

ALLIED SHIPS AGAIN SHELLING DARDANELLES

BRITISH AIR RAID ON HOBOKEN ANOTHER FEATURE OF YESTERDAY'S NEWS. LARGE FORCE SURRENDERED AT PRZEMYSL 13 CLAIM MADE BY ALLIES.

Bombardment of the Turkish fortifications in the Dardanelles which had been given over by the Allies on account of losses and bad weather was resumed at ten o'clock Wednesday morning by the Allied fleet, according to a dispatch from Athens yesterday. The war ships were accompanied into the straits by a number of mine sweepers.

A British air raid on Hoboken, near Antwerp, where the Germans are constructing submarines; another threatened effort by the Germans in Flanders and heavy fighting in the Carpathians are the outstanding features in yesterday's war news.

Five British airmen started from Dunkirk to raid the submarine yards, but only two reached the mark. Two were turned back by thick weather and a third landed in Holland because of engine trouble and was interned.

According to a British admiralty report two of the five submarines which were observed on the slips were damaged and the works set afire.

The size of the garrison at Przemysl and the number of men who surrendered to the Russians greatly exceed all estimates. According to late dispatches. The defenders are said to have originally numbered 170,000 men of whom 40,000 were killed. Nearly 120,000 laid down their arms when the fortress capitulated.

A blizzard, which has interfered with the telegraphic service, prevents details of the surrender from coming through, but Lemberg reports that for several days prior to the fall of the fortress the people of the town had nothing to eat, and the Russians who took in large supplies of provisions, were welcomed as liberators.

Dispatches from Lemberg also say that 15,000 persons were found suffering from typhus or cholera, and that the work of disinfecting the place is being undertaken energetically. The interior forts, it is said, were found intact, with a good deal of ammunition in them.

Everywhere in Europe, both in belligerent and neutral countries, the greatest credit is given the Austrians for their long and stubborn resistance, which has delayed and interfered with the Russian campaign in other directions.

Now that the Russians whose numbers, like those of the Austrians, must have been greater than estimated, no longer are called to invest this fortress, movement either against Cracow, or in the Carpathians, doubtless will be started. With their northern lines protected by the morass into which the greater part of Poland is converted during the Spring months, the Russians are expected to throw all their strength against the Austrians and attempt finally to crush them.

In the west there have been a few attacks and counter attacks, but nothing that in this war of big battles, could be called of great importance. The Germans are said to be planning another desperate offensive, however, in Flanders.

The Turks again have attacked the Suez Canal. The guns of the Forts opened fire Monday on a small force which crossed Sinai from Birel Saha. The Turks who number 1,000 and were accompanied by three German officers, retired for about eight miles, where they were attacked by a force under General Younghusband, and according to British official accounts, were routed.

"There Is a House With a Bathroom" was an expression at one time calculated to arouse interest, but now, conditions are entirely different. To build a house without a bathroom merely raises a question as to the good judgment of the builder. People know that he has either not considered or else misjudged the importance that an up-to-date bathroom has in increasing the value of the house, both as to renting and selling value.

For the finest plumbing equipment at reasonable cost we recommend "Standard" plumbing fixtures and will be pleased to show you the many artistic designs in which they are made. Ask for illustrated booklet.

HUSBAND RESCUED DESPAIRING WIFE

After Four Years of Discouraging Conditions, Mrs. Bullock Gave Up In Despair. Husband Came To Rescue

Carion, Ky.—In an interesting letter from this place, Mrs. Bettie Bullock writes as follows: "I suffered for four years, with womanly troubles, and during this time, I could only sit up for a little while, and could not walk any where at all. At times I would have severe pains in my left side.

The doctor was called in and his treatment relieved me for a while, but I was soon confined to my bed again. After that, nothing seemed to do me any good. I had gotten so weak I could not stand, and I gave up in despair.

At last my husband got me a bottle of Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I commenced taking it. From the very first dose, I could tell it was helping me.
