

Charming Resort is Nags Head

A Haven for Tired Mothers Says Norfolk Rail Road Man

Nag's Head, where "the sand dunes toil by day, by night, under the stars and under the sun crumbling before their task is done, is Elizabeth City's own summer resort, beloved by Elizabeth City people for many years and each year becoming more widely known to the outsider. To each new acquaintance comes again the next season the longing to return and so increases the popularity and goes abroad the fame of this beautiful stretch of shining sand lying between the Albemarle and the sea.

Of the picturesque sand dunes a southern poet has said: "The wind which loves the sea so well, Teases along the clean white sand And weaves above the dunes a spell

"The Hermit of the Beach"

Of pictures wrought by an unseen hand: Ah! the wind is always busy there Making the shore line bare. "Here read the wish of a human soul, Uneasy, restless, never still, Paying to fate the utmost toll Of wants the world can never

BEAUTIFUL HOME WED

Shawboro, N. C. June 18—At the beautiful country home of the brides parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Forbes, a beautiful home wedding was solemnized, when Miss Annie Forbes became the bride of Dr. W. L. Stevens of Shiloh. On last evening the beautiful home was tastefully decorated with ever greens, flowers, and candles; and enlivened by the happy voices of relatives and friends. At nine o'clock Mrs. J. W. Ferrell struck up Lohengrin's wedding march, to the strains of which, the bride, leaning on the arm of her father, and the bride groom, with his best man, Mr. B. L. Stevens descended the stairway, entering the parlor from different directions and met in front of a beautiful arch where the father gave the bride away, and they were united in the Holy bonds of wedlock by Rev. E. L. Stack of South Mills, N. C. After the ceremony a reception was given at which all were treated to some excellent music and delicious refreshments. The bridal presents were many and beautiful and useful. The bride is an accomplished young lady, who is admired by all who know her, and the groom is a successful physician of Shiloh. The happy couple will set up house keeping at once in their beautiful home at Shiloh.

fill: Where the sand dunes rise in the sun today. Tomorrow the waves will play." And so it is to the resorts that remain natural and simple, unaffected and unspoiled that man goes for rest and fellowship and recreation "to ease the human unrest."

Such is Nags Head. Its beauty has been told in colors by Jacques Busbee, North Carolina's own artist, and its pleasures recounted by visitors from season to season. With comfortable cottages, a long stretch of shining shore, bathing and fishing unequalled along the Atlantic, it has chosen the better part of the modern seashore resort and eliminated the undesirable features of the over crowded, showy pretensions, and cheap watering place.

Beginning with the season the Norfolk Southern Railroad is making connection with the Nags Head boat and checking baggage through from any point on its line. Mr. H. S. Leard, General Passenger Agent, of this railroad has expressed the hope that the weary mothers and little children of the State to whom the

CURRITUCK'S FAVORITE SON

Thomas J. Jarvis, former Governor of North Carolina, member of the United States Senate from this State and United States Minister to Brazil for four years, died at his home at Greenville Thursday night after a lingering illness. He was in his 80th year having been born January 18, 1836.

He was one of the best known men in North Carolina and played a prominent part in the public life of the State and was a confederate veteran. He has served the commonwealth and country in a number of capacities, as member and speaker of the legislature, as a member of two State constitutional Conventions, as lieutenant governor and as governor, then as United States Senator.

Governor Jarvis was born at Jarvisburg, N. C., January 18th 1836, and was the son of Rev. B. H. and Elizabeth Jarvis. He graduated at Randolph Macon College in 1860 and enlisted as a private in the Confederate army at the outbreak of the war. He was promoted rapidly, rising to the rank of captain, before he was compelled to leave the service when his right arm was shattered by a bullet. He was chosen a member of the State constitutional convention of 1865 and 1875 and was admitted to the bar in 1868. He was chosen presidential elector twice, 1868 and 1872, was elected to the State Legislature for two terms, 1868-69 and 1870-71, serving as speaker the second time. In 1877 he was chosen lieutenant governor and became governor in 1889 when Governor Vance was elected to the United States Senate. The following year he was elected governor and served until 1885, when he was appointed United States Minister to Brazil, a post he held until 1889. On the death of Senator Vance in 1894 he was elected to fill the unexpired term. He was a delegate at large to the Democratic National Convention in 1896. He married Mary Woodson in 1874, who survives him.

BEAUTIFYING INTERIOR

The Citizens Bank is beautifying the interior of its building and the result is exceeding pleasing to the eye.

The entire surface of walls and woodwork has been renewed with fresh paper and a new coat of stain. The soft pastel green of the overhead ceiling changes to a deep cool woodland green on the side walls with gold-brown inlaid into the decorative figures in the frieze and border to harmonize with this color which forms the lower part of the walls and tones in to the browns of the woodwork. Clean, cool, well-kept, and well ventilated, the large pleas and room lends an air of efficiency that is quite fitting for the home of an institution of such strength and usefulness.

"Dad, I'm Going to Stay—"

"I decided last night to stay on the farm. I've given up that city notion. Here is a sure future—good land, healthy stock and lasting, money-saving, fireproof CONCRETE buildings. I've got one suggestion, Dad. Let's lay a concrete driveway from the buggy barn to the house. It'll save lots of work and expensive repairing. Let's use the same cement you selected for the buildings—Lehigh Cement."

Thousands of farmers, in every section of the country, have awakened to the economical value of concrete in farm building construction. They recognize the fact that an "expenseproof" farm, with its apparent feature of independence and wealth, far offsets the attractions of city life to the younger generation.

Be sure to select Lehigh Cement. Uniform qualities of strength, fineness and color—country-wide distribution made possible by 12 great mills—are reasons which make Lehigh the choice of careful builders, all over, who seek the best results in concrete work.

Tear down these wooden structures that need constant repair that are in daily peril of fire. Replace them with Lehigh Cement Concrete buildings.
