Mr W D Cox of Moyock, Dr. L. T. Reed of Elizabeth City Mr Walter Cohoon of Elizabeth City will be among those who will speak of the brave deeds of the soldiers of our Civil War and will urge upon the citizens of Currituck the obligation resting on them to perpetuate their memory in the completion of the splendid monument, of which the first section has been laid for some months, and which stands unfinished for lack of funds. Veteran J. B. Lee of the Fourth N C Cavalry, will speak on the burying of the hatchet between the Southern and Northern soldiers and pay tribute to the bravery and sincerity of both. Practical plans for completing the Confederate monument will be made in order that the work may be complete as early as possible, lest but few of the old soldiers live to see it standing finished and splendid, a lasting tribute to their memory.

FOR FARMERS AND HOUSEWIVES

The Conventions at Raleigh Next Week Are Full of Pleasure and Profit

The Twelfth Annual State Farmers Convention meets next week at Raleigh. It is said that the best program ever offered the convention will be given this year and the farmers of the State are urged to take advantage of their opportunity and attend the Convention. The rate of three cents a mile plus twenty five cents has been offered by the railways on account of the Convention. Rooms are available at A. & M. College dormitories and meals in the College dining room will be served at twenty five cents each. The Convention opens at ten-thirty Tuesday morning August 25th. A number of well known and competent men of the State will speak on subjects of importance to farmers and addresses will be made by Prof. M. L. Fisher of Purdue University, of Indiana, and by Prof. L. C. Corbett of the Bureau of Plant Industry of Washington, D. C. Wednesday will be one of the most helpful days of the Convention. It will be devoted to five separate conferences of special interest to farmers of the state. The live stock conference, conducted by Prof. Dan. T. Gray; the conference of cotton and corn conducted by Prof. C. L. Newman; the conference on Horticulture, conducted by Prof. J. P. Pillsbury; the conference on tobacco, conducted by E. G. Most; and the conference on small grains and grasses, conducted by J. L. Burgess. Thursday's program will take up the various phases of community development, and besides the many helpful suggestions offered by North Carolinians, an address by W R Meadows of the U S Department of Agriculture of Washington, D. C., will be delivered. At the same time that the men are meeting at A & M College, the Housewives Convention will be held at Meredith College. This College will provide rooms for the women who attend the convention and meals may be easily secured at the various cafes at reasonable prices. Among the subjects of value to the women who will attend the convention Marketing, Cooking, the Housewives League Movement, Canning, Packing Country Produce, Rural Sports and Amusements, the Child, and the Social Direction of Education will be discussed by men and women who are intensely interested in these matters and well prepared to speak upon them. Mrs. Julian Heath, founder of the National Housewives League Miss Catherine Parker, head of Domestic Science Department of Meredith College; Miss Emily McVey, of Cincinnati University; Dr. Rankin of the Health Department, Mrs. Hutt, Dr. Dixon Carroll, and a number of others whose names are familiar throughout the State in these lines of work, are on the program. Special moving picture films and musical concerts will be among the pleasures offered the guests of the Convention. All persons expecting to stay in the college rooms, either at A & M. or Meredith, are requested to carry their bed linen and towels. A meeting of unusual enthusiasm is expected by those in charge and a large attendance is desired.

CARD OF APPRECIATION

Mere words can not half express my sincere appreciation of the kindness and faithfulness of my friends and neighbors during the recent illness and death of my daughter Miriam.
